Battisti, William Berz, 2014-11-01 Meredith Music Resource This sourcebook was created to aid directors and teachers in finding the information they need and expand their general knowledge The resources were selected from hundreds of published and on line sources found in journals magazines music company catalogs and publications numerous websites doctoral dissertations graduate theses encyclopedias various databases and a great many books Information was also solicited from outstanding college university school wind band directors and instrumental teachers The information is arranged in four sections Section 1 General Resources About Music Section 2 Specific Resources Section 3 Use of Literature Section 4 Library Staffing and Management Music Library and Research Skills Jane Gottlieb, 2017 Concise and engaging this text covers a wide range of reference sources for research in all genres of music Through this practical introduction to the key concepts of music research students will develop a firm understanding of the tools used to gather data including what types of sources exist how they are arranged and how they may best be used to do research Chamber Music John H Baron, 2010-06-10 Chamber Music A Research and Information Guide is a reference tool for anyone interested in chamber music It is not a history or an encyclopedia but a quide to where to find answers to questions about chamber music The third edition adds nearly 600 new entries to cover new research since publication of the previous edition in 2002 Most of the literature is books articles in journals and magazines dissertations and theses and essays or chapters in Festschriften treatises and biographies In addition to the core literature obscure citations are also included when they are the only studies in a particular field In addition to being printed this volume is also for the first time available online The online environment allows for information to be updated as new research is introduced This database of information is a live resource fully searchable and with active links Users will have unlimited access annual revisions will be made and a limited number of pages can be downloaded for printing Sociology for Music Teachers Richard Colwell, Hildegard Froehlich, 2015-07-02 For upper level undergraduate and introductory graduate and doctoral courses in music education Outlining the basic aspects constructs and concepts relevant to understanding music teaching and learning from a sociological perspective this volume introduces students to the discipline as a tool in understanding their own work The text shows how certain academics in music sociology and education have thought about the relationship of music to education schooling and society and examines the consequences of such thinking for making instructional choices in teaching methods and repertoire selection School music teaching is imbedded in two major societal traditions 1 the tradition of music making listening and responding and 2 the tradition of education as a societal mandate The first tradition holds firmly to music artistry and musicological scholarship the latter of which includes music sociology. The second tradition that of education as a field of study relies mostly on pedagogical principles rooted equally in psychology and sociology Hildegard Froehlich bases the book upon the premise that a music teacher s work is equally shaped by both traditions The more music teachers become aware of how societal structures shape their own lives as well as the lives of their students colleagues and superiors the more reality based their teaching will become Society is a composite of communities in which different social classes groups and reference groups co exist to varying degrees of compatibility due to real or perceived differences in norms and values as well as hierarchies of power Informed or intuitive choices made by an individual indicate allegiances to particular groups how those groups are structured hierarchically and where and how each individual fits into those hierarchies This is true for the music world as it is true for the world of education
