Unwilling Executioner Andrew Pepper, 2016. Unwilling Executioner is the first book to examine the deep rooted relationship between the development of crime fiction as a genre and the consolidation of the modern state. It offers a far reaching and wide ranging perspective on this unfolding relationship over a three hundred year period but is not a straightforward and conventional narrative history of the genre. It is part of a new and exciting critical move to read crime fiction as a transnational phenomenon and to examine crime novelists in an innovative comparative context taking them out of their discreet national traditions. Considers Anglo American crime writing as well as works published in France, Italy, Germany, Ireland, Japan, South Africa and elsewhere; it addresses the related questions of why crime fiction is political and how particular examples of the genre engage with the complicated issue of political commitment. Stood Still Bohumil Hrabal, 2014-06-05. From the flamboyant and unpredictable Maryska who scandalises the town when she cuts short her golden tresses to the eccentric Uncle Pepin who always has to have a ready supply of furniture to smash when he's angry. Bohumil Hrabal creates a range of enchanting and memorable characters confirming his status as one of Europe's greatest writers. Includes THE LITTLE TOWN WHERE TIME STOOD STILL and CUTTING IT SHORT. The Police

Procedural George N. Dove, 1982. In the late 1940s and early 1950s a new kind of detective story appeared on the scene. This was a story in which the mystery is solved by regular police detectives usually working in teams and using ordinary police routines. This kind of narrative is customarily called the police procedural story. And it is the subject of this book. Though there has been numberless writers of these stories there has never been a book of criticism before. Child's Play Lynda Madaras, 1977. The Meadow-Brook Girls in the Hills; Or, The Missing Pilot of the White Mountains Janet on Brittany Shores The Missing Corpse is internationally bestselling author Jean Luc Bannalec's fourth novel in the Commissaire Dupin series. It's picturesque, suspenseful, and the next best thing to a trip to Brittany. Along the picturesque Belon River, home of the world famous oyster beds between steep cliffs, ominous forests, and the Atlantic Ocean, a stubborn elderly film actress discovers a corpse. By the time Commissaire Dupin arrives at the scene, the body has disappeared. A little while later, he receives a phone call from the mystical hills of Monts d'Arree, where legends of fairies and the devil abound. Another unidentified body has turned up. Dupin quickly realizes this may be his most difficult and confounding case yet, with links to Celtic myths, a sand theft operation, and mysterious ancient druid cults. Scandinavian Crime Fiction Jakob Stougaard-Nielsen, 2017-01-12

With its bleak urban environments, psychologically compelling heroes, and socially engaged plots, Scandinavian crime writing has captured the imaginations of a global audience in the 21st century. Exploring the genre's key themes, international impact, and socio-political contexts, Scandinavian Crime Fiction guides readers through such key texts as Sjöwall and Wahlström's Novel of a Crime, Gunnar Staalesen's Varg Veum series, Peter Høeg's Miss Smilla's Feeling for Snow, Henning Mankell's Wallander books, Stieg Larsson's Millennium trilogy, and TV series such as The Killing. With its focus on the function of crime fiction in both reflecting and shaping the late modern Scandinavian welfare societies, this book is essential for readers, viewers, and fans of contemporary crime writing. 100 Greatest Literary Detectives Eric Sandberg, 2018-04-12
