The Fire at Uppark Adam Nicolson,1990-01-01      History and Heritage Simon Ditchfield,John Arnold,Kate Davies,2015-12-22 Just what is it that we want from the past History offers us true stories about the past heritage sells or provides us with the past we appear to desire The dividing line between history and heritage is however far from clear This collection of papers addresses the division between history and heritage by looking at the ways in which we make use of the past the way we consume our yesterdays Looking at a wide variety of fields including architectural history museums films novels and politics the authors examine the ways in which the past is invoked in contemporary culture and question the politics of drawing upon history in present day practices In topics ranging from Braveheart to Princess Diana the Piltdown Man to the National History Curriculum war memorials to stately homes History and Heritage explores the presence of the past in our lives and asks how and to what end are we using the idea of the past Who is consuming the past and why

Unravelling Sussex Tony Ward,2016-11-03 If you enjoy puzzle solving you will enjoy the novel approach of Unravelling Sussex Based on Tony Ward s Poetry series in Sussex Life each famous Sussex person or place is introduced by a puzzle poem The challenge is to unravel the embedded clues solved by the chapter that follows This innovative little book brings new life to the aims to inform educate and entertain      Faded and Threadbare Historic Textiles and their Role in Houses Open to the Public Margaret Ponsonby,2016-04-15 Many historic houses that open to the public in England and Wales particularly those owned by the National Trust preserve their contents rather than restore them to a particular period The former owners of these houses often retained objects from various periods and this layering of history produces interiors that look aged and patinated Although the reason for this preservation and lack of fashionable renewable can be attributed to declining economic fortunes in the twentieth century there are many examples of families practising this method of homemaking over a much longer period Taking National Trust properties as its central focus this book examines three interlocking themes to examine the role of historic textiles Firstly it looks at houses with preserved contents together with the reasons for individual families choosing this lifestyle secondly the role of the National Trust as both guardian and interpreter of these houses and their collections and finally and most importantly the influence of textiles to contribute to the appearance of interiors and their physical attributes that carry historical resonances of the past The importance of preserved textiles in establishing the visual character of historic houses is a neglected area and therefore the prominence given to textiles in this project constitutes an original contribution to the study of these houses Drawing upon a range of primary sources including literature produced by the National Trust for their sites and documentary sources for the families and their houses such as diaries letters and household accounts the study takes a broad approach that will be of interest to all those with an interest in material culture heritage collecting studies and cultural history      The Law and Practice of Fine Art, Jewellery and Specie Insurance David Scully,2021-06-25 This comprehensive book will be essential reading for all those involved with fine art jewellery and specie insurance David Scully analyses the history structure and dynamics of the global marketplace for this type of insurance illustrating key points with real life examples to provide a practical guide to the business

Contemporary Cultures of Display Emma Barker, Senior Lecturer in Art History Emma Barker, 1999-01-01 Contiene The Companion Guide to Kent and Sussex Keith Spence, 1999 This is a thoroughly revised and updated edition of KEITH SPENCE's essential guide to two of the most beautiful and often still unspoiled counties in England which on its first publication quickly established itself as the best available guide to the area Mr Spence shows how much as yet survives and how rich varied and fascinating this part of England still is He writes sensitively and knowledgeably about buildings and architecture and has a keen sense of the detail that gives identity to a place There is much to be learned from this book which maintains the high standard of the Companion Guide series OBSERVER

Historic Floors Jane Fawcett, 2007-06-01
This is the first book in the UK to be devoted to historic floors It introduces an important and largely neglected subject and considers conservation methods in a European context It traces the history of some of the great floors of Europe from the fourth century B C and outlines the development of mosaic tiles marble and parquet floors in secular buildings The early Christian pavements in basilicas temples and cathedrals the creation of medieval tiles ledger stones and monumental brasses their destruction by iconoclasts and re creation during the Gothic Revival are also discussed Leading authorities archaeologists architects and archivists consider the latest methods of recording and repairing cathedral floors including those of cathedrals country houses the monumental tiled pavements of the Palace of Westminster and other public buildings Management policies to protect outstanding floors in over visited sites are considered and historic features particularly at risk are identified Urgent action is recommended to contain the damage caused by the dramatic increase in tourism

throughout Europe

Stories from Home Margaret Ponsonby, 2016-04-01 Most homes in the past were not elite wealthy interiors complete with high fashion furnishings designed by well known architects and designers as many domestic histories often seem to have assumed As this book makes clear there were in fact an enormous variety of house interiors in England during the period 1750 1850 reflecting the location status and gender of particular householders as well as their changing attitudes tastes and aspirations By focusing on non metropolitan homes which represented the majority of households in England this study highlights the need for historians to look beyond prevailing attitudes that often reduce interiors to generic descriptions based on high fashions of the decorative arts Instead it shows how numerous social and cultural influences affected the manner in which homes were furnished and decorated Issues such as the availability of goods gender regional taste income the second hand market changing notions of privacy and household hierarchies and print culture could all have a significant impact on domestic furnishing The study ends with a discussion of how domestic interiors of historic properties have been presented and displayed in modern times highlighting how competing notions of the past can cloud as well as illuminate the issue Combining cultural history and qualitative analysis of evidence this book presents a new way of looking at ordinary and provincial homes that enriches our understanding of English domestic life of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries

Caring for Cultural Heritage Charlotte Woodhead, 2023-11-23 A re evaluation of the UK's law on cultural heritage through the lens of the ethics of care

Social History, Local History, and Historiography Roger C. Richardson, 2011-09-22 This wide ranging volume collects together twelve of the author's longer essays mainly drawn from those first published in the last two decades Chiefly consisting of micro studies of a variety of different aspects of early modern English history the book concerns itself with social and economic change the period of the English Revolution and its long lasting impact with Puritanism with the family as a social institution and with historical consciousness and different forms of historical writing Some of the essays focus on a particular individual not all well known William Camden John Milner and Ralph Dutton to open up a broader theme One boldly attempts a comparison over three centuries of the evolution of local history as a subject on both sides of the Atlantic Two other essays reach out into the nineteenth and twentieth centuries but do so with echoes of the subject matter of some of those dealing with the early modern period The inter connectedness of social history local history and historiography is stressed and illustrated throughout Both specialists and non specialists will find much to interest them in this varied and rewarding volume

Monitoring Building Structures J. Moore, 2013-04-17 There is an increasing number of buildings that require informed decisions to be made about their continued safety and serviceability Although social and economic issues are often all important influences the technical issues nevertheless need to be addressed objectively efficiently and reliably This book shows how monitoring the physical behaviour of a structure can assist the engineer to meet these conditions when making an assessment The book is aimed primarily at the practising engineer charged with making recommendations in respect of safety and serviceability By the same token it will be of value to the client specifying a brief for assessment or evaluating the report of an investigation which involves monitoring The book will also be one of reference for those engaged in research involving monitoring and an aid to the advanced student who needs to understand better the full scale performance in service of building structures The need to assess safety and serviceability may arise for a variety of reasons ranging from problems developing in service to change of use or the introduction of innovative features at the design stage These reasons are explored in the first chapter which establishes a philosophy by which the assessing engineer can determine appropriate courses of action Observations and measurements which do not address the real issues are worthless but too much information which cannot be effectively digested and interpreted is also not useful

England's Lost Houses Giles Worsley, 2002 Of all the photographs in Country Life's archives none are more poignant or intriguing than the images of houses that have been lost This text puts the lost country houses of England in historical context and explains why so many were destroyed

Sussex (Slow Travel) Tim Locke, 2024-07-10 This new thoroughly updated third edition of Sussex Slow Travel Bradt's much praised guide features the South Downs High Weald and coast and offers a greater more personal selection of places to explore than any other guide

Author Tim Locke and updater Emma Gregg both expert residents take a leisurely detailed approach that teases out Sussex's special qualities. The result is highly personal and honest encouraging you to slow down and gain a deep understanding of what makes this stunning region tick and why it deserves repeat visits. Sussex may be less than 50 km from the fringes of London and easily accessed from the capital and only minutes from Gatwick's international airport but is a very different world thanks to its irresistible blend of history archaeology seaside towns thatched villages centuries old buildings world class gardens literary connections and quintessentially English scenery. Sussex offers much scope for Slow travel with or without a car including ten meticulously described walks pottering around on bikes steam trains volunteer run buses or on small boats including a solar powered craft in Chichester harbour. The writing team directs expert eyes on places and experiences that deserve savouring to the full the very best if sometimes delightfully obscure sights. Their choices take in the heights of the South Downs encounter the primeval landscapes of the High Weald and pick out the best of Sussex's long coastline. Their selection includes easily to miss gems from a full size replica of the Sistine Chapel ceiling in an obscure modern church to a unique Hastings factory providing cloth flowers for movies and theatres. Conservation of Historic Brick Structures Norbert Baer, S Fitz, R.A. Livingstone, 2015-11-17 Despite the widespread use of brick construction throughout the world there has been no major investigation into its deterioration and durability. This book provides the results of a major international study led by West Germany which examines the causes of decay in addition to the treatment and methods of conserving brickwork and historic mortars. The deterioration mechanisms discussed cover bio deterioration salt damage and the effects of air pollutants and moisture on masonry. Considerable attention is also devoted to historic mortars and renders their analysis behaviour under the stress of air pollution and the development of compatible modern formulations. Conservation methods for brick masonry including de salination protective coatings and injection grouting are examined in detail. A useful and extensive range of case study material is also provided. This volume represents the most comprehensive state of the art overview of the conservation of historic brick masonry and will be an invaluable source of reference for all conservation practitioners and researchers working in this field.

Tolley's Handbook of Disaster and Emergency Management Tony Moore, Raj Lakha, 2007-01-18 The Civil Contingencies Act 2004 modernised the UK's approach to disaster and emergency management taking into account the kinds of threats the country faces in the 21st century including terrorist threats and threats to the environment. Normal0falsefalsefalseEN GBX NONEX NONE Authentic Reconstruction John Bold,Peter Larkham,Robert Pickard,2017-12-14 Notions of authenticity lie at the heart of many questions about heritage and identity in the built environment These questions are most pertinent when buildings have been destroyed in disaster or war and the built fabric is being reconstructed to reinstate traditional or historic appearances in place of what was lost Authentic Reconstruction examines this idea of reconstruction using it as a prompt to examine a range of deeper issues on heritage and the built environment From post WWII reconstruction programmes through to the rebuilding of historic cultural landscapes lost in natural disasters this collection of essays by heritage specialists provides a wide range of case studies and discussions Each presents responses to crises and lessons learned in order to extrapolate general guidelines for future actions by politicians architects and planners in reconstructing buildings The book also looks beyond disaster and war noting how authenticity bears on political intentions and image building exploring how reconstruction is used to tell a political or historical story so conditioning the ways in which the built environment is perceived and appreciated by its users This is not just about the buildings as bricks and mortar but about perceptions of identity and the social and historical values which buildings and spaces embody for a richly diverse population This book will be valuable to all who are concerned with heritage as practitioners or consumers particularly those concerned with reconstruction and the creation of authentic places and experiences architects architectural historians town planners preservationists conservationists and those involved in heritage management and material culture

The Fire At Uppark: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have charmed audiences this year. The Fire At Uppark : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and suspenseful novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
