The Camera Assistant's Manual David E. Elkins, SOC, 2020-03-12

Excel as a Cameraman in today's evolving film industry with this updated classic. Learn what to do and what NOT to do during production and get the job done right the first time. This seventh edition covers the basics of cinematography and provides you with the multi-skill set needed to maintain and transport a camera, troubleshoot common problems on location, prepare for job interviews and work with both film and digital technologies. Illustrations, checklists, and tables accompany each chapter and highlight the daily workflow of an Assistant Cameraman (AC) with expanded sections on problems and troubleshooting, updated formulas, tables, and checklists, as well as new information on the differences between working in the United States and UK and additional information on working with digital technology. This is a must-have for anyone looking to succeed in this highly technical and ever-changing profession. This book features a comprehensive companion web site that offers plenty of useful resources, including online tutorials that ACs can easily access while on location and supplementary downloadable forms and checklists.

The Camera Assistant's Manual David E. Elkins, 2005. This is a guide to all aspects of the role of the camera assistant. The number of potential problems the camera assistant can expect to face has been increased in the book to aid problem-solving skills.

Basic Lighting Worktext for Film and Video Richard

Ferncase, 1992-04-22. Basic Lighting Worktext for Film and Video guides the film and video student through a series of readings, exercises, and projects designed to provide the fundamentals of light science. In addition to up-to-date descriptions of equipment and tips on how to use it properly, the book provides numerous set-ups that illustrate the techniques and thoughts behind proper studio and location lighting. From this book, you will learn: The fundamentals of light and electricity in film; The fine distinction of lighting for video versus lighting for film; How to identify and filter sources such as daylight, tungsten, fluorescent, arc, HNI, and industrial discharge lamps; The use of lensed and open-faced lighting fixtures; How to modify with barn doors, scrims, snoots, nets, cookies, and other accessories; Variations on the basic three-point lighting setup; The duties of each member of a lighting unit; How to light night exteriors, day interiors, and campfires; High key, low key, and modulated value lighting; How to scout locations, plan lighting plots, and pre-rig sets.

Film and Female Consciousness L.

Bolton, 2011-07-28. Film and Female Consciousness analyses three contemporary films that offer complex and original representations of women's thoughtfulness and individuality: In the Cut (2003), Lost in Translation (2003), and Morvern Callar (2002). Lucy Bolton compares these recent works with well-known and influential films that offer more familiar treatments of female subjectivity: Kluge (1971), The Seven Year Itch (1955), and Marnie (1964). Considering each of the older celebrated films alongside the recent unconventional works illustrates how contemporary filmmaking techniques and critical practices can work together to create provocative depictions of on-screen female consciousness. Bolton's approach demonstrates how the encounter between the philosophy of Luce Irigaray and cinema can yield a fuller understanding of the fundamental relationship between film and philosophy Furthermore the book explores the implications of this approach for filmmakers and spectators and suggests Irigarayan models of authorship and spectatorship that reinvigorate the notion of women s cinema
