The Fifth Revenge:

Mediterranean Families in Antiquity Sabine R. Huebner, Geoffrey Nathan, 2016-08-23 This comprehensive study of families in the Mediterranean world spans the Bronze Age through Late Antiquity and looks at families and households in various ancient societies inhabiting the regions around the Mediterranean Sea in an attempt to break down artificial boundaries between academic disciplines

The Clash of Civilizations Allan Trawinski, 2017-05-26 In this work Allan Trawinski will test and disprove the commonly held hypothesis that the present West Near East Conflict is a relatively new development since the founding of the State of Israel in 1948 is primarily driven by religion culture radical Islamic fundamentalism against Christianity Judaism and that terrorism is employed as the Near East's primary method weapon tactic of choice which could all be ended by solving the Palestinian Israeli religious problem ending radical terrorism becoming energy independent liberating the region from despots and establishing prosperous economic and democratic regimes in their wakes Consequently he will test and prove his own counterhypothesis that the present West Near East Conflict is a part of a continuous 3 275 year conflict that is secular geopolitical economic as much as or more than ideological religious cultural in nature and that terrorism has only until very recently played a relatively minor role as the Near East's primary method weapon tactic of choice

Punishment and Retribution Leo Zaibert, 2016-04-15 Discussions of punishment typically assume that punishment is criminal punishment carried out by the State Punishment is however a richer phenomenon and it occurs in many contexts This book contains a general account of punishment which overcomes the difficulties of competing accounts Recognizing punishment's manifoldness is valuable not merely in contributing to conceptual clarity but in that this recognition sheds light on the complicated problem of punishment's justification Insofar as they narrowly presuppose that punishment is criminal punishment most apparent solutions to the tension between consequentialism and retributivism are rather unenlightening if we attempt to apply them in other contexts Moreover this presupposition has given rise to an unwieldy variety of accounts of retributivism which are less helpful in contexts other than criminal punishment Treating punishment comprehensibly helps us to better understand how it differs from similar phenomena and to carry on the discussion of its justification fruitfully

The Four Days' Battle of 1666 Frank L. Fox,2009-07-16 An excellent piece of work not just as an account of the Four Days Battle itself but also for its account of the entire Second Anglo Dutch War HistoryOfWar.org On June 1 1666 a large but outnumbered English fleet engaged the Dutch off the mouth of the Thames in a colossal battle that was to involve nearly 200 ships and last four days False intelligence had led the English to divide their fleet to meet a phantom threat from France and although the errant squadron rejoined on the final day of the battle it was not enough to redress the balance Like many a defeat it sparked controversy at the time and has been the subject of speculation and debate ever since The battle was an event of such overwhelming complexity that for centuries it defied description and deterred study but this superbly researched book is now recognized as the definitive account It provides the first clear exposition of the opposing forces fills many holes in the narrative and answers most of the questions raised by the actions of the English commanders It makes for
