The House North Of South:

Barra Patrick Foster,1995-01-01 Over the past six years a team of archaeologists historians and environmental scientists from the University of Sheffield explored the island of Barra They have discovered and recorded many hundreds of previously unknown sites and monuments excavated selected examples and carried out extensive environmental sampling and laboratory based analysis of all this evidence The first volume of reports focuses on the wild and rocky peninsula of Tangaval at the south western corner of the island In this seemingly inhospitable place on the westernmost margin of Europe perched on the very edge of the Atlantic Ocean the team have discovered almost 250 sites and monuments They range from the first rock shelter and occupation huts of the earliest settlers around 4000 BC to the abandoned settlements from which Macneils sailed to new homes in America and Australasia in the mid nineteenth century BC Abstracts of Earthquake Reports for California and Western Nevada ,1959 Cladh Hallan - Roundhouses and the dead in the Hebridean Bronze Age and

Iron Age Mike Parker Pearson,Jacqui Mulville,Helen Smith,Peter Marshall,2021-10-31 This first of two volumes presents the archaeological evidence of a long sequence of settlement and funerary activity from the Beaker period Early Bronze Age c 2000 BC to the Early Iron Age c 500 BC at the unusually long occupied site of Cladh Hallan on South Uist in the Western Isles of Scotland Particular highlights of its sequence are a cremation burial ground and pyre site of the 18th 16th centuries BC and a row of three Late Bronze Age sunken floored roundhouses constructed in the 10th century BC Beneath these roundhouses four inhumation graves contained skeletons two of which were remains of composite collections of body parts with evidence for post mortem soft tissue preservation prior to burial They have proved to be the first evidence for mummification in Bronze Age Britain Cladh Hallan s remarkable stratigraphic sequence preserved in the machair sand of South Uist includes a unique 500 year sequence of roundhouse life in Late Bronze Age and Iron Age Britain One of the most important results of the excavation has come from intensive environmental and micro debris sampling of house floors and outdoor areas to recover patterns of discard and to interpret the spatial use of 15 domestic interiors from the Late Bronze Age to the Early Iron Age From Cladh Hallan s roundhouse floors we gain intimate insights into how daily life was organized within the house where people cooked ate worked and slept Such evidence rarely survives from prehistoric houses in Britain or Europe and the results make a profound contribution to long running debates about the sunwise organisation of roundhouse activities Activity at Cladh Hallan ended with the construction and abandonment of two unusual double roundhouses in the Early Iron Age One appears to have been a smokery and steam room and the other was used for metalworking NEW VASTUDEEP Kamlesh B Shah,2008-06-11 Bulletin ,1916 Results of Spirit Leveling in Pennsylvania, 1899 to 1911, Inclusive Robert Bradford Marshall,1912 Lackawanna Heritage Valley, Management Action Plan ,2004 United States Earthquakes, 1941-1945 ,1962 Mount Grace Priory: Excavations of 1957-1992 Glyn Coppack,Laurence Keen,2019-10-15 Owned by the National Trust and managed by English Heritage Mount Grace

Priory in North Yorkshire established in 1398 and suppressed in 1539 was one of only nine successful Carthusian monasteries in England and one of the best preserved medieval houses of that order in Europe First excavated by Sir William St John Hope in 1896 1900 and in state guardianship since 1955 it is acknowledged as a type site for late medieval Carthusian monasteries The modern study of Mount Grace began in 1957 when Hope s interpretation of the monks cells about the great cloister was found to be simplistic This was followed between 1968 and 1974 by the excavation of individual monks cells in the west range of the great cloister and two cells in the north range together with their gardens areas not excavated by Hope The examination of the monks cells was completed in 1985 by the excavation of the central cell of the north cloister range together with its garden and the cloister alley outside the cell The cultural material recovered from these cells indicated the trade each monk practiced predominantly the copying and binding of books Because each cell was enclosed by high walls the pottery and metalwork recovered could be identified to an individual monk In 1987 English Heritage commissioned the re excavation of two areas that had been examined by Hope the water tower in the great cloister and the prior s cell refectory and kitchen in the south cloister range and the guest house in the west range of the inner court The contrast between this semi public area of the monastery and the monks cells was dramatic Coupled with this excavation was a reappraisal of the architectural development of the monastery and reconstruction of lost structures such as the cloister alley walls and the central water tower
