The Funeral Kit Jill L Baker, 2016-06-03 Studies of mortuary archaeology tend to focus on difference how the researcher can identify age gender status and ethnicity from the contents of a burial Jill L Baker's innovative approach begins from the opposite point how can you recognize the commonalities of a culture from the funeral kit that occurs in all burials irrespective of status differences And what do those commonalities have to say about the world view and religious beliefs of that culture Baker begins with the Middle and Late Bronze Age tombs in the southern Levant then expands her scope in ever widening circles to create a general model of the funeral kit of use to archaeologists in a wide variety of cultures and settings The volume will be of equal value to specialists in Near Eastern archaeology and those who study mortuary remains in ancient cultures worldwide

Israel in Egypt James K. Hoffmeier, 1999-03-18 Scholars of the Hebrew Bible have in the last decade begun to question the historical accuracy of the Israelite sojourn in Egypt as described in the book of Exodus The reason for the rejection of the exodus tradition is said to be the lack of historical and archaeological evidence in Egypt Those advancing these claims however are not specialists in the study of Egyptian history culture and archaeology In this pioneering book James Hoffmeier examines the most current Egyptological evidence and argues that it supports the biblical record concerning Israel in Egypt Tales Things Tell Finbarr Barry Flood, Beate Fricke, 2023-11-21 How can we understand the past in the absence of written records Pre modern histories of cross cultural exchange pose a particular problem for medieval historians They are marked by the long distance mobility of concepts individuals and materials and many of them cannot be reconstructed from the standard source texts on which historians usually depend They exist without named makers both outside and beyond official documents and court chronicles The same is true of artisans responsible for crafting objects whose circulation and reception defined aesthetic economic and technological networks that may not have conformed to political or sectarian boundaries Authored by two leading medieval historians of the Middle East Africa and Europe Object Lessons addresses the gaps in medieval sources and modern scholarship arguing for the archival value of objects images and monuments Flood and Fricke examine six case studies that focus on the twelfth and thirteenth centuries From the stone carvings at the churches of Lalibela Ethiopia which have no textual documentation to medicinal bowls from Iraq for which some data can be gathered from unassociated but contemporary sources these studies show how imagery and objects traveled across continents The authors connect the histories of medieval Europe Africa and west Asia and raise significant questions about out of place objects and how in the absence of substantial archival material we might write their histories While there have been many publications on the histories of global circulation most of them focus on the early modern period in Europe By moving away from histories with abundant written archival material Object Lessons ventures far beyond the narratives of Europe and into complex cross cultural and intercontinental histories of objects and images The Idea of Writing Alexander J. de Voogt, Irving L. Finkel, 2010 This exploration of the versatility of writing systems highlights their complexity when they are used to represent loanwords solve problems of polysemy or when they are adapted to be used for another language The approaches from different academic traditions provide a varied but expert account The Architecture of Alexandria and Egypt, C. 300 B.C. to A.D. 700 Judith McKenzie, Rhys-Davids Junior Research Fellow in Archaeology Judith McKenzie, Peter Roger Stuart Moorey, 2007-01-01 This masterful history of the monumental architecture of Alexandria as well as of the rest of Egypt encompasses an entire millennium from the city's founding by Alexander the Great in 331 B C to the years just after the Islamic conquest of A D 642 Long considered lost beyond recall the architecture of ancient Alexandria has until now remained mysterious But here Judith McKenzie shows that it is indeed possible to reconstruct the city and many of its buildings by means of meticulous exploration of archaeological remains written sources and an array of other fragmentary evidence The book approaches its subject at the macro and the micro level from city planning building types and designs to architectural style It addresses the interaction between the imported Greek and native Egyptian traditions the relations between the architecture of Alexandria and the other cities and towns of Egypt as well as the wider Mediterranean world and Alexandria's previously unrecognized role as a major source of architectural innovation and artistic influence Lavishly illustrated with new plans of the city in the Ptolemaic Roman and Byzantine periods reconstruction drawings and photographs the book brings to life the ancient city and uncovers the true extent of its architectural legacy in the Mediterranean world Incantations and Anti-Witchcraft Texts from Ugarit Gregorio del Olmo Lete, 2014-07-28 Ugaritic literary and ritual studies have often neglected or even ignored the Akkadian material from the same archives which can be used as a frame of reference for the Ugaritic texts The aim of this work is to offer a comprehensive study of the consonantal Ugaritic as well as the syllabic Akkadian incantation and anti witchcraft texts from Ras Shamra as a unified corpus These texts dealing with impending dangers mainly snakebites and witchcraft attacks are placed in the context of Ancient Near Eastern magic literature A discussion of general topics including magic and religion the Ugaritic gods of magic and the definition of incantation is followed by a new collation and translation of the Akkadian texts as well as new photographic material for both series The main focus of this book is the close reading of the consonantal texts in the context of the much larger and better analyzed corpus of Akkadian magic literature Egyptian Iconography on Syro-Palestinian Cylinder Seals of the Middle Bronze Age Beatrice Teissier, 1996 Nature, 1923 Barrington Atlas of the Greek and Roman World Richard J.A.
