The Family Tree Sheri S. Tepper, 2009-09-25 A female cop confronts near future visitors in this beautifully realized feminist sci fi novel full of delightful surprises and sparkling wit Kirkus Reviews Police officer Dora Henry is investigating the bizarre murders of three geneticists Meanwhile strange things are happening everywhere she turns Weeds are becoming trees trees are becoming forests Overnight a city is being transformed into a wild and verdant place And strangest of all Dora can somehow communicate with the rampaging flora A potential civilization ending catastrophe is in the making The nearer Dora gets to a murderer and to the truth the more seemingly disparate events begin to entwine And the answers she seeks today to the salvation of humankind may lie in a far distant future one which is suddenly much closer than anyone imagines An exhilarating and enchanting novel that deftly combines fantastic invention with insight and a social conscience from one of the most lyrical and important voices in contemporary speculative fiction This out and out charmer is unquestionably Tepper's best work so far Kirkus Reviews

Nabokov's Novels in English Lucy Maddox, 2010-03-01 Lucy Maddox's sensitive treatment of Nabokov's eight finished novels written in English Pale Fire Ada Lolita Bend Sinister The Real Life of Sebastian Knight Transparent Things Look at the Harlequins and Pnin approaches the novelist's work as significant fiction with its own integrity Maddox provides the kind of discursive introduction that makes Nabokov's complex work more accessible focusing on the relationship between the eccentric artificial structures of the novels and their deeply traditional humanistic themes While the forms of the novels are idiosyncratic and often bizarre says Maddox the texts themselves are neither unfamiliar nor eccentric Repeatedly the text is the frustration of desire or loss which is for Nabokov the most agonizing and inescapable of human experiences Maddox also traces through all eight novels the development of Nabokov's style which she treats as a matter of both technique and vision

Fiction Unbound Sebnem Toplu, 2011-07-12 This book covers all Bernardine Evaristo's major works

Lara 1997 and Lara 2009 The Emperor's Babe Soul Tourists Blonde Roots and Hello Mum Each chapter focuses on a particular novel combining a close analysis of the author's technique with a penetrating understanding of the basic themes which underlie all of Evaristo's work This monograph exposes that Evaristo is not simply interested in multicultural issues to label them as such is to overlook her achievement as a novelist It shows instead how Evaristo combines apparently disparate elements for example historical research with late twentieth century allusions in a narrative such as The Emperor's Babe to show how African Caribbeans have been coming to Britain for thousands of years Yet Evaristo is not just interested in the African Caribbean experience this book shows how she tries to question those basic concepts for example Englishness or patriotism which lie at the heart of mainstream white culture in contemporary Britain It argues that Evaristo is interested in alternative constructions not only of nationalism but of other basic issues such as race gender and class Her books give the chance for hitherto marginalized characters slaves women or victims of a patriarchal world to tell their stories and postulate alternative views of the world they live in Above all this monograph shows how Evaristo refuses to be pigeon holed she is not simply a black British writer but someone who focuses on the interconnectedness of society This book calls for readers to adopt a more enlightened approach not only to issues of culture and identity but to the work of Evaristo as a whole

Reappearing Characters in Nineteenth-Century French Literature Sotirios Paraschas, 2018-04-19 This book examines the phenomenon of the reappearance of characters in nineteenth century French fiction It approaches this from a hitherto unexplored perspective that of the twin history of the aesthetic notion of originality and the legal notion of literary property While the reappearance of characters in the works of canonical authors such as Honoré de Balzac and Émile Zola is usually seen as a device which transforms the individual works of an author into a coherent whole this book argues that the unprecedented systematisation of the reappearance of characters in the nineteenth century has to be seen within a wider cultural economic and legal context While fictional characters are seen as original creations by their authors from a legal point of view they are considered to be ideas which are not protected and can be appropriated by anyone By co-examining the reappearance of characters in the work of canonical authors and their reappearances in unauthorised appropriations such as stage adaptations and sequels this book discusses a series of issues that have shaped our understanding of authorship originality and property
