The Fast Track John S. Budd,1982-01-01 Staying Human in the Organization J. Gary Bernhard,Kalman Glantz,1992 Bernhard and Glantz attribute many workplace problems to a basic conflict between human nature and the structure of modern organizations Because human beings evolved in small egalitarian hunter gatherer bands most humans have emotional needs that can best be satisfied in small groups that are based on personal reciprocity sharing teamwork and genuine interdependence In such groups leadership can be based on acknowledged personal ability everyone can feel important and the common goal can weld people together in a way that is both efficient and personally satisfying The authors see the formal hierarchies of modern organizations where authority often replaces leadership as the resurgence of pre human primate social relationships in which bluffing threatening and intimidation played a major role Numerous and varied examples from the workplace lend the analysis graphic immediacy and authenticity Many theories have been advanced to explain such workplace phenomena as endemic dissatisfaction low productivity and high absenteeism Many books have argued that teams a democratic management style and employee participation are essential given an educated work force that doesn't live in fear of being fired Staying Human in the Organization is the first book to relate these themes to evolutionary biology the discipline which in recent years has been revolutionizing the behavioral sciences The result is a new way of thinking about labor relations and organizational development The Cumulative Book Index ,1992 A world list of books in the English language Harvard Business School Bulletin ,1982 Best Sellers ,1982 Books Out-of-print ,1986 Subject Catalog Library of Congress,1982 Books in Print ,1993-09 V 1 Authors A D v 2 Authors E K v 3 Authors L R v 4 S Z v 5 Titles A D v 6 Titles E K v 7 Titles L Q v 8 Titles R Z v 9 Out of print out of stock indefinitely v 10 Publishers Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1998-04 Zimbabwe's Fast Track Land Reform Prosper B. Matondi,2012-11-08 The Fast Track Land Reform Programme in Zimbabwe has emerged as a highly contested reform process both nationally and internationally The image of it has all too often been that of the widespread displacement and subsequent replacement of various people agricultural related production systems facets and processes The reality however is altogether more complex Providing new and much needed empirical research this in depth book examines how processes such as land acquisition allocation transitional production outcomes social life gender and tenure have influenced and been influenced by the forces driving the programme It also explores the ways in which the land reform programme has created a new agrarian structure based on small to medium scale farmers In attempting to resolve the problematic issues the reforms have raised the author argues that it is this new agrarian formation which provides the greatest scope for improving Zimbabwe's agriculture and development Based on a broader geographical scope than any previous study carried out on the subject this is a landmark work on a subject of considerable controversy National Union Catalog ,1982 Includes entries for maps and atlases Subject Catalog, 1982 Library of Congress,1982 Books in Print Supplement ,2002

Changing Big Business Anna Hutchens, 2009 This is an important and valuable contribution both to our understanding of fair trade and the broader context in which it operates Dr Hutchens develops an exciting new theory and presents extensive original empirical work to construct a rigorous and at times challenging argument concerning the limits and opportunities for the fair trade movement going forward Alex Nicholls University of Oxford UK Drawing on candid accounts from practitioners producers and industry representatives this informative and proactive volume investigates the challenges facing today's fair trade movement and provides unique insights into the workings of social and economic power in world markets Using original in depth empirical data Anna Hutchens develops several new approaches to understanding power governance and social change across the broad interdisciplinary fields of development economics and politics Emphasising fair trade's entrepreneurs this book investigates the creation of innovative commercial fair trade business models that are often neglected in fair trade research but are crucial to the fair trade movement's survival in commercial markets As corporate involvement in fair trade markets grows these models will be the key variable for the sustainability of fair trade into the future This book will be warmly welcomed by academics in the fields of economics political science and sociology working on free trade and fair trade International non government organisations such as Oxfam and international fair trade networks will find this book invaluable Government officials particularly in the EU Commission and parliamentarians working on fair trade and or trade and development policy and analysis will also find this book of particular interest

The Clash of Capitalisms? Ji Li, 2018-05-24 Chinese foreign direct investment in the United States has generated intense debates Some welcome it for the immediate benefits such as job creation others view Chinese investments especially those controlled by the Chinese government as a critical threat The debates have so far missed an important question how do Chinese companies investing in the US react to the host country's law Ji Li formulates a novel analytical framework to examine the adaptation of Chinese companies to general US institutions and their compliance with US laws governing tax employment equality and national security review of foreign investments The level of compliance varies and this variation is examined in relation to company ownership including state ownership Li's analysis is based on interviews and a unique and comprehensive dataset about Chinese companies in the United States that has never been systematically explored
