Four Historical Definitions of Architecture Stephen Parcell, 2012 Definitions of architecture and other disciplines from ancient Greece to the eighteenth century The Second Edition, with Four Additional Designs, of Useful Architecture; Being the Last Work in this Kind of William Halfpenny, ... in Twenty-five New Designs, with Full and Clear Instructions, in Every Particular, for Erecting Parsonage-houses, Farm-houses, and Inns, with Their Respective Offices, &c. ... William Halfpenny, 1755

Campsite Charlie Hailey, 2008-06-01 Camping is perhaps the quintessential American activity We camp to escape to retreat to find ourselves The camp serves as a home away from home where we might rethink a deliberate life We also camp to find a new collective space where family and society converge Many of us attended summer camps and the legacies of these childhood havens form part of American culture In Campsite Charlie Hailey provides a highly original and artfully composed interpretation of the cultural significance and inherently paradoxical nature of camps and camping in contemporary American society Offering a new understanding of the complex relationship between place time and architecture in an increasingly mobile culture Hailey explores campsites as places that necessitate a unique combination of contrasting qualities such as locality and foreignness mobility and fixity temporality and permanence and public domesticity Camping methods reflect the rigid flexibility of the process leaving home arriving at a site clearing an area making and then finally breaking camp The phases of this sequence are both separate and indistinct To understand this paradox Hailey emphasizes the role of process He constructs a philosophical framework to elucidate the placefulness or sense of place of such temporary constructions and provides alternative understandings of how we think of the home and of public versus private dwelling spaces Historically camps have been used as places for scouting out future towns for clearing provisional spaces and for making semipermanent homes away from home To understand how cultures of camping develop and accommodate this dynamic mix of permanence and flexibility Hailey looks at three basic qualities of the camp as a site for place making as a populist precursor for modern built environments and as a method Hailey's creative and philosophical approach to camps and camping allows him to construct links between such diverse projects as the philosophers camps of the mid nineteenth century the idiosyncratic camping clubs that arose with the automobile culture in the early 1920s and more recent uses of campsites as temporary housing for those displaced by Hurricane Katrina In Campsite Hailey makes a singular and significant contribution to current studies of place and vernacular architecture while also reconfiguring methods of research in cultural studies architectural theory and geography

The Architecture of Ruins Jonathan Hill, 2019-03-25 The Architecture of Ruins Designs on the Past Present and Future identifies an alternative and significant history of architecture from the sixteenth century to the twenty first century in which a building is designed occupied and imagined as a ruin This design practice conceives a monument and a ruin as creative interdependent and simultaneous themes within a single building dialectic addressing temporal and environmental questions in poetic psychological and practical terms and stimulating questions of personal and national identity nature and culture weather and climate permanence and impermanence and life and death Conceiving a building as a dialogue between a monument and a ruin intensifies the already blurred relations between the unfinished and the ruined and envisages the past the present and the future in a single architecture Structured around a collection of biographies this book conceives a monument and a ruin as metaphors for a life and means to negotiate between a self and a society Emphasising the interconnections between designers and the particular ways in which later architects learned from earlier ones the chapters investigate an evolving interdisciplinary design practice to show the relevance of historical understanding to design Like a history a design is a reinterpretation of the past that is meaningful to the present Equally a design is equivalent to a fiction convincing users to suspend disbelief We expect a history or a novel to be written in words but they can also be delineated in drawing cast in concrete or seeded in soil The architect is a physical novelist as well as a physical historian Like building sites ruins are full of potential In revealing not only what is lost but also what is incomplete a ruin suggests the future as well as the past As a stimulus to the imagination a ruin s incomplete and broken forms expand architecture s allegorical and metaphorical capacity indicating that a building can remain unfinished literally and in the imagination focusing attention on the creativity of users as well as architects Emphasising the symbiotic relations between nature and culture a building designed occupied and imagined as a ruin acknowledges the coproduction of multiple authors whether human non human or atmospheric and is an appropriate model for architecture in an era of increasing climate change

The Annotated Mona Lisa Carol Strickland, John Boswell, 2007-10 Like music art is a universal language Although looking at works of art is a pleasurable enough experience to appreciate them fully requires certain skills and knowledge Carol Strickland from the introduction to The Annotated Mona Lisa A Crash Course in Art History from Prehistoric to Post Modern This heavily illustrated crash course in art history is revised and updated This second edition of Carol Strickland s The Annotated Mona Lisa A Crash Course in Art History from Prehistoric to Post Modern offers an illustrated tutorial of prehistoric to post modern art from cave paintings to video art installations to digital and Internet media Featuring succinct page length essays instructive sidebars and more than 300 photographs The Annotated Mona Lisa A Crash Course in Art History from Prehistoric to Post Modern takes art history out of the realm of dreary textbooks demystifies jargon and theory and makes art accessible even at a cursory reading From Stonehenge to the Guggenheim and from Holbein to Warhol more than 25 000 years of art is distilled into five sections covering a little more than 200 pages

Japan and the Culture of the Four Seasons Haruo Shirane, 2012-03-20 Elegant representations of nature and the four seasons populate a wide range of Japanese genres and media from poetry and screen painting to tea ceremonies flower arrangements and annual observances In Japan and the Culture of the Four Seasons Haruo Shirane shows how when and why this practice developed and explicates the richly encoded social religious and political meanings of this imagery Refuting the belief that this tradition reflects Japan's agrarian origins and supposedly mild climate Shirane traces the establishment of seasonal topics to the poetry composed by the urban nobility in the eighth century After becoming highly codified and influencing visual arts in the tenth and eleventh centuries the seasonal topics and their cultural associations evolved and spread to other genres eventually settling in the popular culture of the early modern period Contrasted with the elegant images of nature derived from court poetry was the agrarian view of nature based on rural life The two landscapes began to intersect in the medieval period creating a complex layered web of competing associations Shirane discusses a wide array of representations of nature and the four seasons in many genres originating in both the urban and rural perspective textual poetry chronicles tales cultivated gardens flower arrangement material kimonos screens performative noh festivals and gastronomic tea ceremony food rituals He reveals how this kind of secondary nature which flourished in Japan's urban architecture and gardens fostered and idealized a sense of harmony with the natural world just at the moment it was disappearing Illuminating the deeper meaning behind Japanese aesthetics and artifacts Shirane clarifies the use of natural images and seasonal topics and the changes in their cultural associations and function across history genre and community over more than a millennium In this fascinating book the four seasons are revealed to be as much a cultural construction as a reflection of the physical world

Building Theories Franca Trubiano,2022-11-25 Building Theories speaks to the value of words in architecture It addresses the author's fascination with the voices of architects engineers builders and craftspeople whose ideas about building have been captured in text It discusses the content of treatises essays articles and letters by those who have been throughout history committed to the art of building In this Building Theories argues for the return of a practice of architectural theory that is set amongst building buildings and builders This journey of close reading reinterprets the words of Vitruvius Alberti de L Orme Le Camus de M zi res Boull e Laugier Rondelet Semper Viollet le Duc H bsch B tticher Berlage Muthesius Wagner Behrendt Gropius and Arup With chapters dedicated to texts from antiquity the Renaissance and the nineteenth century and with a critical eye on architectural theory popularized in the Anglo Saxon world post 1968 readers are introduced to a wider more inclusive definition of architectural ideas Building Theories considers how contemporary scholarship has steered away from the topic of building in its reluctance to admit that both design and construction are central to its concerns In response it argues for a realignment of architecture with the concept of techn with a dual commitment to fabrica e ratio with a productive return to l art de bien bastir with the accurate translation of the term Baukunst and with an appeal to the architect s composite mind Students practitioners and educators will identify in Building Theories ways of thinking that strive for the integration of design with construction reject the supposed primacy of the former over the latter recognize how aesthetics are an insufficient scaffold for subtending the subject of architectural ethics and accept without reservation that material transformations have always been at the origins of built form The

Leonard R. Bachman,2019-01-22 Unlike books that concentrate on the monuments and other artefacts that architects produce Constructing the Architect focuses on architecture as a disciplinary and professional process an institution of society and a career of learning and mastery In doing so it offers a lens into the architecture of architecture Mapping architecture as a coherent whole Leonard Bachman shows that the field must be understood as four mutually reinforcing modes of inquiry design research strategy and education Within this framework he explains how institutions and actors hold differing perspectives on the critical discourse that advances architecture and identifies the various tensions and leverage points for change within the discipline Featuring over 100 illustrations to support understanding of this highly visual subject this is an essential introduction for any student seeking to understand what it means to be an architect and to enter the professional discourse Architecture Constructed

Mark Jarzombek,2023-04-06 Architecture Constructed explores the central open secret of architecture the long suppressed conflict between arche and teckton between those who design and those who build This unresolved tension has a centuries old history in the discipline persisting through Classical and Renaissance times to the present day and yet it has rarely been addressed through a historical and theoretical lens In this book acclaimed architectural theorist Mark Jarzombek examines this tension head on and uses it to rethink the nature of the history of architecture He reveals architecture to be a troubled interconnected realm incomplete and unstable where labor craft and occupation are the invisible complements to the work of the architect Erudite entertaining and full of surprising and thought provoking juxtapositions and challenges Architecture Constructed is packed with novel insights into the internal conflicts and paradoxes of architecture and is rich with examples from modern and contemporary practice including Mies Koolhaas Potrc Hadid Bawa Diller Scofidio which demonstrate how contemporary architecture inhabits the very same tensions that have riven the discipline since the days of Alberti This provocative book will stimulate conversations among students researchers and designers as it pushes the boundaries on how we define the professional discipline of architecture and overturns entrenched assumptions about the nature of architectural history and theory Post-disaster Navigation and Allied Services over Opportunistic Networks Suman Bhattacharjee,Siuli Roy,Sipra Das Bit,2021-04-15 This book provides the details of developing a digital pedestrian map construction system over the intermittently connected mobile network Over the past couple of decades countries across the world both developing and developed have witnessed a significant number of disasters Thus it has become mandatory for each of the disaster prone countries to equip themselves with appropriate measures to cope with the challenges of providing post disaster services Some of the serious challenges are incapacitated communication infrastructure unstable power supply and inaccessible road networks Out of these challenges the destruction of road networks especially in developing countries acts as a major hindrance to effective disaster management To be more specific the success of a disaster response operation generally depends on the speed of evacuation and transportation of adequate amount of relief materials at the right time to the disaster affected areas Hence map based navigation support is a primary requirement for post disaster relief operations This book also provides the solution of the two other important post disaster management services such as situational awareness and resource allocation Both of these services are invariably dependent on the existence of navigation support Finally in order to offer such services the other challenge is to address the problem of incapacitated communication infrastructure This book also deals with such challenges in post disaster scenarios and develops automated post disaster management services

is becoming increasingly limited to serving the all pervasive system of globalised capitalism and becoming a constituent complicit part of its mechanism The Resistant Object of Architecture addresses this problem and does so in a way that represents a marked departure from predominant responses which as the book shows do not address the core issue The book addresses this problem by focusing on the question what is architecture and responds to this question by developing the immanent structural logic of architecture that enables it to work not only as an instrumental thinking practice but as a practice of creative thinking This means that it alone determines its issues problems and priorities and precisely because of that it has the capacity and cogency to destabilise indeed pierce holes in the system in which it operates The Resistant Object of Architecture draws on various theoretical sources from the psychoanalysis of Jacques Lacan and the philosophy of Alain Badiou to contemporary architectural theory In contrast to the predominant view of today it demonstrates that architecture has an affirmative transformative capacity This book is an ideal read for those interested in architectural theory and history analysis of contemporary architecture and philosophy of architecture

The Study-book of Mediaeval Architecture and Art Thomas H. King (architect.),1859 Architecture Martin van der Linden,2021-03-12 The question of what architecture is answered in this book with one sentence Architecture is space created for human activities The basic need to find food and water places these activities within a larger spatial field Humans have learned and found ways to adjust to the various contextual difficulties that they faced as they roamed the earth Thus rather than adapting humans have always tried to change the context to their activities Humanity has looked at the context not merely as a limitation but rather as a spatial situation filled with opportunities that allows through intellectual interaction to change these limitations Thus humanity has created within the world their own contextual bubble that firmly stands against the larger context it is set in The key notion of the book is that architecture is space carved out of and against the context and that this process is deterministic
