The High Ministry Of Government:

The Search for New Governance of Higher Education in Asia K. Mok, 2010-08-16 The present volume sets out in the wider context of globalization to critically examine how selected countries societies in Asia have responded to the growing pressures of globalization for improving university performance in the global market place In order to enhance the global competitiveness of their higher education systems many governments in Asia have started comprehensive reforms and adopted new governance measures to enhance their universities Incorporation and corporatization have been identified as important strategies to restructure and re engineer university governance around the world Contributors in this volume critically examine how the quest for world class university status as a global movement has affected the way their universities are governed Despite the popularity of management reforms and restructuring exercises in line with neoliberalism and managerialism worldwide whether and how these reforms have actually transformed the heart of the public sector is still subject to debate This book offers critical reflections on the governance change taking place in the Asian university systems and examines how far the restructuring of higher education governance through incorporation privatization and corporatization has really transformed the values and practices of those who work in the higher education sector

The New Grammar of Higher Education Saranya Antony A, 2025-11-07 This book delves into the intricate layers of neoliberalization and its challenges which obstruct accessible and equitable education in Indian public universities Through a scholarly lens this work meticulously examines the persistent hurdles that have marred higher education in India spanning ancient times to the present neoliberal era It probes into the neoliberalization of public universities within the broader spectrum of the Indian higher education landscape encompassing fund cuts fee hikes seat reductions and the emergence of private universities Central to the narrative is the assertion that Indian public universities have historically struggled to uphold inclusivity across various social dimensions including caste class regional diversity gender and disability It sheds light on the enduring challenges faced by aspiring students in India particularly in the contemporary context Further this study emphasizes the critical role of universities and policymakers in fostering an environment in which students from all backgrounds will be able to access and thrive in higher education The volume will serve as a valuable resource for academics researchers educators and policymakers in higher education Additionally it will be an essential companion for those studying education public policy administration political science and sociology both in India and globally

Maritime Security and Indonesia Senia Febrica, 2017-03-27 Indonesia is the largest archipelago state in the world comprising 17 480 islands with a maritime territory measuring close to 6 million square kilometres It is located between the two key shipping routes of the Pacific and Indian Ocean Indonesia s cooperation in maritime security initiatives is vitally important because half of the world s trading goods and oil pass through Indonesian waters including the Straits of Malacca the Strait of Sunda and the Strait of Lombok This book analyses Indonesia s participation in international maritime security cooperation Using Indonesia as a case study the book adopts mixed methods to assess emerging power cooperation and non cooperation drawing from various International Relations theories and the bureaucratic politics approach It addresses not only the topic of Indonesia s cooperation but also engages in debates across the International Relations political science and policy studies disciplines regarding state cooperation Based on extensive primary Indonesian language sources and original interviews the author offers a conceptual discussion on the reasons underlying emerging middle power participation or non participation in cooperation agreements The analysis offers a fresh perspective on the growing problems of maritime terrorism and sea robbery and how an emerging power deals with these threats at unilateral bilateral regional and multilateral levels The book fills a significant gap in literature on Indonesian foreign policy making in the post 1998 era It provides the first in depth study of Indonesia s decision making process in the area of maritime security and will thus be of interest to researchers in the field of comparative politics international relations security policy maritime cooperation port and shipping businesses and Southeast Asian politics and society

Democracy and Governance in Higher Education Guy Neave, Jan de Groof, Anna-Lena Svensson-McCarthy, 2023-09-20 Since the early Eighties a number of themes have dominated the landscape of higher education among them budget cuts rationalisation in provision accountability and quality control closer links between higher education and the region and a greater alertness to changes in economic and social policy At the institutional level the drive towards a greater degree of latitude and autonomy has found a ready echo among universities and other establishments of higher education And this in its turn has posed major questions about the range of responsibilities central government and administration ought to retain or to delegate Here is an in depth treatment of the important legal issues emerging from these developments
