The Fantastic Tzvetan Todorov, 1975 In The Fantastic Tzvetan Todorov seeks to examine both generic theory and a particular genre moving back and forth between a poetics of the fantastic itself and a metapoetics or theory of theorizing even as he suggest that one must as a critic move back and forth between theory and history between idea and fact His work on the fantastic is indeed about a historical phenomenon that we recognize about specific works that we may read but it is also about the use and abuse of generic theory As an essay in fictional poetics The Fantastic is consciously structuralist in its approach to the generic subject Todorov seeks linguistic bases for the structural features he notes in a variety of fantastic texts including Potocki's The Sargasso Manuscript Nerval's Aurélia Balzac's The Magic Skin the Arabian Nights Cazotte's Le Diable Amoureux Kafka's The Metamorphosis and tales by E T A Hoffman Charles Perrault Guy de Maupassant Nicolai Gogol and Edgar A Poe

The fantastic Tzvetan Todorov, 1980 The Fantastic, 1975 Interpretation and Genre Thomas Kent, 1986 Kent proposes a general theory of genre classification and applies this genetic model to American fiction written during the last half of the nineteenth century Combining theory and application Kent attempts to demonstrate that what we say about texts is related directly to our generic perception of them The Fantastic in Holocaust Literature and Film Judith B. Kerman, John Edgar Browning, 2014-11-19 When reality becomes fantastic what literary effects will render it credible or comprehensible To respond meaningfully to the surreality of the Holocaust writers must produce works of moral and emotional complexity One way they have achieved this is through elements of fantasy Covering a range of theoretical perspectives this collection of essays explores the use of fantastic story telling in Holocaust literature and film Writers such as Jane Yolen and Art Spiegelman are discussed as well as the sci fi television series V 1983 Stephen King's novella Apt Pupil 1982 Guillermo del Toro's Pan's Labyrinth 2006 and Martin Scorsese's dark thriller Shutter Island 2010 Lost in Space Rob Kitchin, James Kneale, 2005-12-23 Science fiction one of the most popular literary cinematic and televisual genres has received increasing academic attention in recent years For many theorists science fiction opens up a space in which the here and now can be made strange or remade where virtual reality and cyborg are no longer gimmicks or predictions but new spaces and subjects Lost in space brings together an international collection of authors to explore the diverse geographies of space exploring imagination nature scale geopolitics modernity time identity the body power relations and the representation of space The essays explore the writings of a broad selection of writers including J G Ballard Frank Herbert Marge Piercy Kim Stanley Robinson Mary Shelley and Neal Stephenson and films from Bladerunner to Dark City The Fly The Invisible Man and Metropolis

Convention and Transgression Jacqueline Eyring Bixler, 1997 Carballido's plays are a staple of the theatre scene in Mexico City and are also frequently staged in Europe the United States and throughout Latin America He has written more than thirty full length plays and more than sixty one act pieces as well as movie scripts adaptations and works for children's theatre More than fifteen years have passed since the last book appeared on Carballido's theatre during which he has written a score of new plays

Critical Media Studies Brian L. Ott, Robert L. Mack, 2025-10-21 Master the critical tools for understanding media in today's fast evolving digital landscape Critical Media Studies: An Introduction for the Digital Age provides students with a powerful framework for analyzing the impact of media on knowledge, attitudes, and behaviors. In a world increasingly shaped by digital technologies and personalized information feeds, this leading textbook supplies the theoretical tools and knowledge to understand how media influence individuals and society. With an interdisciplinary approach, Brian L. Ott and Robert L. Mack explore media's role as a powerful socializing force, addressing the key areas of media technologies, industries, messages, and audiences. Each section delves into distinct critical perspectives, such as Marxist, feminist, and queer analysis, alongside exclusive chapters on pragmatic and erotic approaches. The fourth edition includes significant updates, including a detailed examination of the ecological impact of digital media and unique engagement with Byung Chul Han's philosophy. Throughout this edition, revised chapters incorporate contemporary examples, cutting-edge pedagogical features, timely discussion of global trends, and much more. Ideal for both undergraduate and graduate students, Critical Media Studies is perfect for courses in Media Studies, Communication, and Digital Media programs. Whether in introductory or advanced classes, students will find the text invaluable for fostering critical thinking, media literacy, and informed citizenship. Covering both introductory and advanced topics, it is also a valuable reference for scholars, media professionals, and those in communication-related fields.

Italian Gothic Horror Films, 1980-1989 Roberto Curti, 2019-03-07 The Italian Gothic horror genre underwent many changes in the 1980s, with masters such as Mario Bava and Riccardo Freda dying or retiring, and young filmmakers such as Lamberto Bava, Macabro, Demons, and Michele Soavi. The Church surfacing. Horror films proved commercially successful in the first half of the decade, thanks to Dario Argento, both as director and producer, and Lucio Fulci, but the rise of made-for-TV products has resulted in the gradual disappearance of genre products from the big screen. This book examines all the Italian Gothic films of the 1980s. It includes previously unpublished trivia and production data taken from official archive papers, original scripts, and interviews with filmmakers, actors, and scriptwriters. The entries include a complete cast and crew list, plot summary, production history, and analysis. Two appendices list direct-to-video releases and made-for-TV films.

The Feminine Subject in Children's Literature Christine Wilkie-Stibbs, 2013-12-16 This book builds upon and contributes to the growing academic interest in feminism within the field of children's literature studies. Christie Wilkie Stibbs draws upon the work of Luce Irigaray, Helene Cixous, Julia Kristeva, and Jacques Lacan in her analysis of particular children's literature texts to demonstrate how a feminist analysis opens up textual possibilities that may be applied to works of children's fiction in general, extending the range of textual engagements in children's literature through the application of a new poststructural critical apparatus.

Allegory in America D. Madsen, 1995-12-18 Allegory in America surveys the history of American allegorical writing from the Puritans through the period of American romanticism to postmodernism. In a series of theoretical chapters, the cultural function of allegory is discussed in relation to the mythology of American exceptionalism Each theoretical chapter is followed by a chapter that analyzes a specific text or group of texts Allegorical indeterminacy is seen to produce a literary tradition that both represents and subverts the ideals of American orthodoxy Qasida Poetry in Islamic Asia and Africa Stefan Sperl, Christopher Shackle, 2025-02-03 The print edition is available as a set of two volumes 9789004104525 Narrative Comprehension and Film Edward Branigan, 2013-06-17 Narrative is one of the ways we organise and understand the world It is found everywhere not only in films and books but also in everyday conversations and in the nonfictional discourses of journalists historians educators psychologists attorneys and many others Edward Branigan presents a telling exploration of the basic concepts of narrative theory and its relation to film and literary analysis bringing together theories from linguistics and cognitive science and applying them to the screen Individual analyses of classical narratives form the basis of a complex study of every aspect of filmic fiction exploring for example subjectivity in Lady in the Lake multiplicity in Letter from an Unknown Woman post modernism and documentary in Sans Soleil The Craft of Criticism Michael Kackman, Mary Celeste Kearney, 2025-08-19 With contributions from 35 leading media scholars this collection provides a comprehensive overview of the main methodologies of critical media studies Fully revised and updated throughout the chapters in this second edition address various methods of textual analysis as well as reception studies policy studies production studies and contextual multi method approaches like intertextuality and cultural geography Film and television are at the heart of the collection which also addresses digital technologies and new research tools in such areas as software studies gaming and social media Each chapter includes an intellectual history of a particular method or approach a discussion of why and how it was used to study a particular medium or media relevant examples of influential work in the area and an in depth review of a case study drawn from the author's own research Together the chapters in this collection give media scholars and critics a complete toolbox of essential critical media studies methodologies Writing the Past, Writing the Future Richard S. Albright, 2009 This book links popular British fiction from the 1790s through the 1860s to anxieties about time The cataclysm of the French Revolution discoveries in geology biology and astronomy that greatly expanded the age and size of the universe and technological developments such as the railway and the telegraph combined to transform the experience of time and dramatize its aporetic nature time as inarticulable contradiction The Presence of the Past Valerie Krips, 2002-09-11 The presence of the Past studies the interaction of heritage and fiction written for children over a 40 year period in Britain exploring a range of works for children from The Tale of Peter Rabbit to I Spy Critical Dictionary of Film and Television Theory Roberta Pearson, Philip Simpson, 2005-12-08 This Dictionary lays out the major theoretical approaches deployed in the study of the moving image as well as defining key theoretical terms Contextual entries range from 500 to 3 000 words In Lady Audley's Shadow Saverio Tomaiuolo, 2010-10-05 This book is devoted to Mary Elizabeth Braddon's complex relationship with the three main Victorian literary genres the Gothic the Detective and the Realist novel using Braddon's bestselling sensation fiction Lady Audley's Secret as a starting point      God, Order, and Chaos Stephen Finamore, 2009-04-01 The ideas of Rene Girard are having a profound effect on Christian theology This book offers a critical introduction to his thought and then uses it to interpret the Book of Revelation The result is a reading of extraordinary relevance for the contemporary world Readers of the Apocalypse are often disturbed by the images of destruction in the book and are unsure why these are unleashed after the exaltation of Jesus This study examines past approaches to these texts and uses Girard's theories to revive some old ideas and propose some new ones Seen in this light the Apocalypse becomes the story of the ultimate vindication of the victim a source of hope and a resource that can be used both to encourage resistance to the destructive forces within culture and to help the church and the poor to engage constructively with the issues of our day

Fin-de-Siècle Splendor Dewei Wang, 1997 The reigning view of literary historians has been that the May Fourth movement of 1919 marks the division between the traditional and the modern in Chinese literature This book argues that signs of reform and innovation can be discerned long before May Fourth and that as China entered the arena of modern international history in the late Qing it was already developing its own complex matrix of incipient modernities It demonstrates that late Qing fiction nurtured a creative innovative poetics one that was spurned by the reformers of the May Fourth generation in favor of Western style realism The author recognizes that a full account of modern Chinese fiction needs to ask why so many genres styles themes and figures found in late imperial fiction were repressed by modern Chinese literary discourse He focuses on four genres of late Qing fiction that have been either rudely dismissed in pejorative terms or simply ignored depravity romances court case and chivalric cycles grotesque exposés and scientific fantasies The author shows that in spite of the realist orthodoxy that has dominated Chinese literature since the May Fourth movement these unwelcome genres have continually found their way back into mainstream discourse their influence being increasingly evident in recent decades This first comprehensive study of late Qing fiction discusses more than sixty works at least half of which have rarely or never been dealt with by Western or Chinese scholars Richly informed by contemporary literary theory this book constitutes a polemical rethinking of the nature of Chinese literary and cultural modernity
