Small Talk Social Function A Special Issues Of Research On Language And Social Interaction 36:

Variational Pragmatics Klaus P. Schneider, Anne Barron, 2008-05-13 This collection of papers is designed to establish variational pragmatics. This new field is situated at the interface of pragmatics and dialectology and aims at systematically investigating the effect of macro social pragmatic variation on language in action. As such it challenges the widespread assumption in the area of pragmatics that language communities are homogeneous and also addresses the current research gap in sociolinguistics for variation on the pragmatic level. The introductory chapter establishes the rationale for studying variational pragmatics as a separate field of inquiry systematically sketches the broader theoretical framework and presents a framework for further analysis. The papers which follow are located within this framework. They present empirical variational pragmatic research focusing on regional varieties of pluricentric languages. Speech acts and other discourse phenomena are addressed and analysed in a number of regional varieties of Dutch, English, French, German and Spanish. The seminal nature of this volume, its empirical orientation and the extensive bibliography make this book of interest to both researchers and students in pragmatics and sociolinguistics.

Cognitive Sociolinguistics Martin Pütz, Justyna A. Robinson, Monika Reif, 2014-05-15 This volume is intended to be a contribution to the rapidly growing field of research into Cognitive Sociolinguistics which draws on the convergence of methods and theoretical frameworks typically associated with Cognitive Linguistics and Sociolinguistics. The papers in this volume written by internationally renowned scholars in the fields of sociolinguistics e.g. Labov and cognitive sociolinguistics seek to explore and systematize the key theoretical and epistemological bases for the emergence of this socio cognitive paradigm. More specifically the papers originally published in Review of Cognitive Linguistics 10.2.2012 focus on terms and concepts which are foundational to the discussion of Cognitive Sociolinguistics such as the role of cognition in the sociolinguistic enterprise, the social recontextualization of cognition, variability in cognitive systems, usage based conceptions of language, pragmatic variation and cultural models of thought, cultural conceptualizations and lexicography as well as cognitive processing models and perceptual dialectology. All the papers are anchored in instrumental empirical data analysis. The volume provides a welcome contribution to the field for anyone interested in Cognitive Linguistics and its new developments. The seven papers included in this book were originally presented at the 34th International LAUD Symposium on Cognitive Sociolinguistics which took place in March 2010 at the University of Koblenz Landau, Germany.

The Interactional Organization of Academic Talk Holger Limberg, 2010 This book provides interesting and critical insights into a common university practice: the academic office hour. Office hours are a discursive site for a variety of different issues ranging from administrative matters to course related and study related concerns. The study offers both an ethnographic account of this speech event within the socio cultural context of a German university as well as a more detailed analysis of the interactional organization of academic consultations. It draws on natural recordings of entire office hour interactions in order to show how participants' actions at different stages of the talk organize and accomplish the consultation The analytical focus is set on the sequential activities teachers and students engage in as they conduct a consultation This includes for instance how participants open an office hour talk how they establish an agenda how they manage advice giving and how they close the consultation As such this book will be of practical use to students and faculty members as well as scholars from different disciplines who work in the areas of institutional talk and talk in interaction
