Social Construction Of Social Policy Methodologies Racism Citizenship And The Environment:

The Social Construction of Social Policy Colin Samson, Nigel South, 1996-06-12 This volume draws together an impressive series of papers that explore enduring and new problems in the construction and analysis of British social policy Critical but accessible the various chapters cover methodological issues and the nature of competing claims about social policy knowledge racism and health services citizenship and access to housing and other amenities and the importance of the environment as an emerging area for social policy debate

Community Care, Ideology and Social Policy Harry Cowen, 2018-10-08 This book offers a comprehensive evaluation of community care strategies within the context of government social policy and assesses the recent shifts of political power from Conservative to Labour towards the end of the century Unlike the majority of texts in the field of community care it makes explicit the historical philosophical social and political inter connections and therefore provides an in depth understanding of changing policy issues for students practitioners and managers in health and social care

Constructing Social Work Practices Arja Jokinen, 2018-12-17 First published in 1999 Jokinen Juhila and Poso comprises both theoretical reflexive articles and articles based on empirical social constructionist studies It provokes new ways of looking at social work practices as interpretative and interactive processes In addition to this theoretical and methodological contribution the volume provides empirically based material on the practical implications of an alliance between social work and social constructionism

Drugs, Prisons and Policy-Making K. Duke, 2003-10-14 In this fascinating new work Karen Duke explores the conflicts and contradictory pressures in the development of prison drugs policy in Britain from 1980 to the present Based on interviews with key policy actors and documentary analysis it explores how policy networks around drug issues in prisons have attempted to contain the contradictions between treatment and punishment and how their activities have been shaped by the ways in which the drugs issue is framed the roles of research evidence and knowledge and the impact of wider social political policy and institutional contexts

Sociology for Social Workers and Probation Officers Vivienne E. Cree, 2012-10-12 How does a social work student make the connection between sociological knowledge and day to day social work procedures Sociology for Social Workers provides an introduction to sociological ideas and research and places it firmly into the context of social work practice It takes the issues that sociology addresses and uses them to show how social work can be better informed and improved Each chapter provides full referencing so that students and social work practitioners can follow up on primary sources to pursue and develop the most useful specific themes and ideas

Sustainable Urban Development Volume 4 Ian Cooper, Martin Symes, 2008-08-22 This new book explores how the professions responsible for enhancing the built environment's sustainability seek to deliver this new agenda offering multi perspective case studies and discussion to argue for a rethinking of the role of urban development professional Showing how sustainability is rapidly becoming the norm for practitioners the authors consider new types of professional knowledge relationships between planning systems and property development links between public and private sector organisations ideas about long term responsibilities and new working practices for engaging with the public Social Science and Policy Challenges Georgios Papanagnou,2011-01-01 Producing scientific knowledge that can inform solutions and guide policy making is one of the most important functions of social science Nonetheless if social science is to become more relevant and influential so as to impact on the drawing and execution of policy certain measures need to be taken to narrow its distance from the policy sphere This decision is less obvious than it seems Both research and experience have proved that policy making is a complex often sub rational interactive process that involves a wide range of actors such as decision makers bureaucrats researchers organized interests citizen and civil society representatives and research brokers In addition social science often needs to defend both its relevance to policy and its own scientific status Moving away from instrumental visions of the link between social research and policy this collective volume aims to highlight the more constructed nature of the use of social knowledge 'Race', Housing and Social Exclusion

Peter Somerville,Andy Steele,2002 The contributors analyse the implications of social exclusion offering suggestions for good practice in the allocation of housing for black and other ethnic minority groups This book shows how racism and the shortage of housing workers from black and other ethnic minorities constrain the choices available to these groups Current Issues of UK Asylum Law and Policy Frances Nicholson,Patrick Twomey,2019-01-15 Published in 1998 This title brings together 18 essays by a selection of experts in the area of refugee and asylum law and policy Each essay examines an issue of contemporary interest to those working in the refugee field in the UK They have been selected from papers presented at a highly successful conference on Refugee Rights and Realities which was held at the University of Nottingham in November 1996 organized by the Human Rights Law Centre at the University and funded by the Airey Neave Trust The essays are organised into two sections The first covers issues of legal process and policy ranging from the development of asylum law and policy in the UK to the country s obligations under international law Special emphasis is placed on the most recent developments surrounding the 1996 Asylum and Immigration Act The second section provides the context for a more detailed examination of the social health and welfare issues relevant to refugees and asylum seekers These range from access to health care housing rights and the education of refugees in London to questions of language and of race relations

Transforming society? Graeme Simpson,Vicky Price,2007-04-11 Society is undergoing change and as a result social welfare services including social work are being transformed This book explores the sociological basis of contemporary society and shows how social workers experience tensions and contradictions in practice The book uses case studies and self directed activities to enable students to relate sociology to daily lives It explores key themes in turn examining their relevance for social work and how they can be applied to practice particularly in areas such as children and families mental health disability and older people Relevant and accessible the authors explore aspects of class ethnicity and gender and conclude with suggestions of how sociology can inform practice and enable social work to engage with processes of transformation The book provides essential material for students of social work and social care at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels It will also be relevant to social policy and sociology undergraduates
