Send a Ranger Tom Habecker, 2023-03-01 Send a Ranger is the true story of one man's dream to live and work as a ranger in our national parks Author Tom Habecker began his 32 year career with the National Park Service as a student intern at Gettysburg National Military Park while earning a degree in park administration at Penn State University

The book details Tom's progression from novice to journeyman park ranger working in Yosemite Glacier and Denali National Parks. The book is full of exciting adventures including search and rescue incidents, criminal investigations, grizzly bear maulings, backcountry horse patrols, darting and trapping problem bears, providing advanced emergency medical care, fire fighting, winter survival, flying in aircraft in mountainous terrain, living in the Alaska wilderness, and much more. These accounts are enhanced by verbatim entries from Tom's daily journals. Written in an informal and sometimes humorous style, the book details the evolution of training, technology, and skills that today's park rangers must have to perform their challenging job. The book also describes the challenges and rewards of living and raising children in national parks. Follow Tom's children as they grow up in places most people only dream about. You will learn what it's like living in a house that receives over 250" of snow annually, cutting six cords of wood for heat, residing in a remote one-room cabin, and driving 130 miles one way to town in the harsh Alaska winter. Living in a national park offers experiences like no other. Peek behind the scenes and experience the daily life of a national park ranger and his family.

Negotiating Among Multiple Worlds

Anne Haas Dyson, 1988 Multiple Worlds of Child Writers Anne Haas Dyson, 1989 Based on a two-year study of first graders at a magnet school in the San Francisco Bay Area, Multiple Worlds of Child Writers provides an important missing link in the study of emergent literacy: the peer group and the classroom contexts that surround it. Using four richly detailed case studies, the author portrays the process through which Margaret, the teacher, and her children form a community, one supported by and supporting of the children's growth as writers. Dyson offers new perspectives by displaying the quality of life in the classroom through children's talk, drawings, and writing. The theoretical framework presented here for understanding children's growth moves what is usually considered background to the foreground for study. Most works on children's writing stress that children must disembed or decontextualize their written texts from dependency on other symbolic media and other people. Dyson, however, shows that to develop as writers, children's text must become progressively more embedded in the social, affective, and intellectual parts of their lives. The book also emphasizes the nature of the classroom rather than the home as a distinctive context for early literacy growth. Moreover, the classroom is an urban one that includes children from diverse social and ethnic backgrounds. The classroom and children whose lives fill this book challenge current thinking about such critical issues as the developmental links between writing and other symbol systems, sequence and variability in early writing growth, the relationship between form and function in young children's writing, and the development of literary language. This book is a must for early childhood educators, reading and language arts specialists, and scholars/researchers in the field of literacy.
