Van Cleef, 2008-05 Here a medieval Muslim mystic records his living meditation on becoming one with God where he likens himself to a moth leaping into flame In that bright instant wings aflame Reduced to fragments of his name The moth ash shows his body s form Where no mark will distinguish him Rumi wrote three centuries later on Al Hallaj s words I am God People imagine that it is a presumptive claim whereas I find it is really a presumptive claim to say I am the slave of God for I am God is an expression of great humility The man who says I am the slave of God affirms two existences his own and God s but he that says I am God has made himself non existent and has given himself up and says I am God that is I am naught He is all there is no being but

God's This is the extreme of humility and self abasement      Phenomenology and the Human Positioning in the Cosmos Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2012-10-11 The classic conception of human transcendental consciousness assumes its self supporting existential status within the horizon of life world nature and earth Yet this assumed absoluteness does not entail the nature of its powers neither their constitutive force This latter call for an existential source reaching beyond the generative life world network Transcendental consciousness having lost its absolute status its point of reference it is the role of the logos to lay down the harmonious positioning in the cosmic sphere of the all establishing an original foundation of phenomenology in the primogenital onto-poiesis of life      Islamic Algorithms Gary R. Muslim Perspectives on Islamophobia Zouhir Gabsi, 2024-08-06 The Islamic positioning of Islamophobia is presented in this book Through Islamic or Muslim perspectives the book engages with various Islamic texts and discourses spoken and written emanating from preachers and scholars of Islam to discuss the points of convergence and divergence with the Western interpretation of the phenomenon The book aims to look at Islamophobia from a hitherto unexplored angle by first analyzing the points of convergence and divergence between the internal Muslim and external Western perspectives and then by providing new approaches to curbing Islamophobia through a holistic spiritual dimension of Islam and cultural memory The book contends that the bridges of understanding between the East and the West can only be built if some of Islam s theological concepts such as the place of reason in Islam are reinterpreted by considering the Islamic perspectives While the book acknowledges previous work on Islamophobia it contributes to a deeper understanding of Islamophobia in its internal and external manifestations by considering the theoretical frameworks of racism and xenophobia Readers interested in Islamic studies and anti racism narratives would find this book s eclectic approach and balanced perspective of the phenomenon informative and enlightening
