The Social Construction of Virtue George W. Noblit, Van O. Dempsey, 1996-09-26 It s time to face an inevitable conclusion School reform does not reform schools That s because reform movements conceive of schools as being about transmitting knowledge Yet schools are not primarily about knowledge They are about the construction of meaning and morality in the lives of students and communities In this book the authors argue that to break this recycling of reform efforts we must understand how schools construct moral life The focus is on two elementary schools Rougemont an historically African American school that was closed during school desegregation in the 1970s and Cedar Grove an historically white school to which the former Rougemont students were sent Described are the histories of these schools the communities in which they are located and some of the people who influenced and were influenced by the schools From those contexts the authors then make explicit the virtues that these communities and schools constructed and valued and describe how those virtues came to influence lives The oral histories of the two schools and their communities provide the basis of a novel critique of the value conflict that has characterized educational reform in this country The social construction of virtue offers an alternative perspective on the moral purpose of schooling in America Pastoral Identity as Social Construction

Samuel Park,2017-09-15 How do chaplains and counselors form their identities as pastoral caregivers in challenging clinical contexts such as institutional interdisciplinary postmodern inter cultural and multi faith work environments This book is a product of the fifteen year long journey towards answering a well known but hardly answered question about pastoral identity Based on narratives of many pastoral practitioners who work in hospitals or counseling settings the author puzzles through ways for helping professionals to form their identities in bewildering work environments Previous studies on pastoral identity have focused on an individual interiority of pastoral practitioners and have emphasized mainly the caregivers perceptions and practices from a developmental and training perspective Grounded in an empirical study of active pastoral care providers this book presents pastoral identity as a relational and interactional property socially constructed among pastoral care partners culture and God Findings of the empirical study support contemporary theological and social psychological discourses identity is embedded in and embodied by relationships This book will guide you through confusions worries insights and woes you have experienced while helping others in order to envision yourself more clearly as a spiritually embodied and pastorally tending caregiver You will find yourself to be more who you are and engage more with others as they become who they are Media, Process, and the Social Construction of Crime

Gregg Barak,1994 First Published in 1995 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Catholic Faith and the Social Construction of Religion Peter Stuart,Allan M. Savage,2011-09-02 The intent behind this book is to provide grist for the mill for research students and other interested readers Chapter one by author Allan Savage presents an understanding of the social construction of religious activity which maintains that social construction of religion arises from a dialectical engagement within the world from a phenomenological philosophical point of view Co author Peter Stuart presents a classical and traditional point of view and readers expecting academic accord between the authors will be disappointed A further rationale for writing this book is that both Savage and Stuart desire to express their personal convictions in the public forum Both have interests in the ebb and flow of civilization especially as it pertains to the place of faith religion politics and a variety of social phenomena including economics culture gender ethnicity and the family as well as the ebb and flow of money power property and prestige as articulated throughout history They believe that writing about the place of faith and religion in French Canada is crucial if one is to understand the place that this keystone civilization occupies within confederation and its enduring ambivalence regarding its belonging or not to Canada

Social Construction of Reality as Communicative Action Antonio Sandu, 2016-05-11 The central focus of this volume is social constructionism in all its dimensions including its sociological ontological epistemological methodological ethical and pragmatic features It pays particularly close attention to the social construction of reality as a communicative action extending this area to include social pragmatics It also interprets social action as a discursive seductive strategy of exercising power in the public space utilising a constructionist understanding in which public space is represented by any part of the co construction of reality through social or communicative action In addition at the methodological level the book proposes a new semiotic strategy called fractal constructionism which analyses the interpretative drift of certain key concepts that are valued as social constructs
