Teaching About Doublespeak By Dieterich Daniel:

Political Literacy in Composition and Rhetoric Donald Lazere, 2015-07-20 In Political Literacy in Composition and Rhetoric Donald Lazere calls for revival of NCTE resolutions in the 1970s for teaching the critical reading listening viewing and thinking skills necessary to enable students to cope with the persuasive techniques in political statements advertising entertainment and news and explores the reasons these goals have been eclipsed in composition studies over recent decades. Obstacles to those goals have included the emphasis in the profession on basic and first year writing at the expense of more advanced study in argumentative rhetoric and on the privileging of students personal writing over critical study of both academic and political discourse. Lazere further argues that theorists who legitimately champion students pluralistic local communities sometimes fail to recognize that liberal education can enable students to grow beyond their home cultures to critical awareness of national and international politics. Finally he argues that the fixation in recent composition studies on liberally inclined students and communities on the margins has eclipsed attention to the conservative conformity long prevalent in mainstream American society and education. His proposals for curriculum and pedagogy seek to introduce students to a more highly informed cogent and open ended level of debate between the political left and right. The SAGE Encyclopedia of War: Social Science Perspectives Paul Joseph, 2016-10-11 Traditional explorations of war look through the lens of history and military science focusing on big events big battles and big generals. Key features include More than 650 entries organized in an A to Z format authored and signed by key academics in the field. An alternative Reader's Guide table of contents groups articles by disciplinary areas and by broad themes. A helpful Resource Guide directing researchers to classic books journals and electronic resources for more in depth study. This important and distinctive work will be a key reference for all researchers in the fields of political science international relations and sociology. Teaching the English Language John H. Bushman, 2000 Tenured Bosses and Disposable Teachers, Tenured Bosses and Disposable Teachers Writing Instruction in the Managed University exposes the poor working conditions of contingent composition faculty and explores practical alternatives to the unfair labor practices that are all too common on campuses today. Editors Marc Bousquet Tony Scott and Leo Parascondola bring together diverse perspectives from pragmatism to historical materialism to provide a perceptive and engaging examination of the nature extent and economics of the managed labor problem in composition instruction a field in which as much as ninety three percent of all classes are taught by graduate students adjuncts and other disposable teachers. These instructors enjoy few benefits meager wages little or no participation in departmental governance and none of the rewards and protections that encourage innovation and research And it is from this disenfranchised position that literacy workers are expected to provide some of the core instruction in nearly everyone's higher education experience Twenty six contributors explore a range of real world solutions to managerial domination of the composition workplace from traditional academic unionism to ensemble movement activism and the pragmatic rhetoric accommodations and resistances practiced by teachers in their daily lives Contributors are Leann Bertoncini Marc Bousquet Christopher Carter Christopher Ferry David Downing Amanda Godley Robin Truth Goodman Bill Hendricks Walter Jacobsohn Ruth Kiefson Paul Lauter Donald Lazere Eric Marshall Randy Martin Richard Ohmann Leo Parascondola Steve Parks Gary Rhoades Eileen Schell Tony Scott William Thelin Jennifer Seibel Trainor Donna Strickland William Vaughn Ray Watkins and Katherine Wills
