Tay John And The Cyclical Quest:

Tay John and the Cyclical Quest Ella Tanner, 1990 This is the first book length study of Howard O Hagan s Tay John Tanner s examination suggests how this earth oriented saga must be read slowly with full attention to all details of words and story in order to appreciate its coded subtext and how it must then be reread to experience the work s powerful cyclic form Her story draws on previously inaccessible material personal interviews with O Hagan comments by his fellow writers and an early editorial by O Hagan on Truth and Style

Coyote Country Arnold E. Davidson, 1994 For most North Americans Canadians as well as Americans the term Western evokes images of the frontier brave sheriffs and ruthless outlaws good cowboys and bad Indians As Arnold E Davidson shows in this groundbreaking study a number of Canada s most interesting and experimental Western writers parody reverse or otherwise defuse the paraphernalia of the classic U S Western Lacking both a real and imagined frontier Canadian settlers rode trains into the new territory already policed by Mounties the writers of Canadian Westerns were set a different task from their American counterparts and were subsequently freed to create some of the most complex and engrossing fiction yet produced in Canada Davidson details the evolution of the U S and Canadian Western forms tracing the divergence between the two as Canadian writers responded to their unique historical circumstances by reinventing the West as well as the Western and establishing a new literary landscape where author and reader could work out new possibilities of being

Surveying a range of texts by Canada s most innovative writers with special attention to women writers and Native stories of Coyote he provides close readings of novels by Howard O Hagan Sheila Watson Robert Kroetsch Aritha van Herk Anne Cameron Peter Such W O Mitchell Beatrice Culleton and Thomas King A unique study Coyote Country offers at one and the same time a theory of Canadian Western fiction a history of crosscultural paradigms of the West as manifested in novels and an intensive reading of some of Canada s best literature

Canadian Literature in English W. J. Keith, 2006 W J Keith has chosen to ignore utterly both the popular at the one extreme Robert Service Lucy Maud Montgomery as well as the avant garde at the other bpnichol Anne Carson in favour of those authors whose style lends itself to the simple pleasure of reading and to that end Keith dedicates his history to all those including those of the general reading public whose endangered status is much lamented who recognize and celebrate the dance of words

Found in Alberta Robert Boschman, Mario Trono, 2014-10-29 Found in Alberta Environmental Themes for the Anthropocene is a collection of essays about the natural environment in a province rich in natural resources and aggressive in development goals This is a casebook on Alberta from which emerges a far wider set of implications for North America and for the biosphere in general The writers come from an array of disciplinary backgrounds within the environmental humanities The essays examine the oil tar sands climate change provincial government policy food production industry practices legal frameworks wilderness spaces hunting Indigenous perspectives and nuclear power Contributions from an ecocritical perspective provide insight into environmentally themed poetry photography and biography Since the actions of

Alberta's industries and government are currently at the heart of a global environmental debate this collection is valuable to those wishing to understand the natural and commercial forces in play The editors present an introductory argument that frames these interests inside a call for a rethinking of our assumptions about the natural world and our place within it

Northern Experience and the Myths of Canadian Culture Renée Hulan, 2002 She considers each of these diverse genres in terms of the way it explains the cultural identity of a nation formed from the settlement of immigrant peoples on the lands of dispossessed indigenous peoples The Serpent's Part David Lucking, 2003 Canada is a country in which the issue of identity has always been a prominent concern and one that has frequently been explored in the literature of that nation The theme of identity often merges into that of language the forging of names and the elaboration of narratives being perceived as means through which identity is constructed in both the private and the public spheres This study examines the relation between identity and language as this is evidenced in a number of works of Canadian literature ranging from Susanna Moodie's Roughing It in the Bush to Timothy Findley's Famous Last Words Particular attention is dedicated to the telling of stories in these books both as an existential strategy on the part of particular authors or the characters they create and as an explicitly thematized concern It is argued that while the works under discussion dramatize the paradoxes and the perils inherent in the endeavour to construct the self by narrative means they also insist on the primacy of narrative in imparting a coherent pattern to experience and on the centrality of the role it plays in humanity's quest for meaning

Canadian Science Fiction and Fantasy David Ketterer, 1992 Canadian Children's Literature, 1991 Lettres canadiennes University of Toronto, 1991 Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index, 1975 Canadian Book Review Annual, 1990 America, History and Life, 1993 Canadian Books in Print 2002 Edited by Butler Marian, Marian Butler, 2002-02 Containing more than 48000 titles of which approximately 4000 have a 2001 imprint the author and title index is extensively cross referenced It offers a complete directory of Canadian publishers available listing the names and ISBN prefixes as well as the street e mail and web addresses Canadian Books in Print, 2003

Canadiana, 1990 International Books in Print, 1995 Barbara Hopkinson, [Anonymus AC01401231], 1995 Canadian Periodical Index, 1995 Canada and the Idea of North Sherrill E Grace, 2002-04-15 Canada and the Idea of North examines the ways in which Canadians have defined themselves as a northern people in their literature art music drama history geography politics and popular culture From the Franklin Mystery to the comic book superheroine Nelvana Glenn Gould's documentaries the paintings of Lawren Harris and Molson beer ads the idea of the north has been central to the Canadian imagination Sherrill Grace argues that Canadians have always used ideas of Canada as North to promote a distinct national identity and national unity In a penultimate chapter The North Writes Back Grace presents newly emerging northern voices and shows how they view the long tradition of representing the North by southern activists artists and scholars With the recent creation of Nunavut increasing concern about northern ecosystems and social challenges and renewed attention to Canada's role as a circumpolar nation Canada and the Idea of North shows that nordicity still plays an urgent and central role in Canada at the start of the twenty first century On Coasts of Eternity J. R. Tim Struthers, 1996 Books In Print
