Romantic Things Mary Jacobus,2012-09-01 Our thoughts are shaped as much by what things make of us as by what we make of them Lyric poetry is especially concerned with things and their relationship to thought sense and understanding In Romantic Things Mary Jacobus explores the world of objects and phenomena in nature as expressed in Romantic poetry alongside the theme of sentience and sensory deprivation in literature and art Jacobus discusses objects and attributes that test our perceptions and preoccupy both Romantic poetry and modern philosophy John Clare John Constable Rainer Maria Rilke W G Sebald and Gerhard Richter make appearances around the central figure of William Wordsworth as Jacobus explores trees rocks clouds breath sleep deafness and blindness in their work While she thinks through these things she is assisted by the writings of Maurice Merleau Ponty Jacques Derrida and Jean Luc Nancy Helping us think more deeply about things that are at once visible and invisible seen and unseen felt and unfeeling Romantic Things opens our eyes to what has been previously overlooked in lyric and Romantic poetry The Human Element in the Church of Christ Paul Simon,2016-03-22 This book was forbidden by the Nazi government as it outlines a defense against the charges brought forth against Catholicism It is a piece of Catholic reform theology that articulated a new understanding of what it means to be church The reprinted edition features an introduction by Ulrich L Lehner The Greatest Works of G. K. Chesterton G. K. Chesterton,2023-12-09 In The Greatest Works of G K Chesterton readers are invited into an expansive literary universe where profound philosophical inquiry meets a playful narrative style Chesterton often celebrated for his wit employs a masterful blend of irony and humor while addressing serious themes ranging from faith and morality to social justice and the nature of existence The collection showcases his signature use of paradox making complex ideas accessible and engaging By weaving together essays fiction and poetry Chesterton creates a vibrant tapestry that reflects the intellectual landscape of the early 20th century demonstrating the interplay between spirituality and the modern world G K Chesterton 1874 1936 a prolific British writer journalist and theologian emerged as a prominent voice in the literary movement of his time His personal journey transformed him from a skeptic to a committed Christian deeply influencing his worldview and literary output Chesterton s background in art and philosophy allowed him to approach writing with a unique perspective exploring the tensions between faith and reason tradition and innovation thus enriching his works with depth and insight This collection is essential for those wishing to explore the intersections of theology philosophy and literature It not only highlights Chesterton s brilliance but also invites readers to reflect on their beliefs and the complexities of life Whether you are a long time admirer or a new reader Chesterton s insights continue to resonate making this anthology a timeless treasure The Human Person David Braine,2019-07-09 A philosophical work that addresses the validity of the question What is it for the human being to be an animal and for this animal to be a spirit Braine argues that the perspectives of materialism and dualism are different casts of the same flawed mold and offers a holistic alternative Braine further argues that perception is inseparable from behavior and that the human propensity to produce language separates us from other animals Culminating in a discussion of the meaning of death this is rich and passionate philosophical argument for the human being as animal and soul The Human Mind and Belief 3 - Reloaded Eugene G. Breen,2014 Man s search for meaning is a perennial quest The workings and desires and hopes and frustrations of the mind tell us many things about it and why it is the way it is The awesome capacity of the entire person to become addicted to almost anything throws a light on our strength and also our weakness The human face is a shadow cast by the mind and more often than not it functions as a one way mirror rather than a true reflection of what is going on beneath the surface We become attached to people and things and we actually love The exhilaration of true joy crafted onto a robust scaffold of pain and disappointment and suffering and sorrow is counter intuitive yet very real Joy in the possession of the beloved is as good as it gets down here but our minds pine for this bliss always This longing for joy is not a vestigial structure in a once functional lobe of our primordial brains that has become atrophied due to disuse It is the flicker of light at the end of our tunnel showing us the way to go The human mind is truly a blueprint of our destiny An Enquiry Into the Nature of the Human Soul Andrew Baxter,1733

Ontopoietic Expansion in Human Self-Interpretation-in-Existence Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka,2012-12-06 The societal web of life is underpinned by one concept that of Self and Other which emerged earlier in this century The concept has received a new formulation within the field of the phenomenology of life and the human creative condition finding a foothold a point of reference that radiates novel seminal insights It is nothing other than the creative fulcrum of human functioning The self individualisation of the human being as revealed in the present collection is existentially and vitally intertwined with that of the Other Tymieniecka's seminal idea of the trans actional is explored in this collection of essays which reveals a variety of significant perspectives weaving the cycles of the human universe of existence in an essential oscillation between the Self and the Other In this oscillation we throw out our existential tentacles trying to gain a living space with respect to each other all the while engaging in a mutual creative prompting and attunement

Beckett's Thing David Lloyd,2016-09-20 Beckett was deeply engaged with the visual arts and individual painters including Jack B Yeats Bram van Velde and Avigdor Arikha In this monograph David Lloyd explores what Beckett saw in their paintings He explains what visual resources Beckett found in these particular painters rather than in the surrealism of Masson or the abstraction of Kandinsky or Mondrian The analysis of Beckett's visual imagination is based on his criticism and on close analysis of the paintings he viewed Lloyd shows how Beckett's fascination with these painters illuminates the painterly qualities of his theatre and the philosophical political and aesthetic implications of Beckett's highly visual dramatic work

Models, Methods, and Morality Sarah C. Murray, Seth Bernard, 2024-06-17 This edited volume presents a multi perspectival inquiry into the models that have shaped the study of ancient economies in past decades The contributions collected here respond to the prevailing tendency to measure ancient Mediterranean economies using methods and techniques designed for assessing the performance of modern economies considering a range of approaches that might generate a more socially and morally attuned history of the ancient Mediterranean The volume explores the challenges of quantification and critically examines the ideological assumptions implicit within the models usually applied to the study of ancient economic performance The chapters advocate for more inclusive alternatives to traditional ideas of growth that take factors such as social inequality fairness wellbeing and the relationship between humans and the natural environment into consideration The book examines through a series of different questions the importance of querying the appropriateness of economic methods from an ethical or socially aware position Rather than condemning older models methods and points of view for their inadequacies this book focuses on leveraging the benefits from existing methods in economics and suggesting new frameworks to reach toward historical approaches that are both methodologically sophisticated and attuned to the moral ethical and political concerns of the twenty first century This book will be a valuable resource for interdisciplinary researchers in economics economic history ancient history and archaeology Essays on the Intellectual Powers of the Human Mind to Which are Added an Essay on Quantity and an Analysis of Aristoteles Logic Thomas Reid, 1827

Antiquity Forgot Howard B. White, 2012-12-06 It was probably Rousseau who first thought of dreams as ennobling experiences Anyone who has ever read Reveries du Promeneur Solitaire must be struck by the dreamlike quality of Rousseau's meditations This dreamlike quality is still with us and those who experience it find themselves ennobled by it Witness Martin Luther King's famous "I have a dream" Dreaming and inspiration raise the artist to the top rung in the ladder of human relations That is probably the prevailing view among educated people of our time Rousseau made that view respectable and predominant Yet in another sense the problem is much older It is the problem of political philosophy and poetry the problem of Socrates and Aristophanes of Plato and Homer Yet while antiquity usually gives the crown to philosophy since Rousseau the alternative view tends to prevail The distinction is not however a formal one Sir Philip Sidney enlisted Plato on the side of poetry The true distinction is between imagination and reason If reason is to rule as Aristotle points out "the most architectonic of the sciences that is political science should rule It is political philosophy which must determine the nature of the arts which will help or which will hinder the good of the city or the polity That does not mean that a mere professor should stand in judgment of Shakespeare Bacon and Rembrandt It means that if he studies these three great artists he is not overstepping disciplinary limits

The Immateriality of the Human Mind, the Semantics of Analogy, and the Conceivability of God (Volume 1) Gyula Klima, 2011-09-22 The Immateriality of the Human Mind the Semantics of Analogy and the Conceivability of God brings together the work of experts in the field of medieval philosophy to consider the nature of God and the soul what can be known of the divine essence and the semantics of theological discourse from the perspectives of medieval theology both natural and revealed logic and natural philosophy In his capacity as an arts master commenting on a work of natural philosophy Aristotle's De Anima John Buridan discusses the immateriality of the intellect against the background of the competing mutually exclusive views of Alexander of Aphrodisias and Averroes Aquinas takes up the same issue but in a more properly theological setting in his Commentary on the Sentences of Peter Lombard where Aquinas argues that the being of the intellect is independent of matter Thomas de Vio Cajetan considers the semantics of theological discourse or God talk in order to derive a proper means to speak of the divine essence in his De Nominum Analogia and Anselm of Canterbury's Proslogion seeks with unaided reason to develop a single proof whereby those who think seriously of anything as that than which nothing greater can be thought may know that God exists
