

DICHOTOMY

A dichotomy occurs when we construct two mutually exclusive categories that are opposites, lacking in overlap, and do not fit along a sliding scale.

EXPLANATION

Dichotomies allow us to categorize and compare different things.

However, dichotomies can often be overly simplistic and reductionist. They cannot capture the complexities of social reality and can sometimes be misleading. So, while they serve as a significant tool of knowledge, it is necessary to understand their limitations.

EXAMPLES

1. Individual / Society
2. Objective / Subjective
3. Tradition / Modernity
4. Formal / Informal
5. Male / Female
6. Public / Private
7. Nature / Nurture
8. Global / Local

The Adaptive Design of the Human Psyche Malcolm Owen Slavin, Daniel H. Kriegman, 1992-09-25 Addressing one of the most fundamental issues in any examination of human experience, this important new work connects evolutionary biological concepts to modern psychoanalytic theory and the clinical encounter. Synthesizing their years of experience in the practice of psychotherapy and psychoanalysis, the authors provide a comparative psychoanalytic map of current theoretical controversies and a new way of deconstructing the hidden assumptions that underlie Freudian, Ego, Psychological, Kleinian, Object, Relational, Self, Psychological, and Interpersonal theories. In so doing, they provide a new vantage point from which to integrate competing models into a larger picture that more fully embraces the many facets of human nature. Moreover, they offer clinicians a new framework with which to understand and respond to the inevitable paradoxes and conflicts that arise in the therapeutic relationship.

Expanding the Human in Human Rights Brian Gran, 2015-12-03 First Published in 2016, The global struggle for human rights has been fundamentally a struggle by oppressed groups against the structures of their oppression. As such, sociological work into the experiences of women, racial and ethnic minorities, children, LGBTQ communities, the mentally ill, and others helps us understand the promises and challenges of pursuing human rights. This book presents the fundamental insights gleaned from the scholarship on groups in society for the study of understanding of and ultimately realization of human rights.

Vistas of Modernity Rolando Vázquez, 2024-11-07 We are living in a time of polarization. Cultural and educational institutions are confronted with the responsibility to provide tools and spaces for critical reflection for engagement and more fundamentally for meeting and recognizing each other in our differences. In this decolonial essay, Rolando Vázquez introduces his critique, which offers an option for thinking and doing beyond the dominant paradigms. It provides a critical analysis of modernity understood broadly as the western project of civilization while it seeks to overcome the dominion of western epistemology and aesthetics and their embedded eurocentrism and anthropocentrism. Importantly for decolonial thought, we are all located in relation to the colonial difference that structures our modern colonial order. It is only from an awareness of our positioned realities that we can enter in relation with each other, that we can listen to each other, and learn each other. Vistas of Modernity is a new title in a series of essays commissioned by the Mondriaan Fund concerning actual topics about visual arts and cultural heritage. Rolando Vázquez is co-organizer of the Decolonial Summer School in Middelburg. He is associate professor of Sociology at University College Roosevelt of Utrecht University in The Netherlands.

The Human-Animal Relationship as a Subject of Citizenship Education Jennifer Bloise, 2025-09-26 The aim of this book is to explore the human-animal relationship as a new subject of political education and to make it accessible for critical reflection. A guiding thesis is that society's relationship with animals is both political and problematic as it is shaped by power structures and rarely recognized as an issue due to its status as an unexamined norm. To explore this topic, the model of didactic reconstruction is employed. A problem-centered interview study is used to reconstruct students everyday conceptions of animals humans and their political relationship These conceptions are then compared with academic perspectives particularly from Human Animal Studies in order to uncover contradictions and taken for granted assumptions and to identify exemplary didactically fruitful approaches to the subject The author concludes that future engagement with the human animal relationship in the context of political education should be critically oriented toward power structures This would enable reflective and multi perspective political judgment on the human animal relationship making the invisible visible Superstructuralism Richard Harland,2013-10-08 First Published in 2002 It is easy to see that we are living in a time of rapid and radical social change It is much less easy to grasp the fact that such change will inevitably affect the nature of those disciplines that both reflect our society and help to shape it Yet this is nowhere more apparent than in the central field of what may in general terms be called literary studies New Accents is intended as a positive response to the initiative offered by such a situation Each volume in the series will seek to encourage rather than resist the process of change To stretch rather than reinforce the boundaries that currently define literature and its academic study Wilderness or

Home? Asebe Regassa Debelo,2016 This book critically probes into the politics of nature conservation and commodification Building on political ecology the book argues that conservation is used by state and non state actors as an instrument of controlling multidimensional spaces of indigenous communities The study creates a nexus between the hegemonic discourse of wilderness conservation in colonial Africa and Ethiopia s appropriation of this narrative and how it internally exported it to its peripheries It found out that the successive Ethiopian regimes the imperial military and developmental state share commonalities in using nature conservation both for political control of societies and their territories and as a means of economic extraction through commodification Asebe Regassa Debelo is a graduate of the Bayreuth International Graduate School of African Studies BIGSAS Series Contributions to African Research Beitrage zur Afrikaforschung Vol 66 Subject Sociology African Studies Film Music Juan Chattah,2023-12-22 Film Music Cognition to Interpretation explores the
