The Human Condition Joe M. Kapolyo, 2013-05-14 Human beings are complex For all our contemporary knowledge and ability however wonderful and widely available people around the world face a crisis of human identity that calls into question the meaning of existence and the basis of moral behaviour Responding to these challenges Joe Kapolyo recognizes both the authority of the Bible which teaches that people are created in the image of God but also corrupted by rebellion and sin and the relevance of distinctly African perspectives on what it means to be human Although he reads these perspectives critically they lead him to reaffirm the biblical vision of redeemed human life in community in Christ This vision offers a solution to the crisis of identity experienced by people who have forgotten who they are and whose they are

Diverse and Creative Voices Dieumeme Noelliste, Sung Wook Chung, 2015-04-20 As the twentieth century passed its midpoint and was rushing toward its end a growing number of Majority World theologians came to realize that they could in fact do theology in their own contexts for the benefit of their own people Thus from the 1960s onward theologians in the global South have embarked on a form of theological construction that has sometimes been described as contextual reflection or contextualized theology This volume is motivated by the conviction that these efforts have resulted in theological work that is also beneficial for Christians in other parts of the world The editors have invited Majority World theologians to share their reflections on several themes of Christian faith from their own sociohistorical perspectives but with an unswerving commitment to the authority of Scripture It is hoped that these fresh reflections will help Christians in the West engage and benefit from the perspectives of fellow believers in the global South

Christian Responses to Terrorism Gordon L. Heath, David Kirwa Tarus, 2017-11-01 How should Christians respond to terrorism and terrorists in their midst Terrorism is a global problem and no society on earth faces it alone The mainly Christian society of Kenya has suffered more than most as it attempts to counter the threat of al Shabaab Some pastors have asked for permission to carry guns Many Christians support government military action while others recommend pacifist stances and strive for dialogue and reconciliation with the Muslim community In this book ten Kenyan Christian thinkers and practitioners share their experiences and insights A response section from seven others including a Kenyan Muslim scholar enrich the discussion Africa's Social and Religious Quest Randee Ijatuyi-Morphé, 2014-01-30 This well crafted book probes the key dimensions of Africa's existential predicament It constitutes an intellectual response to a gnawing African situation the starting point for grasping Africa's social and religious quest Beyond split explanations of external versus internal factors e.g. colonization slavery vs leadership cultural values this study accounts more comprehensively for emergent issues shaping this situation The situation reflects a gamut of problems in traditional African religion and material culture which hitherto defines African communality politics and destinies vis-à-vis the cosmos and nature Thus African religion and communities each with its own attendant values do not operate by critical engagement with larger issues of society and civilization especially those shaped by the advent of post modernity Rather they operate via adaptation The communal drive for natural and social harmony inevitably produces a preservationist view of culture leaving things as they are This study takes an integrative approach to religion society and civilization eschews dichotomies and broadly defines and re-signifies life and wholeness as a true end of Africans quest today

Christian Theology and African Traditions Matthew Michael, 2013-05-21 Christian theology is increasingly recognized to be now a non western enterprise since the high concentrations of Christians in the world are no longer found in the Western societies Christian Theology and African Traditions takes seriously this present recognition of the southward movement of Christianity from the western world to a non western setting It seeks to reposition Christian theology and faith to engage the African traditions in classical category of theology proper bibliology anthropology Christology pneumatology soteriology ecclesiology and eschatology and provides unique insights and problems that these classical and systematic categories poses to African Christianity Similarly it provides theological blueprint for non Africans who are interested in knowing the nature and shape of the Christian theology in non western settings Consequently Christian Theology and African Traditions goes beyond the mere criticism of Western misrepresentation of African traditions to seeing how the Christian theology in its systematic character engages the African traditions With this methodological template the work describes in the space of twelve chapters the different classical teachings of the Christian faith on God scriptures spirits and demons the nature of the human person the persons of Christ salvation the Holy Spirit the church and the future life in dialogue with some specific traditions of the African people Re-imagining African Christologies Victor I. Ezigbo, 2010-02-08 Who do you say that I am Mark 8:29 is the question of Christology By asking this question Jesus invites his followers to interpret him from within their own contexts history experience and social location Therefore all responses to Jesus's invitation are contextual

But for too long many theologians particularly in the West have continued to see Christology as a universal endeavor that is devoid of any contextual influences This understanding of Christology undermines Jesus s expectations from us to imagine and appropriate him from within our own contexts In Re-imagining African Christologies Victor I Ezigbo presents a constructive exposition of the unique ways that many African theologians and lay Christians from various church denominations have interpreted and appropriated Jesus Christ in their own contexts He also articulates the constructive contributions that these African Christologies can make to the development of Christological discourse in non African Christian communities

Identity and Ecclesiology Stephanie A. Lowery, 2017-04-25 Questions of identity continue to intrigue theologians in Africa and African intellectuals often note communal emphases in African thought This raises the question How do ecclesiologies in Africa engage with identity concerns and how do they envision the Christian identity Stephanie Lowery argues in this book that theologians in Africa provide theological and biblical arguments regarding Christian identity that are relevant to individual Christians and ecclesiologies in all contexts She also proposes the social identity approach as a tool that can both further articulate and advance these discussions

Christian Theology in the Pluralistic World Veli-Matti Kärkkäinen, 2019-06-20 Kärkkäinen s acclaimed five volume constructive theology abridged in one accessible volume Providing a new and unique way of doing theology in our pluralistic world Veli-Matti Kärkkäinen presents historic Christian doctrines in relation to the natural sciences and four other living faiths Judaism Islam Buddhism and Hinduism This textbook covers all systematic topics along with a host of current issues such as violence colonialism inclusivity sociopolitical liberation environmental care and more Accessible and student friendly Christian Theology in the Pluralistic World is the ideal text for exploring a theological vision at once rooted in the Christian tradition and constructive in its engagement with the complexities of our global pluralistic world

Re-Imaging Modernity Gregg A. Okesson, 2012-10-03 This is a book about Christianity in one particular region in Kenya It walks into churches listens to sermons dances to music and interviews the people sitting in the pews all with the aim of understanding how spiritual power enables these churches to function as agents within their contemporary society Ecclesiastical communities in Africa draw upon divine power in order to engage in modernity related topics Humans are not unresponsive to global flows of meaning they are integrative agents who fashion their world by living in it The kind of modernity arising from these churches does not blindly follow Western forms but flows from its own internal logic in which spiritual power occupies central hermeneutical function Theological resources contribute to the formation of sociological expressions Divine power pertains directly to human constructs which then allows the churches to actively image God for the development of unique forms of modernity arising on the continent

Why Salvation? Joel B. Green, 2014-02-18 What must I do to be saved A Different Way of Being David Kirwa Tarus, 2019-02-28 If my people who are called by my name will humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways then I will hear from heaven and I will forgive their sin and will heal their land 2

Chronicles 7 14 Kenya is a diverse nation with many ethnic communities and cultural traditions However this diversity has led to deep divisions over the years resulting in entrenched ethnopolitical tension and conflict In this book Dr David Kirwa Tarus advocates for a Christian theological response to the nation s divisions by presenting various theological perspectives on anthropology society and politics including those of John Calvin and John Mbiti as well as other prominent Kenyan theologians This work traces the history of ethnopolitical conflict in Kenya and the church s response from 1895 to 2013 and thoroughly examines how a reformed theology can provide a pathway to social cohesion in Kenya David Tarus humbly yet boldly challenges Kenyans to pursue national unity and peace by interrogating their allegiances to their ethnic communities and political parties This book carefully argues why it is only a Christian identity commitment to humanity as bearing the divine image and the triune God himself that can heal the divisions in this land and in turn bring an end to other social evils such as corruption intolerance and violence Ethnopolitical conflict is not confined to one nation and this study will bear much fruit in other contexts where people yearn for social cohesion

Togetherness in South Africa J.M. Vorster, Nico Vorster, Jan A. du Rand, Riaan Rheeder, Dirk van der Merwe, Theuns Eloff, Ferdi P. Kruger, Reginald W. Nel, 2017-11-24 Race and inequality have always been sensitive topics in South African society due to its colonial past diverse social composition and apartheid legacy of legal discrimination against people on the basis of their skin colour Racial tensions seem to be escalating in South African society and disturbing racialised rhetoric and slogans are re entering the political and social landscape Another disturbing phenomenon has been violent incidents of xenophobia against African immigrants The question probed by this book is What perspectives can theology offer in addressing the roots of racism inequality and xenophobia in South Africa and how can it and the church contribute to reconciliation and a sense of togetherness among South African citizens Various methodologies and approaches are used to address this question In chapter 1 Theuns Eloff employs a historical and socio analytical approach to describe the social context that has given rise and is still giving impetus to racism and other forms of intolerance in South African society Nico Vorster approaches the issue of distorted racial identity constructions from a theological anthropological perspective Utilising various empirical studies he attempts to provide conceptual clarity to the concepts of racism nationalism ethnocentrism and xenophobia and maps the various racisms that we find in South Africa His contribution concludes with a theological anthropological discussion on ways in which theology can deconstruct distorted identities and contribute to the development of authentic identities Koos Vorster provides a theological ethical perspective on social stratification in South Africa He identifies the patterns inherent to the institutionalisation of racist social structures and argues that many of these patterns are still present albeit in a new disguise in the South African social order Jan du Rand provides in chapter 4 a semantic discussion of the notions of race and xenophobia He argues that racist ideologies are not constructed on a factual basis but that racial ideologies use semantic notions to construct social myths that enable them to attain power and justify the exploitation and oppression of the other Du Rand s second contribution in chapter 5 provides Reformed exegetical and hermeneutic perspectives on various passages and themes in the Bible that relate to anthropology xenophobia and the imperative to xenophilia love of the stranger Dirk Van der Merwe s contribution analyses evaluates and compares both contemporary literature and ancient texts of the Bible to develop a model that can enable churches to promote reconciliation in society while Ferdi Kruger investigates the various ways in which language can be used as a tool to disseminate hate speech He offers an analytical description of hate language provides normative perspectives on the duty to counter hate speech through truth speaking and phronesis wisdom and concludes with practical theological perspectives that might enable us to address problematic praxis Reggie Nel explores the Confessions of Belhar and the Declaration of Accra as theological lenses to provide markers for public witness in a postcolonial South African setting The volume concludes with Riaan Rheeder s Christian bioethical perspective on inequality in the health sector of sub Sahara Africa This book contains original research No part was plagiarised or published elsewhere The target audience are theologians ministers and the Christian community but social activists social scientists politicians political theorists sociologists and psychologists might also find the book applicable to their fields
