The Fire Stays In Red Poems:

The Fire Stays in Red Ronny Someck, 2002 My mother dreams in Arabic I dream in Hebrew Ronny Someck has written Born in Iraq and arriving in Israel as a young child Someck's Sephardi roots still run deep His poems are hot erotic comic tragic agape at the wonders of a tear and a tattoo and a snapshot and a bra and a scarecrow To read his poetry is to ride a runaway horse Where else can you find Tarzan Marilyn Monroe and cowboys battling with Rabbi Yehuda Halevi for the hearts and souls of Israelis Book jacket International Who's Who in Poetry 2005 Europa Publications, 2004-08-02 The 13th edition of the International Who's Who in Poetry is a unique and comprehensive guide to the leading lights and freshest talent in poetry today Containing biographies of more than 4 000 contemporary poets world wide this essential reference work provides truly international coverage In addition to the well known poets talented up and coming writers are also profiled Contents Each entry provides full career history and publication details An international appendices section lists prizes and past prize winners organizations magazines and publishers A summary of poetic forms and rhyme schemes The career profile section is supplemented by lists of Poets Laureate Oxford University professors of poetry poet winners of the Nobel Prize for Literature winners of the Pulitzer Prize for American Poetry and of the King's Queen's Gold medal and other poetry prizes Literature of the Holocaust Alan Rosen, 2013-11-14 During and in the aftermath of the dark period of the Holocaust writers across Europe and America sought to express their feelings and experiences through their writings This book provides a comprehensive account of these writings through essays from expert scholars covering a wide geographic linguistic thematic and generic range of materials Such an overview is particularly appropriate at a time when the corpus of Holocaust literature has grown to immense proportions and when guidance is needed in determining a canon of essential readings a context to interpret them and a paradigm for the evolution of writing on the Holocaust The expert contributors to this volume who negotiate the literature in the original languages provide insight into the influence of national traditions and the importance of language especially but not exclusively Yiddish and Hebrew to the literary response arising from the Holocaust Red-letter Poems by English Men and Women Thomas Young Crowell, 1885 The Barbara Goldberg, 2008-02-19 Winner of the 2008 Felix Pollak Prize in Poetry selected by David St John These poems at once elegant and earthy reveal the inner workings of the human psyche and show us that sometimes the best defense against terror is making mischief The Royal Baker's Daughter was raised on a diet of stone soup and the occasional leftover royal treat This leaves her with an appetite for authenticity With nothing but her two deft hands to guide her she embarks on a journey into the dark forest where sticks and stones and absolutes reign and nothing even sin is original Best Fall book from the Montserrat Review Global Perspectives on Tarzan Annette Wannamaker, Michelle Ann Abate, 2012 This collection seeks to understand the long lasting and global appeal of Tarzan Why is a story about a feral boy who is raised by apes in the African jungle so compelling and so adaptable to different cultural contexts and audiences How is it that the same narrative serves as the basis for both children's cartoons and lavish musical productions or as a vehicle for both nationalistic discourse and for light romantic fantasy. Considering a history of criticism that highlights the imperialistic sexist racist underpinnings of the original Tarzan narrative, why would this character and story appeal to so many readers and viewers around the world? The essays in this volume, written by scholars living and working in Australia, Canada, Israel, The Netherlands, Germany, France, and the United States, explore these questions using various critical lenses. Chapters include discussions of Tarzan novels, comics, television shows, toys, films, and performances produced or distributed in the U.S., Canada, Israel, Palestine, Britain, India, The Netherlands, Germany, and France, and consider such topics as imperialism, national identities, language acquisition, adaptation, gender constructions, Tarzan's influence on child readers, and Tarzan's continued and broad influence on cultures around the world. What emerges when these pieces are placed into dialogue with one another is an immensely complex picture of an enduring, multi-faceted global pop culture icon.

Life in Citations Ruth Tsoffar, 2019-09-26. In her latest book Life in Citations: Biblical Narratives and Contemporary Hebrew Culture, Ruth Tsoffar studies several key biblical narratives that figure prominently in Israeli culture. Life in Citations provides a close reading of these narratives along with works by contemporary Hebrew Israeli artists that respond to them. Together they read as a modern commentary on life with text or even life under the rule of its verses to answer questions like: How can we explain the fascination and intense identification of Israelis with the Bible? What does it mean to live in such close proximity with the Bible? and What kind of story can such a life tell?

Poetry, 1914. A life-drama, City poems, etc. With a prefatory note by R.E.D. Sketchley. Alexander Smith, 1901.

MultiCultural Review, 2003. New Interpretations of American Literature Richard Fleming, Michael Payne, 1988. Each essay in this collection focuses on an individual classical American author: Thoreau, Hawthorne, Melville, Moore, and Stevens, and the author's primary works. Traditional interpretations are reassessed based on close study of source texts and criticism.

Multiculturalism in Israel Adia Mendelson-Maoz, 2015-03-15. By analyzing its position within the struggles for recognition and reception of different national and ethnic cultural groups this book offers a bold new picture of Israeli literature Through comparative discussion of the literatures of Palestinian citizens of Israel of Mizrahim of migrants from the former Soviet Union and of Ethiopian Israelis the author demonstrates an unexpected richness and diversity in the Israeli literary scene a reality very different from the monocultural image that Zionism aspired to create Drawing on a wide body of social and literary theory Mendelson Maoz compares and contrasts the literatures of the four communities she profiles In her discussion of the literature of the Palestinian citizens of Israel she presents the question of language and translation and she provides three case studies of particular authors and their reception Her study of Mizrahi literature adopts a chronological approach starting in the 1950s and proceeding toward contemporary Mizrahi writing while discussing questions of authenticity and self determination The discussion of Israeli literature written by immigrants from the former Soviet Union focuses both on authors who write Israeli literature in Russian and of Russian immigrants writing in Hebrew The final section of the book provides a valuable new discussion of the work of Ethiopian Israeli writers a group whose contributions have seldom been previously acknowledged The picture that emerges from this groundbreaking book replaces the traditional homogeneous historical narrative of Israeli literature with a diversity of voices a multiplicity of origins and a wide range of different perspectives In doing so it will provoke researchers in a wide range of cultural fields to look at the rich traditions that underlie it in new and fresh ways

Martin Orzeck, Robert Weisbuch, 1996 An obsessively private writer Emily Dickinson almost never submitted poems for publication which she deemed the Auction Of the Mind Yet over a century of criticism has established what readers of various sensibilities describe as a shockingly intimate relation between text and audience making the question of whom the poems address a crucial element in interpreting them This volume of essays is the first book exclusively focused on Dickinson s relation to audience from the relatively few persons who received many of the poems to that vast unseen yet somehow specific other that any literary work addresses Dickinson s writings were influenced by her ambivalent attitude toward the conventions of the nineteenth century literary marketplace and her desire to shape more intimate relations with chosen contemporaries Still her poems and letters engage modern readers and speak to the social and gendered politics of our own day The essays in Dickinson and Audience treat both the importance of Dickinson s personal friendships and the ways in which contemporary poetics continue to sustain the vitality of her writings With contributions from Willis J Buckingham Karen Dandurand Betsy Erkkila Virginia Jackson Charlotte Nekola Martin Orzeck David Porter Robert Regan Richard B Sewall R McClure Smith Stephanie A Tingley and Robert Weisbuch the collection boasts a wide variety of critical approaches to the poet and her works from traditional biographical and historical analyses to deconstructionist feminist and reader response interpretations It will interest not only scholars in these areas but also anyone who wants to gain insight into Dickinson s creative genius
