Teaching About Hiv And Aids:

Humanizing Pedagogy Through HIV and AIDS Prevention American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, 2015-12-03 This book explores the power of educators to serve as HIV and AIDS prevention agents The definitive text represents the work of a distinguished panel of teacher educators and health scientists who identify core information and skills effective educators of HIV and AIDS prevention should learn as they are prepared to attend to the academic and human needs of students It assigns to teachers in the US and abroad the novel role of prevention agents given their extraordinary ability to access and affect young people to influence their behavior Humanizing Pedagogy considers the social economic racial gender and other variables that impact the prevention of HIV and AIDS The authors collectively assert that the process of preventing HIV and AIDS when it considers historic and social context can compel educators to serve not only as practitioners of knowledge but as community agents of health and well being Attending to HIV and AIDS issues advances the capacity and ability of educators to see and attend to the complete learner Humanizing Pedagogy is a single volume resource for educators in the US and abroad interested in attending to the whole needs of the learner and saving lives

Teaching AIDS Douglas Tonks, 2012-11-12 Teaching AIDS begins with a discussion of how teachers can create an environment of support for an AIDS education programme Recognizing that AIDS education must differ for students of different age groups the author presents tailored age appropriate content what and how teachers should communicate AIDS information to young children older children and teenage students Teaching AIDS also addresses actual methods teachers can use to influence their students attitudes and behaviour by helping them to recognize problem situations in which risks might arise and presenting them with the actual skills they need to protect themselves in such situations Teaching Children with AIDS Patricia Ainsa, 2000 This study examines changes in pre service teachers knowledge attitudes and educational intent to implement HIV AIDS class room curriculum and universal precautions after participating in HIV AIDS in service training Valuable pre service teacher training information was obtained as questionnaire responses were recorded prior to and as a result of an in service program for pre service student teachers at a U S Mexico border university HIV and AIDS in the Public Schools A. Odasuo Alali, 1995 Dealing with HIV and AIDS in the Classroom Lesley Wood, 2008 For teachers looking to lead the way in shifting attitudes about HIV and AIDS this helpful resource offers the information needed to effectively raise awareness in students Beginning with a general background of HIV and AIDS education the guide covers sociocultural factors actions to combat HIV and AIDS resilient coping strategies healthy school environments and more Emphasizing the creative use of limited resources this is an essential manual for teachers looking to easily and adequately expose their students to the pressing issues of HIV and AIDS Sexuality, Society & Pedagogy Dennis A. Francis, 2013-01-01 Sexuality Society and Pedagogy problematises some of the prevailing assumptions that frame this area of study In doing so it aims to make visible the challenges of teaching sexuality education in South African schools while demonstrating its potential for reshaping our conceptions of the social and cultural representations thereof Although the book is largely situated in experiences and perspectives within the South African context it is hoped that the questions raised reflections analyses and arguments will contribute to thinking about sexuality education in diverse contexts in particular more developing contexts Planning for Education in the Context of HIV/AIDS Michael J. Kelly,2000 This booklet examines briefly the nature and features of HIV AIDS and the impact of the epidemic on development Within this context it examines the interaction between the epidemic and education from two perspectives the use of education in preventing HIV transmission and the impact of the disease on education systems It deals more extensively with the latter aspect analyzing how HIV AIDS affects education in terms of demand clientele with special reference to orphans supply and such quality related aspects as content organization and funding A recurrent theme is that the extensive two way interaction between HIV AIDS and educational provision necessitates a radical re examination of many of the premises underlying education as currently delivered Education in an AIDS infected world cannot be the same as education in an AIDS free world
