The Fiction Of Reality:

The Fiction of Reality Zulfikar Ghose,1983 How Real Is Reality TV? David S. Escoffery,2014-12-03 American viewers are attracted to what they see as the non scripted unpredictable freshness of reality television But although the episodes may not be scripted the shows are constructed within a deliberately designed framework reflecting societal values The political economic and personal issues of reality TV are in many ways simply an exaggerated version of everyday life allowing us to identify perhaps more closely than we care to admit with the characters onscreen With 16 essays from scholars around the world this volume discusses the notion of representation in reality television It explores how both audiences and producers negotiate the gulf between representations and truth in reality shows such as Survivor The Apprentice Big Brother The Nanny American Idol Extreme Makeover Joe Millionaire and The Amazing Race Various identity categories and character types found in these shows are discussed and the accuracy of their television portrayal examined Dealing with the concept of reality audience reception gender roles minority portrayal and power issues the book provides an in depth look at what we see or think we see in reality TV Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here

Epistemics of the Virtual Johan F. Hoorn,2012-05-09 Proposing a new theory of fiction this work reviews the confusion about perceived realism metaphor virtual worlds and the seemingly obvious distinction between what is true and what is false The rise of new media new technology and creative products and services requires a new examination of what real friends are to what extent scientific novelty is true and whether online content is merely figurative In this transdisciplinary theory the author evaluates cognitive theories philosophical discussion and topics in biology and physics and places these in the frameworks of computer science and literary theory The interest of the reader is continuously challenged on matters of truth fiction and the shakiness of our belief systems The Future of Post-Human Performing Arts Peter Baofu,2013-01-03 Are the performing arts really supposed to be so radical that as John Cage once said in the context of music there is no noise only sound since he argued that any sounds we can hear can be music WK 2007a D Harwood 1976 This radical tradition in performing arts with music as an example here can be contrasted with an opposing view in the older days when Greek philosophers and medieval theorists in music defined music as tones ordered horizontally as melodies and vertically as harmonies Music theory within this realm is studied with the presupposition that music is orderly and often pleasant to hear WK 2007a Contrary to these opposing traditions and other views as will be discussed in the book performing arts in relation to both the body and its presence is neither possible nor desirable to the extent that the respective ideologues on different sides would like us to believe Needless to say the challenge to these opposing traditions in performing arts does not imply that performing arts are worthless human endeavors or that those fields of study related to performing arts like aesthetics acoustics communication studies psychology culture studies sociology religion morality and so on should be rejected too Of course neither of these extreme views is reasonable Instead this book provides an alternative better way of understanding the future of performing arts especially in the dialectic context of the body and its presence while learning from different approaches in the literature but without favoring any one of them or integrating them since they are not necessarily compatible with each other In other words this book offers a new theory that is the transdisciplinary theory of performing arts to go beyond the existing approaches in a novel way If successful this seminal project will fundamentally change the way that we think about performing arts from the combined perspectives of the mind nature society and culture with enormous implications for the human future and what the author originally called its post human fate Fictional Realities / Real Fictions. Contemporary Theatre in Search of a New Mimetic Paradigm Mateusz Borowski, Malgorzata Sugiera, 2009-03-26

The collection of essays Fictional Realities Real Fictions Contemporary Theatre in Search of a New Mimetic Paradigm tackles the problem of fictionality and reality in contemporary theatre practice and playwriting It approaches this hotly debated issue in a larger context of the theories of theatrical and dramatic mimesis The volume provides an answer to the most recent developments in performative arts such as the widespread use of new media technologies the popularity of site specific productions and the flourishing of various post dramatic forms of expression The phenomena scrutinized in this collection call into question the basic dichotomy between the fictional and the real on which the theory and practice of the Western theatre has been based right from its inception However due to their extremely heterogeneous character they pose a considerable problem for researchers and teachers who still do not find a widely applicable methodology for the analysis of contemporary performances and texts for the theatre Fictional Realities Real Fictions sets the discussion of the onset of new mimetic paradigm in three interrelated contexts the new perceptual patterns forged by contemporary theatre the use of media on stage and the strategies of today s political theatre The case studies presented here in spite of their thematic diversity are subordinated to a single theoretical framework Thus they turn out extremely useful both for the scholars investigating the problems of contemporary theatre and students of theatre and drama Fictional Realities Real Fictions offers them a rigid methodological scaffolding supported by a number of illustrative examples from a variety of cultural context and theatre traditions which gives them an opportunity to extrapolate from the main argument of the volume to their own research Imagining Irreality Nicholas Rescher, 2003 Nicholas Rescher surveys and analyzes the different kinds of unreal possibilities and nonexistent objects tying together all the diverse ways in which this area has been approached by philosophers As he surveys the field and clarifies the kinds of unreality he also makes a sustained argument against the philosophical fashion for dealing with nonexistent possible world as though they were authentic objects The author holds that while we may discuss possibilities we ought not to accord them ontological status The possibility of existence of a certain sort of world is not the existence of possible world of a certain sort While we may reasonable discuss possibilities at the generic level such as a world where dogs have horns this does not require a commitment to a possible world where they do The work that theorists of logic and language want to accomplish with possible worlds and individuals can be managed with propositional manifolds stories or scenarios while the modalities of necessity and possibility that modal logicians want to analyze in terms of realization in possible worlds can be handled by turning instead to figuring in stories or scenarios

Reality, 1928 Fictional Space in the Modernist and Post-modernist American Novel Carl Darryl Malmgren, 1985

Fictional space is the imaginal expanse of field created by fictional discourse a space which through ultimately self referential and self validating necessarily exists in ascertainable relation to the real world outside the text After defining his theoretical framework the author applies it to American fiction of the twentieth century The Philosophical Review

Jacob Gould Schurman, James Edwin Creighton, Frank Thilly, Gustavus Watts Cunningham, 1913 An international journal of general philosophy "Nazi Fantasy" Amos Morris-Reich, 2025-03-27 This book brings together Vil m Flusser and intellectual Jewish history of the second half of the twentieth century Flusser is viewed today by many scholars as the most original theoretician of media and photography in the second half of the twentieth century and yet this is the first monograph about him in English Combining elements of Flusser s biography with a rigorous study of his writing this book shows that concepts of virtuality medium and embodiment underpin not only Flusser s understanding of technological media such as photography but also his understanding of evolution and of real or imaginary biological organisms This book argues that Flusser contended with Nazism in his writings on these biological and ecological themes Two threads and their relationship are explored the first bears on Nazism as undergirded by a biological perspective an attempt to eradicate a population taken to be parasitic in the second Nazism is simply viewed as stupid Such a line of inquiry necessarily leads to and includes our dealing with the Nazi fantasy because fantasy was fused into Nazism s own vision This book will not only be an ideal resource for students and scholars of intellectual Jewish history but will interest anyone seeking an introduction to Flusser and the philosophy of science within the context of Nazism Reality Burnett Hillman Streeter, 1926 Contemporary Italian

Filmmaking Manuela Gieri, 1995-01-01 Contemporary Italian Filmmaking is an innovative critique of Italian filmmaking in the aftermath of World War II as it moves beyond traditional categories such as genre film and auteur cinema Manuela Gieri demonstrates that Luigi Pirandello s revolutionary concept of humour was integral to the development of a counter tradition in Italian filmmaking that she defines humoristic She delineates a Pirandellian genealogy in Italian cinema literature and culture through her examination of the works of Federico Fellini Ettore Scola and many directors of the new generation such as Nanni Moretti Gabriele Salvatores Maurizio Nichetti and Giuseppe Tornatore A celebrated figure of the theatrical world Luigi Pirandello 1867 1936 is little known beyond Italy for his critical and theoretical writings on cinema and for his screenplays Gieri brings to her reading of Pirandello s work the critical parameters offered by psychoanalysis poststructuralism and postmodernism to develop a syncretic and transcultural vision of the history of Italian cinema She identifies two fundamental trends of development in this tradition the melodramatic imagination and the humoristic or comic imagination With her focus on the humoristic imagination Gieri describes a Pirandellian mode derived from his revolutionary utterances on the cinema and narrative and specifically from his essay on humour L'umorismo On Humour 1908 She traces a history of the Pirandellian mode in cinema and investigates its characteristics demonstrating the original nature of Italian filmmaking that is particularly indebted to Pirandello's interpretation of humour The Death of Meaning R. J. Rushdoony, 2018-03-26 For centuries on end humanistic philosophers have produced endless books and treatises which attempt to explain reality without God or the mediatory work of His Son Jesus Christ Modern philosophy has sought to explain man and his thought process without acknowledging God His Revelation or man's sin God holds all such efforts in derision and subjects their authors and adherents to futility Philosophers who rebel against God are compelled to abandon meaning itself for they possess neither the tools nor the place to anchor it The works of darkness championed by philosophers past and present need to be exposed and reprovved In this volume Dr Rushdoony clearly enunciates each major philosopher's position and its implications identifies the intellectual and moral consequences of each school of thought and traces the dead end to which each naturally leads There is only one foundation Without Christ meaning and morality are anchored to shifting sand and a counsel of despair prevails This penetrating yet brief volume provides clear guidance even for laymen unfamiliar with philosophy Castañeda and his Guises Adriano Palma, 2014-08-25 This volume responds to and reassesses the work of Hector Neri Castañeda 1924-1991 The essays collected here written by his students followers and opponents examine Castañeda's seminal views on deontic logic metaethics indedicality pratically fictions and metaphysics utilizing the critical viewpoint afforded by time as well as new data to offer insights on his theories and methodology Art and Belief Ema Sullivan-Bissett, Helen Bradley, Paul Noordhof, 2017-10-20 Art and Belief presents twelve new essays at the intersection of philosophy of mind and philosophy of art particularly to do with the relation between belief and truth in our experience of art Several contributors discuss the cognitive contributions artworks can make and the questions surrounding these Can authors of fiction testify to their readers If they can are they culpable for the false beliefs of their readers formed in response to their work If they cannot that is if the testimonial powers of authors of fiction are limited is there some non-testimonial epistemic role that fiction can play And in any case is such a role relevant when determining the value of the work Also explored are issues concerned with the phenomenon of fictional persuasion specifically what is the nature of the attitude involved in such cases those in which we form beliefs about the real world in response to reading fiction If these attitudes are typically unstable unjustified and unreliable does this put pressure on the view that they are beliefs If these attitudes are beliefs does this put pressure on the view that all beliefs are aimed at truth The final pair of papers in the volume take different stances on the nature of aesthetic testimony and whether testimony of this kind is a legitimate source of beliefs about aesthetic properties and value Reading Adoption Marianne Novy, 2005 A literary scholar who is an adult adoptee delves into one of the enduring themes of literature the child raised by other parents Beyond Natural Resources to Post-Human Resources Peter Baofu, 2014-09-18 Are natural resources really so limited that as Mahatma Gandhi once famously said Earth provides enough to satisfy every man's need but not every man's greed TE 2012 This limiting view of natural resources can be contrasted with an opposing view by John Maynard Keynes who summarized Say's Law as supply creates its own demand but then turned Say's Law on its head in the 1930s by declaring that demand creates its own supply so whenever a demand exists there will be resources to create the supply EN 2012 Contrary to these opposing views and other ones as will be discussed in the book natural resources in relation to both diversity and discontinuity are neither possible or impossible nor desirable or undesirable to the extent that the respective ideologues on different sides would like us to believe Needless to say this challenge to the opposing views of natural resources does not mean that natural resources are unimportant or that those interdisciplinary fields related to natural resources like conservation biology environmental management ecological economics political ecology environmental ethics adaptive management genetic engineering Malthusianism and so on are not worth studying Of course neither of these extreme views is reasonable Rather this book offers an alternative better way to understand the future of natural resources especially in the dialectic context of diversity and discontinuity while learning from different approaches in the literature but without favoring any one of them or integrating them since they are not necessarily compatible with each other More specifically this book offers a new theory that is the resilient theory of natural resources to go beyond the existing approaches in a novel way If successful this seminal project is to fundamentally change the way that we think about natural resources in relation to diversity and discontinuity from the combined perspectives of the mind nature society and culture with enormous implications for the human future and what the author originally called its post human fate EL4DEV Confederation - Civilizational Geostrategy of Renewal Paul Elvere DELSART,2025-04-23 This book is not just a text It is a map to reprogram the Earth a sacred action plan for a civilization of the living Driven by Paul Elvere DELSART the EL4DEV program and the Green Empire of the East and the West also known as the EL4DEV Confederation outline an alternative new world order ecological enterprising societal and spiritual Through visionary manifesto like chapters this book invites us to rethink the world through beauty cooperation vibration and wisdom A work to help us build the New Earth together and restore life humanity and the sacred to the heart of our future The Future of Post-Human Sports Peter Baofu,2014-10-17 Are sports really supposed to be so competitive that as Henry R Sanders once famously said Men I'll be honest Winning is the only thing WK 2012 This competitive view of sports can be contrasted with a critical view by William Shakespeare who wrote in Othello Act iv Sc 1 They laugh that win BART 2012 Contrary to these opposing views and other ones as will be discussed in the book sports in relation to both training and winning are neither possible or impossible The Future of Post-Human Migration Peter Baofu,2013-01-03 Is migration really so constructive that as Ralph Emerson 1909 once wrote in the context of the New World asylum of all nations will construct a new race a new religion a new state a new smelting pot WK 2012 This noble lie the melting pot in the 20th century can be contrasted with an opposing noble lie of the salad bowl in the 21st century when those in multiculturalism like Tariq Modood 2007 argue nowadays that multiculturalism is most timely and necessary and we need more not less WK 2012a Contrary to these opposing noble lies and other views as will be discussed in the book migration in relation to both the Same and the Others is neither possible or impossible nor desirable or undesirable to the extent that the respective ideologues on different sides would like us to believe Surely this exposure of the opposing noble lies about migration does not mean that the specific field of study on migration is a waste of time or that those interdisciplinary fields related to the study of migration like animal migration gene migration diaspora politics cultural assimilation human trafficking urbanization brain drain tourism ethnic cleansing environmental migration globalization religious persecution national identity gentrification fifth column migration art xenophobia space colonization multiculturalism and so on are worthless Needless to say neither of these extreme views is reasonable Instead this book offers an alternative better way to understand the future of migration especially in the dialectic context of the Same and the Others while learning from different approaches in the literature but without favoring any one of them or integrating them since they are not necessarily compatible with each other More specifically this book offers a new theory that is the theory of the cyclical progression of migration to go beyond the existing approaches in a novel way If successful this seminal project is to fundamentally change the way that we think about migration in relation to Sameness Otherness and identity from the combined perspectives of the mind nature society and culture with enormous implications for the human future and what the author originally called its post human fate
