A Taste for China Eugenia Zuroski Jenkins, 2013-05-23 A Taste for China offers an account of how literature of the long eighteenth century generated a model of English selfhood dependent on figures of China It shows how various genres of writing in this period call upon things Chinese to define the tasteful English subject of modernity Chinoiserie is no mere exotic curiosity in this culture but a potent multivalent sign of England s participation in a cosmopolitan world order

The Evolution of Taste in American Collecting René Brimo, 2016-12-13 The Evolution of Taste in American Collecting is a new critical translation of Ren Brimo s classic study of eighteenth and nineteenth century patronage and art collecting in the United States Originally published in French in 1938 Brimo s foundational text is a detailed examination of collecting in America from colonial times to the end of World War I when American collectors came to dominate the European art market This work helped shape the then fledgling field of American art history by explaining larger cultural transformations as manifested in the collecting habits of American elites It remains the most substantive account of the history of collecting in the United States In his introduction Kenneth Haltman provides a biographical study of the author and his social and intellectual milieu in France and the United States He also explores how Brimo s work formed a turning point and initiated a new area of academic study the history of art collecting

Making accessible a text that has until now only been available in French Haltman's elegant translation of The Evolution of Taste in American Collecting sheds new critical light on the essential work of this extraordinary but overlooked scholar

The Taste of Empire Lizzie Collingham, 2017-10-03 A history of the British Empire told through twenty meals eaten around the world In The Taste of Empire acclaimed historian Lizzie Collingham tells the story of how the British Empire's quest for food shaped the modern world Told through twenty meals over the course of 450 years from the Far East to the New World Collingham explains how Africans taught Americans how to grow rice how the East India Company turned opium into tea and how Americans became the best fed people in the world In The Taste of Empire Collingham masterfully shows that only by examining the history of Great Britain's global food system from sixteenth century Newfoundland fisheries to our present day eating habits can we fully understand our capitalist economy and its role in making our modern diets The
