Revisiting "The Culture of the School and the Problem of Change" Seymour B. Sarason, 1996

Revisiting The Culture of the School and the Problem of Change provocatively and seamlessly joins Seymour Sarason's classic landmark text on school change with his own insightful reflections on those same issues in the face of today's crisis in public schools This is an extensive monograph length revisiting Part I of this book reproduces the second edition of Sarason's ground breaking work The Culture of the School and the Problem of Change in which he detailed how change can affect a school's culturally diverse environment either through the implementation of new programs or as a result of federally imposed regulations Throughout many of the major assumptions about change in institutions are challenged Specific events and examples demonstrate that any attempt to implement change involves some existing regularity within the school Dr Sarason also takes a close look at government involvement in change efforts in schooling and includes a detailed examination of current efforts to implement PL 94-142 into public schools He presents compelling evidence that the federal effort to change and improve schools has largely been a failure Also included are investigations into the purposes of schooling and how these purposes can be affected by change and the process by which educators and administrators formulate intended outcomes of change efforts In Part II Dr Sarason revisits the text and the issues 25 years after the original publication As he explains in his preface to him the word crisis means a point in time when a dangerous situation contains conflicting forces of an intensity or seriousness that in the near term will be dramatically altered depending on which forces win out When I wrote the book a quarter century ago I did not regard our schools as in crisis though my intuition was that a crisis would come sooner or later It has in my opinion come Believing that what happens in our cities and our schools will determine the fate of our society Dr Sarason is deeply concerned that the reform arena is being manipulated by forces that are at best untroubled by and at worst intent on the dismantling of the public school system That coupled with his fear that even the system's defenders are not focusing on the real issues has infused Dr Sarason's return to the topic of educational change with a great sense of urgency The important things he has to say will be welcomed by all who truly care about the state of the public schools that America's children attend
