The Foreign Policy of Iran Rouhollah K. Ramazani, 1966 The Foreign Policy of Iran, 1500-1941 Rouhollah K. Ramazani, 1966 Iran's Foreign Policy in the Post-Soviet Era Shireen T. Hunter, 2010-05-20 A comprehensive exploration of postrevolution Iranian foreign policy analyzes the country's relations with key nations and regions and the impact of both Iran's domestic situation and the developing global system Iran's Foreign Policy in the Post Soviet Era Resisting the New International Order provides the first truly comprehensive in depth survey of Iranian foreign policy issue by issue and country by country since the Islamic Revolution To help readers understand both the what and the why of Iran's role in the world and formulate useful responses to that role the author provides a detailed analysis of Iranian foreign policy in all its dimensions The first part of the book places Iranian actions particularly its relations with the United States and other key players within the context of the emerging international system while also showing how domestic developments impact foreign policy The second part surveys Iranian relations with specific actors notably the United States and Russia and with key regions including Europe Central Asia the Arab world Latin America and Africa Providing an antidote to existing preconceptions this incisive analysis lays an analytically sound basis for shaping policies toward Iran policies with potentially high payoff in terms of regional security and stability Diplomatic Strategies of Rising Nations in the Global South Jacqueline Anne Braveboy-Wagner, 2024-07-12 At a time of change in the international system this book examines how non traditional leading nations from the Global South have fared to date and what the chances are of their rise to continue In the second decade of the twenty first century the enthusiasm of observers of the international scene about the rise of the rest is waning as many countries that were expected to lead the evolving multipolar order are experiencing economic contraction and governance problems In order to predict further developments the contributors to this volume focus on the types and sources of the diplomatic strategies that must be executed by rising states if they are to preserve domestic advances as well as gain influence regionally and internationally Through a comprehensive examination of case studies from Latin America Africa Asia and the Middle East they show that while there are commonalities among these rising states unique domestic conditions values and traditions impact and predict diplomatic strategizing and the ability for sustained projection on the international scene Decoding Iran's Foreign Policy Ross Harrison, 2025-06-05 Since the 1979 revolution Iranian leaders have persisted in advancing a foreign policy aimed at achieving regional prominence and in particular rebuffing U S efforts to limit Iran's influence But how are foreign policy decisions made in light of the country's tumultuous history How do the challenges posed by regional and global actors impact Iranian decision making And how can we expect Iran to behave in the future This book uses a strategic lens to explain how Iran conducts its current foreign policy and to unpack the dilemmas and strategic quandaries facing the Islamic Republic today Ross Harrison argues that to understand Iranian behavior it is essential to look at it from the perspective of Iran's strategic interests namely its capabilities how Iran interprets the region

the international community and itself and the state's conception of time and territory in its foreign policy calculations Iranian foreign policy in searching for a winning strategy for power and influence is revealed to evince ideological strains but also realpolitik considerations based on current interpretations of the national interest These different strains in Iran's foreign policy represent the complexity of the challenges and opportunities the state faces They also help us to understand the present and future of Iranian foreign policy behavior

Iranian Foreign Policy Since 2001 Thomas Juneau, Sam Razavi, 2013-07-24 Examining Iranian foreign policy with a focus on the years since 2001 this book analyses the defining feature of Iran's international and regional posture its strategic loneliness and the implications of this for the Islamic Republic's foreign policy Iranian Foreign Policy since 2001 offers an in depth analysis of the key drivers behind Iran's foreign policy power strategic culture and ideology In addition the authors examine Iran's relations with key countries and regions including its often tenuous relations with China Russia and America as well as its bilateral relations with non state actors such as Hezbollah The common thread running throughout the volume is that Iran is alone in the world regardless of its political manoeuvrings the Islamic Republic's regional and international posture is largely one of strategic loneliness Assimilating contributions from the US Canada Europe and Iran this book provides an international perspective both at the theoretical and practical levels and is essential reading for those with an interest in Middle Eastern Politics International Relations and Political Science more broadly

A History of the Modern Middle East William L. Cleveland, Martin Bunton, 2024-07-29 A History of the Modern Middle East examines the profound and often dramatic transformations of the region in the past two centuries from the Ottoman and Egyptian reforms through the challenge of Western imperialism to the impact of US foreign policies Built around a framework of political history while also carefully integrating social cultural and economic developments this expertly crafted account provides readers with the most comprehensive balanced and penetrating analysis of the modern Middle East The seventh edition has been substantially revised to reflect the significance of the 2011 Arab Uprisings as a major turning point in the modern history of the region A new chapter considers how regional powers especially in the Gulf are now asserting themselves more forcefully seeking to push their own interests while Russia and China contest America's position Including an annotated and updated bibliography that offers guidance to readers seeking more in depth information and incorporating an online companion website featuring quizzes timelines and instructor resources A History of the Modern Middle East remains the quintessential text for courses on Middle Eastern history

Comparative Grand Strategy Thierry Balzacq, Peter Dombrowski, Simon Reich, 2019-05-28 This book develops a new approach in explaining how a nation's Grand Strategy is constituted how to assess its merits and how grand strategies may be comparatively evaluated within a broader framework The volume responds to three key problems common to both academia and policymaking First the literature on the concept of grand strategy generally focuses on the United States offering no framework for comparative analysis Indeed many proponents of US grand strategy suggest that the concept can only be applied at most to a very few great powers such as China and Russia Second characteristically it remains prescriptive rather than explanatory ignoring the central conundrum of why differing countries respond in contrasting ways to similar pressures Third it often understates the significance of domestic politics and policymaking in the formulation of grand strategies emphasizing mainly systemic pressures This book addresses these problems It seeks to analyze and explain grand strategies through the intersection of domestic and international politics in ten countries grouped distinctively as great powers The G5 regional powers Brazil and India and pivotal powers hostile to each other who are able to destabilize the global system Iran Israel and Saudi Arabia The book thus employs a comparative framework that describes and explains why and how domestic actors and mechanisms coupled with external pressures create specific national strategies Overall the book aims to fashion a valid cross contextual framework for an emerging research program on grand strategic analysis

Arab-Iranian Relations Shireen T. Hunter, 2019-04-22 This textbook helps students and readers navigate the various factors ranging from the legacy of the past ethnic sectarian differences and cultural rivalry to the impact of colonial rule modernization and state building plus the evolving nature of the international political system and great power policies in shaping Arab Iranian relations in the last seven decades The first part of this book looks into factors such as history ethnic sectarian and cultural issues that have shaped Iran's relations with Arab states It explores the impact of the process of modernization and state building in the Arab world on these relations plus the legacy of colonialism and the shifting dynamics of international politics and the evolution key global players policies towards Iran and the Arab states The second part examines case studies in the evolution of Iran's relations with several key Arab states including Egypt Syria and Lebanon Iraq Saudi Arabia and the smaller Persian Gulf Arab states By highlighting the complex set of factors and their interactions that have shaped Arab Iranian relations the book hopes to be a corrective to the simplistic and reductionist interpretations of these relations This approach shows how a variety of factors and their interactions have shaped these relations sometimes they have exacerbated the conflictual aspects of these relations and at other times have fostered accommodation and even cooperation

Anglo-Iranian Relations During World War I William J. Olson, 2013-12-19 A study of Anglo Iranian relations during World War I This book analyzes such diplomacy as an example of great power politics in regional affairs examining Britain's concern to maintain stability in Iran and exclude foreign interests from the Persian Gulf and the approaches to India

Arab-Iranian Rivalry in the Persian Gulf Farzad Sharifi-Yazdi, 2015-06-29 Iranian ambitions in the Persian Gulf and rivalries with Arab neighbours are subject to intense and heated speculation controversy and debate Here Farzad Cyrus Sharifi scrutinises the rival Arab Iranian claims to Bahrain the Shatt al Arab waterway and the Abu Musa and Tunbs islands in the years after World War II and before the Iranian revolution Through investigation of previously unexamined primary materials and interviews with leading players this book sheds new light on the evolution and dynamics of hegemonic and nationalistic Arab Iranian rivalries and how these rivalries began to find symbolic expression through territorial disputes Sharifi illustrates that these ongoing disputes and the deep seated tensions still prevalent in Arab Iranian relations are largely rooted in how they were constructed in the post World War II period making this book vital reading for researchers of the politics history international relations and diplomacy of the Middle East

The Clouded Lens: Persian Gulf Security and U.S. Policy James H. State, Religion, and Revolution in Iran, 1796 to the Present B. Moazami, 2013-11-07 Two basic assumptions have shaped understanding of recent Iranian history One is that Shi'ism is an integral part of Iran's religious and cultural landscape The other is that the ulama religious scholars have always played a crucial role This book challenges these assumptions and constructs a new synthesis of the history of state and religion in Iran from 1796 to the present while challenging existing theories of large scale political transformation Arguing that the 1979 revolution has not ended Behrooz Moazami relates political and religious transformations in Iran to the larger instability of the Middle East region and concludes that turmoil will continue until a new regional configuration evolves

New Perspectives on Safavid Iran Colin P. Mitchell, 2011-03-03 Dedicated to the renowned Safavid historian Roger Savory this book brings together a collection of studies on the Safavid state of Iran 1501-1722 from the perspectives of political, social, literary and artistic history. Savory, a doyen of Safavid studies in the 1960s and 1970s, was responsible for expanding and popularizing the study of Iran in the 16th and 17th century. To celebrate this legacy, well-established scholars of medieval and early modern Iran have contributed specific studies reflecting an array of research interests and specializations which include critical re-examinations of issues of gender, literature, art and architecture, cultural and linguistic currents, illustrated historical chronicles and courtly and administrative practices under the Safavid dynasty. This unique compilation is indicative of a growing interest in Iran and Iranian studies in both the academic and public spheres and as such contains a number of new perspectives which will serve to supplement and re-interpret the existing corpus of Safavid scholarly literature to date. It will be an important text for scholars of world history and Middle East studies as well as to historians in general.

Iran in an Emerging New World Order Ali Fathollah-Nejad, 2021-05-22. This book critically develops and discusses Iran's geopolitical imaginations and explores its various foreign policy schools of thought and their controversies. In doing so, the book covers Iran's foreign policy and international relations from 9/11 all the way to Rouhani's rise in late 2014. Accounting for both domestic and the international balance of power, the book theorizes the post-unipolar world order of the 2000s, dubbed imperial inter-polarity, examines Iran's relations with non-Western great powers in that era and offers a critique of the Rouhani doctrine and its economic and foreign policy visions. Forged in the fires and intense deliberations of a PhD undertaken at a most unique institution of higher learning in the world, Ali Fathollah Nejad has produced one of the most informative and evocative studies of Iran's foreign policy and international relations to date. Framed in a highly original theoretical approach, Ali's nuanced analysis, drawing on a lorry load of primary and secondary sources, details the process and context of policy in the Islamic Republic, thus producing an unrivalled and lasting account of modern Iran's worldview and the behaviour of this revolutionary state in a fast-changing world.

Anoush Ehteshami, Professor of International Relations, author of the forthcoming The 100 Years War for Control of the Middle East (Princeton University Press, 2021). Ali Fathollah Nejad has established himself as one of the most insightful observers of Iranian politics. Providing the analytical background to his assessments of Tehran's foreign policy in the 21st century, this book comes out opportunely at a time when a new U.S. administration is about to re-engage with Iran.

Gilbert Achcar, Professor of Development Studies and International Relations, SOAS School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London. A decisive contribution to two avant-gardist fields of knowledge: Critical geopolitics and Iranian foreign relations. Anyone interested in cutting-edge research that brings together International Relations and Iranian Studies will revel in this important book.

Arshin Adib Moghaddam, Professor in Global Thought and Comparative Philosophies, Department of Politics and International Studies, Senior Fellow on Iran Policy, Chicago Council on Global Affairs. How it represents itself and is represented by others, its myriad political and religious cultures and how these shape the state and its international relations and locating those within a constantly changing global environment. Fathollah Nejad provides us with unique and alternative assessments of how Iran's foreign policy is shaped within the context of what he calls Imperial Interpolarity. The creative interplay of these various factors makes this an indispensable text for anyone wishing to understand Iran and its international relations within the current global political environment. Na'eem Jeenah, Executive Director, Afro Middle East Centre, AMEC, Johannesburg, an eye opener for those who essentialize the role of Iran in contemporary International Relations. This landmark study covers the complexity of Iran's cultural geopolitics and the diversity of its interlocutors in 21st century world politics. The book is useful for delving into the internal dynamics of Iranian politics and its connection with the spheres of power in international relations. It is a very methodical book. Theoretically flawless. A deep brilliant and enlightening academic text. Mois's Garduño Garcia, Professor in the Center for International Relations, National Autonomous University of Mexico, UNAM. In this book, Ali Fathollah Nejad goes beyond the usual one-dimensional view that dominates the study of Iran's foreign policy and presents a comprehensive framework explaining the interrelated role of socio-cultural, economic and geopolitical elements in shaping the Islamic Republic's foreign policy orientation. The book also focuses on a crucial period involving two critical transitions: a systemic transition from the unipolar to the post-unipolar world order and a domestic one from a hardline to a more moderate worldview. All this makes the book a valuable contribution to the field. Hamidreza Azizi, Alexander von Humboldt Fellow, Middle East and Africa Research Division, German Institute for International and Security Affairs, SWP, former Assistant Professor of Regional Studies, Shahid Beheshti University, Tehran. 2016. 20. Iran in an Emerging New World Order provides a timely and original account of foreign policy making in the Islamic Republic of Iran, especially the turbulent first decade of the new millennium. Kamran Matin, Senior Lecturer in International Relations, Sussex University, Associate Research Fellow, Swedish Institute of International Affairs, UI. Ali Fathollah Nejad's Iran in an Emerging New World Order builds on a reliable scientific approach and an informed overview of Iranian foreign policy. It identifies and examines the different factors which orientate it, such as its various schools of thought and their debates, the role of the interplay between structure and culture and the one between internal and external realms. Furthermore, it casts light on the evolution of Tehran's choices, including its look to the East. In this new book, Fathollah Nejad has provided a challenging study which demonstrates the need to go beyond conventional framings to include political culture and provides a new evaluation of Iran's international relations. This is an original and significant contribution to the literature on international relations, the workings of the Islamic Republic and the understanding of the latter's regional and global actions. Firouzeh Nahavandi, Professor of Sociology of Development and Political Science, Director, Institute of Sociology, Director, CECID, Center for International Cooperation and Development Studies, Université libre de Bruxelles, ULB, as well as President, Graduate School of Development Studies of French Community of Belgium. Through its careful analysis of a modern political culture in Iran, gestated in the context of an encounter with European colonial modernity and evolved in correspondence with a catalogue of internal and external others, Ali Fathollah Nejad's timely book places contemporary geopolitical concerns against a much needed backdrop of colonial and anti colonial histories Siavash Saffari Associate Professor of West Asian Studies Department of Asian Languages and Civilizations Seoul National University
