Copper,2016-04-29 Today by many accounts China is the world s foremost purveyor of foreign aid and foreign investment to developing countries This is the product of China s miracle economic growth over a period of more than three decades together with China s drive to become a major player in world affairs and accomplish this through economic rather than military means This three volume work is the first comprehensive study of China s aid and investment strategy to trace how it has evolved since Beijing launched its foreign aid diplomacy at the time of the founding of the People s Republic of China in 1949 Volume I examines the definitions origins nature and scope of foreign aid and investment by other countries Using that background John F Copper then traces China s financial assistance to developing countries from the Mao period when China gave meaningful foreign aid despite its own economic struggles through the beginning of China s post 1978 economic boom and during subsequentdecades of rapid economic growth Copper shows that China has a more salient history in giving foreign assistance than any other country in the world while China s objectives in giving foreign assistance have changed markedly over time China has always been driven by efforts to realize its foreign policy objectives and expand China s external influence UK Aid Policy and Practice 1974-90 Christopher C. Erswell,2001 This thesis provides a detailed analysis of UK Aid policy over the period 1974 90 Its focus is primarily upon the extent to which official aid was concerned with poverty alleviation This theme permitted a comparison to be made between the records of the Labour administration of 1974-79 and the Conservative administration of 1979-90 A quantitative comparison is made of the two aid programmes The philosophical moral and ideological aspects of the British aid programme are explored Two themes in particular are studied in depth aid and gender and aid and the environment As the World Ages Kavita Sivaramakrishnan, 2018-05-07 People are living longer not only in wealthy countries but in developing nations For too long Western experts have conceived of aging as a universal predicament one that supposedly provokes the same welfare concerns in every context It is time Kavita Sivaramakrishnan writes to embrace a new approach that prioritizes local agendas and values America Rules Tom Hanahoe, 2003 The story of America's march to globalisation began two centuries ago with a trade driven war against Barbary pirates and exists today in the interests of a small corporate elite While politicians foster an image of a chivalric US which serves as the global protector of freedom democracy and human rights the reality is that US policies have showed contempt for these very ideals and have led to the situation that individual corporate giants now wield more economic power in the global arena than most national governments This is that story Africa Phyllis M. Martin, Patrick O'Meara, 1986

China's Foreign Aid and Investment Diplomacy, Volume III John F. Copper, 2016-04-29 Today by many accounts China is the world's foremost purveyor of foreign aid and foreign investment to developing countries This is the product of China's miracle economic growth over a period of more than three decades together with China's drive to become a major player in world affairs and accomplish this through economic rather than military means This three volume work is the first comprehensive study of China's aid and investment strategy to trace how it has evolved since Beijing launched its foreign aid diplomacy at the time of the founding of the People's Republic of China in 1949 Volume III offers an analysis of China's foreign aid and investment to countries outside of Asia in Africa Europe the Middle East Latin America and Oceania Africa was and is the most important of these regions and it is given special treatment In the concluding chapter Copper reviews the findings of previous volumes delineates China's most important victories and setbacks and notes opposition to and criticism of China's aid and investment diplomacy Copper gives evidence that will be shocking to some of the reality that China's financial help to developing countries is one of the most salient trends in international politics and constitutes a formidable challenge to the United States Japan and Europe as well as international financial institutions Reader's
