Katsos,2023-02-14 This volume critically re evaluates the received interpretation of the nature of light in the ancient sources Isidoros C Katsos contests the prevalent view in the history of optics according to which pre modernity theorized light as subordinate to sight oculocentrism by examining in depth the contrary textual evidence found in early Christian texts It shows that from Philo of

Alexandria and Origen to Basil of Caesarea and Gregory of Nyssa the Jewish Christian commentary tradition on the hexaemeral literature the biblical creation narrative reflected deeply on the nature and physicality of light for the purposes of understanding the structure and purpose of material creation Contemplation of nature allowed early Christian thinkers to conceptualize light as the explanatory principle of vision rather than subordinated to it Contrary to the prevalent view the hexaemeral literature necessitates a luminocentric interpretation of the theory of light of Plato's Timaeus in its reception history in the context of late antique cosmology Hexaemeral luminocentrism invites the reader of Scripture to grasp not only the sensible properties of light but also their causal principle as the first manifestation of the divine Logos in creation The hexaemeral metaphysics thus provides the missing ground of meaning of the early Christian language of light A Chaos of Delight Geoffrey Dobson, 2016-06-16 Humans throughout history have sought ways of understanding their place within the world Religion science and myth have been at the forefront of this quest for meaning A Chaos of Delight examines how various cultures from the early Sumerians Egyptians and Greeks to contemporary Western society have looked at the same phenomena and devised totally different world views The rise of modern science is examined alongside questions of evolution and the origins of life This comprehensive volume is an essential read for students and scholars interested in the history of ideas and the role of religion science and myth in the development of Western thought The Gongsun Longzi and Other Neglected Texts Rafael Suter, Lisa Indraccolo, Wolfgang Behr, 2020-04-06 The Gongsun Longzi is often considered the only extant work of the Classical Chinese School of Names an early intellectual tradition trad dated to the 4th cent B C mainly concerned with logic and the philosophy of language The Gongsun Longzi is a heterogeneous collection of five chapters that include short treatises and largely fictive dialogues between an anonymous persuader and his opponent which typically revolve around a paradoxical claim Its value as a testimony to Early Chinese philosophy however is somewhat controversial due to the intricate textual history of the text and our limited knowledge about its intellectual backgrounds This volume gathers contributions by leading specialists in the fields of Classical Chinese philosophy philology logic and linguistics Besides an overview of the scholarly literature on the topic and a detailed account of the reception of the text throughout time it presents fresh insights into philological and philosophical problems raised by the Gongsun Longzi and other closely related texts equally attributed to the School of Names Al-Hasan ibn Musa al-Nawbakhti, Commentary on Aristotle "De generatione et corruptione" Marwan Rashed, 2015-09-14 This book contains a new edition and English translation of the oldest commentary on Aristotle written in Arabic and preserved to this day together with an extensive commentary It is a compendium on the treatise De generatione et corruptione written by the Imamite theologian and heresiographer Hasan b M s al Nawbakht fl ca 900 To this day apart from the title of more than forty works and numerous fragments taken mainly from his magnum opus the Book of the Doctrines and Religions Kit b al r wa al diy n t only a single treatise of his the Book of Sh Sects Kit b firag al sh a was known to us The text sheds new light in several ways firstly on the the Arabic philosophical tradition since it was composed during the obscure period between al Kind and al F r b roughly the 2nd half of the 9th c secondly on the Greek tradition since the author makes extensive use of Alexander s lost commentary on De generatione thirdly on the formative period of sh ism since it helps us to reconstruct how the author borrowed from the Aristotelian tradition the tools necessary to build up a new anthropology compatible with the doctrine of the Occultation which he
