women translators of the time and the relationship between translation and the original works of early twentieth century Korean women writers The book opens with an outline of the Chos ŏn period 1392 1910 when a vernacular writing system was invented making it possible to translate texts into Korean in particular Chinese writings reinforcing official ideals of feminine behavior aimed at women The legends of European heroines and foreign literary works such as those by Ibsen translated at the beginning of the twentieth century helped spur the creation of the New Woman Sin Y ŏng ideal for educated women of the 1920s and 1930s The role of women translators is explored as well as the scope of their work and the constraints they faced as translators Finally the author relates the writing of Kim My ŏng Sun Pak Hwa S ŏng and Mo Yun Suk to new trends imported into Korea through translation She argues that these women deserve recognition for not only their creation of new forms of writing but also their contributions to Korea ņs emerging sense of herself as a modern and independent nation
