management of boundaries and ethics for coaches within the practice and safeguard clients It also describes how coaching within the grey space can have both preparatory and preventative effects with the potential for far reaching positive outcomes With extensive research enquiries and experiments and wide reaching case studies the book will equip a reader with a thorough understanding of an often complex and fast moving industry Promoting a much needed evidence based debate on the ethical boundaries of coaching and therapy this book will be an original and practical resource of interest for coaching practitioners both established and for those undergoing training in the field     Personal ~ Passionate ~ Participatory Ming Fang He, JoAnn Phillion, 2008-11-01 Scope of the Book Personal Passionate Participatory Inquiry into Social Justice in Education the first book in the series features 14 programs of social justice oriented research on life in schools families and communities This work done by a diverse group of practitioner researchers educators and scholars connects the personal with the political the theoretical with the practical and research with social and educational change These inquiries demonstrate three distinct qualities Each is personal compelled by values and experiences researchers bring to the work Each is passionate grounded in a commitment to social justice concerns of people and places under consideration Each is participatory built on long term heart felt engagement and shared efforts The principle aspect of the inquiries featured in the book series that distinguish it from others is that researchers are not detached observers nor putatively objective recorders but active participants in schools families and communities Researchers have explicit research agendas that focus on equity equality and social justice Rather than aiming solely at traditional educational research outcomes positive social and educational change is the focal outcome of inquiry The researchers are diverse and their inquiries are far ranging in terms of content people and geographic locations studied These studies reflect new and exciting ways of researching and representing experience of the disenfranchised underrepresented and invisible groups seldom discussed in the literature and challenge stereotypical or deficit oriented perspectives on these groups This book informs pre service and in service teachers educators educational researchers administrators and educational policy makers particularly those who advocate for people who are marginalized and those who are committed to the enactment of social justice and positive educational and social change     The Educator and The Ordinary Elizabeth O'Brien, 2023-08-14 This book creates a unique discursive environment to consider how initial teacher education can support student teachers in practical and personal senses in what they can do and who they are What is it to care To develop our voice To educate in beautifully risky ways Engaging with the philosophy of Stanley Cavell Gert Biesta and Nel Noddings central capabilities of the educator are suggested Acknowledgement Autobiography Imagination Interruption Attention and Uncertainty culminating in the essential unifying capability of The Ordinary underpinned by Complexity and Hope This book will appeal to those interested and engaged in initial teacher education professional development and support from early years to higher education and practicing educators It aims to enrich theoretical as well as practical discussion to influence how we live how we think and how we treat each other      Diversity and Education H. Richard Milner, 2009 Diversity and Education Teachers Teaching and Teacher Education exemplifies many of the major concepts and principles of multicultural education individually and collectively The goal of the book is to move beyond the surface to more deeply explore the intersections of diversity equity and education Theoretical empirical and practical discussion are included in the five sections of the book that offers a wide range of vantage points race ethnicity gender social class disciplines language and levels of schooling as well as curriculum assessment learning climate and context an      Self-Study and Diversity Deborah L. Tidwell, Linda Fitzgerald, 2006 Educators have a responsibility to address equity and access issues inherent in teaching To that end individual chapters address such areas of diversity as race ethnicity gender disability and power as well as broader areas of social justice multiculturalism and ways of knowing Education Teaching      The Experiences of Refugee Youth from Burma in an American High School Lisa Roof, Mary B. McVee, 2020-12-29 This timely volume uses critical ethnographic methods to trace the experiences and identities of refugee students from Burma as they move through their final year of schooling in an urban high school in the United States Against the backdrop of increasing tensions surrounding immigration and identity in America The Experiences of Refugee Youth from Burma in an American High School presents an analysis of the academic paths of adolescent immigrants and the challenges they face throughout their schooling Delving into the historical and socio political context of the school and surrounding landscape this volume offers an immersive insider perspective of the educational circumstances of SaySay Paw Htoo and Hlaing the three newcomer youths from Burma Through detailed ethnographic narratives readers are introduced to resilient adolescents who navigate their way through the maze of social expectations language learning demands and ethnic related tensions to rebuild their identities in the United States By highlighting the students stories and identities the book shows how racism is subtly woven into the fabric of education in the United States and how schools can provide more equitable schooling for newcomers from other nations This volume will benefit graduate students researchers academics and pre service teachers in the fields of English language learning refugee and immigrant education and the sociology of education Those with an interest in urban and multicultural education will also find this text useful      Literacy in Times of Crisis Laurie MacGillivray, 2009-12-04 On the frontline of critical issues in education today this volume covers new ground for teachers and teacher educators for whom crisis is a daily part of their work Exploring the relationship between crisis and literacy its aims are to improve educators ability to recognize cope with and avoid crisis and to advance their understanding of the dynamic relationship between crisis and cultural historical and political literacy practices      International Handbook of Self-Study of Teaching and Teacher Education Practices J. John Loughran, Mary Lynn Hamilton, Vicki Kubler LaBoskey, Tom L. Russell, 2007-07-03 The International Handbook on Self study of Teaching and Teacher Education Practices is of interest to teacher educators teacher researchers and practitioner researchers This volume offers an encyclopaedic review of the field of self study examines in detail self study in a range of teaching and teacher education contexts outlines a full understanding of the nature and development of self study explores the development of a professional knowledge base for teaching through self study purposefully represents self study through research and practice illustrates examples of self study in teaching and teacher education Curriculum Inquiry in South African Higher Education Eli Bitzer, Nonnie Botha, 2011-11-01 At once evocative and suggestive this exemplary book gives me hope that educators and scholars across the world will seize the opportunity to self reflect and enlarge and enrich both their research and their practice in ways that will markedly contribute to the revitalisation of the higher learning in the twenty first century The urgency of the need for revitalisation of both research and practice in this domain of inquiry cannot be overstated Prof Clifton Conrad University of Wisconsin Madison USA Dreams and Dreaming in the Roman Empire Juliette Harrisson, 2013-07-04 The history and literature of the Roman Empire is full of reports of dream prophecies dream ghosts and dream gods This volume offers a fresh approach to the study of ancient dreams by asking not what the ancients dreamed or how they experienced dreaming but why the Romans considered dreams to be important and worthy of recording Dream reports from historical and imaginative literature from the high point of the Roman Empire the first two centuries AD are analysed as objects of cultural memory records of events of cultural significance that contribute to the formation of a group s cultural identity The book also introduces the term cultural imagination as a tool for thinking about ancient myth and religion and avoiding the question of belief which arises mainly from creed based religions The book s conclusion compares dream reports in the Classical world with modern attitudes towards dreams and dreaming identifying distinctive features of both the world of the Romans and our own culture Best Practices in ELL Instruction Guofang Li, Patricia A. Edwards, 2011-03-18 In this indispensable work prominent authorities review the latest research on all aspects of ELL instruction K 12 and identify what works for today s students and schools Provided are best practice guidelines for targeting reading writing oral language vocabulary content domain literacies and other core skill areas assessing culturally and linguistically diverse students and building strong school home community partnerships Chapters include clear cut recommendations for teaching adolescent ELLs and those with learning disabilities The comprehensive scope explicit linkages from research to practice and guidance for becoming a culturally informed reflective practitioner make the book an ideal course text Inquiry as Stance Marilyn Cochran-Smith, Susan L. Lytle, 2015-04-25 In this long awaited sequel to Inside Outside Teacher Research and Knowledge two leaders in the field of practitioner research offer a radically different view of the relationship of knowledge and practice and of the role of practitioners in educational change In their new book the authors put forward the notion of inquiry as stance as a challenge to the current arrangements and outcomes of schools and other educational contexts They call for practitioner researchers in local settings across the United States and around the world to ally their work with others as part of larger social and intellectual movements for social change and social justice Part I is a set of five essays that conceptualize inquiry as a stance and as a transformative theory of action that repositions the collective intellectual capacity of practitioners Part II is a set of eight chapters written by eight differently positioned practitioners who are or were engaged in practitioner research in K 12 schools or teacher education Part III offers a unique format for exploring inquiry as stance in the next generation a readers theatre script that juxtaposes and co mingles 20 practitioners voices in a performance oriented format Together the three parts of the book point to rich possibilities for practitioner inquiry in the next generation Contributors Rebecca Akin Gerald Campano Delvin Dinkins Kelly A Harper Gillian Maimon Gary McPhail Swati Mehta Rob Simon and Diane Waff Cochran Smith and Lytle once again prove themselves to be among the best at melding theory and practice Instead of merely making the case for practitioner inquiry they go the next step to show us exactly what this genre brings to our field rigor relevance and passion The interplay of conceptual clarity and powerful exemplars make this a text we will read well into the next decade Gloria Ladson Billings University of Wisconsin Madison Once again Marilyn Cochran Smith and Susan Lytle point the way to new and hopeful understandings of practitioner research Rather than blame teachers for all that is wrong with education they and their fellow authors remind us that if school reform is to have any chance of fulfilling its stated goal of equal opportunity for all students teachers must have a significant voice in research policy and practice With its focus on social justice and its view of practitioner research as transformative this is a powerful and welcome sequel to their classic Inside Outside Sonia Nieto Professor Emerita University of Massachusetts Amherst Inquiry as Stance should be a blockbuster This brilliant sequel re calibrates relationships between practitioner inquiry and social justice Carole Edelsky Professor Emerita Arizona State University This optimistic and generous book is sure to become a central reference for teacher researchers in K 16 schools and their colleagues and supporters throughout the system Elyse Eidman Aadahl Director National Programs and Site Development National Writing Project University of California Berkeley This view of the intellectual and personal work of teaching is a major counter to the contemporary emphasis on testing and packaged curricula Cynthia Ballenger reading specialist Cambridge Public Schools Once again Cochran Smith Lytle and their colleagues bring us an invaluable book on the enormous possibilities of practitioner research Luis C Moll College of Education University of Arizona

Home-School Connections in a Multicultural Society Maria Luiza Dantas, Patrick C. Manyak, 2011-02-09 Educators everywhere confront critical issues related to families schooling and teaching in diverse settings Directly addressing this reality Home School Connections in a Multicultural Society shows pre service and practicing teachers how to recognize and build on the rich resources for enhancing school learning that exist within culturally and linguistically diverse families Combining engaging cases and relevant key concepts with thought provoking pedagogical features this valuable resource for educators at all levels Provides detailed portraits of diverse families that highlight their unique cultural practices related to schooling and the challenges that their children face in school settings Introduces key sociocultural and ethnographic concepts in ways that are both accessible and challenging and applies these concepts as lenses through which to examine the portraits Shows how teachers and researchers have worked with diverse families to build positive relationships and develop learning activities that incorporate children s unique experiences and resources Disrupting deficit assumptions about the experiences and knowledge that culturally and linguistically diverse children acquire in their homes and communities this book engages readers in grappling deeply and personally with the chapters meanings and implications and in envisioning their own practical ways to learn from and with families and children

Multicultural Families, Home Literacies, and Mainstream Schooling Guofang Li, 2009-02-01 Lack of knowledge about immigrant and minority students learning outside school has contributed to the difficulties educators encounter when trying to embrace cultural diversity Many educators do not have the knowledge base about immigrant and minority children s culturally specific ways of learning in nonschool settings Given the changing cultural landscapes in today s schools we have an imperative to develop more situated understandings of immigrant and minority children s literacy learning experiences embedded in the social and cultural fabrics of their everyday lives outside school This volume of research meets this important need in the field It not only focuses on the complexity of literacy learning in diverse home contexts but also examines how literacy is practiced and lived in multiple ways within families of various backgrounds including those of Asian African and African American Hispanic White European and mixed heritages In addition it explores how these various culturally embedded home practices will inform school education and policy making in a larger socio political context The book makes an original and significant contribution to the fields of literacy education and school home and community partnerships Since immigrant and minority families literacy activities and the cultural contexts of their practices at home are not readily accessible to school personnel program developers policy makers or even researchers and educators this book will serve as an important resource for teachers practitioners undergraduate and graduate students teacher educators and university researchers who are in the fields of literacy education family literacy and new literacy studies minority and or immigrant education and second language education
