The Foreign Investment Debate:

The Foreign Investment Debate Cynthia A. Beltz, 1995 Traditionally the United States has maintained an open door at home while promoting investment liberalization abroad through the negotiation of bilateral and regional treaties This strategy has paid off by boosting productivity and economic welfare at home while developing countries are moving at an unprecedented rate to emulate the successful open door policies of the United States There is also renewed interest in a multilateral set of rules for investment At the same time a new generation of U S laws and proposed regulations challenges the very foundation of America s open door namely the principles of national treatment and nondiscrimination This volume brings both sides of the debate together to examine the changing economic role of foreign investment the policy trends and the tools for reducing barriers to transnational investors The result is a provocative and informative discussion of the strategies and trade offs shaping the foreign investment debate The International Law on Foreign Investment M. Sornarajah, 2021-07-01 The climate surrounding foreign investment law is one of controversy and change and with implications for human rights and environmental protection foreign investment law has gained widespread public attention and visibility This fully updated edition of Sornarajah s classic text offers thought provoking analysis of the law in historical political and economic contexts capturing leading trends and charting the possible course of future developments It takes into account the newer types of treaties that establish a regulatory space for states and moves away from inflexible investment protection exploring the newly created defences relating to environment human rights indigenous rights and other areas ending the fragmentation of the law It looks at the current debates on legitimacy of the system and current efforts at reform Suitable for postgraduate and undergraduate students The International Law on Foreign Investment is essential reading for anyone specialising in the law of foreign investments Foreign Investment Under the Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement (CETA) Makane Moïse Mbengue, Stefanie Schacherer, 2018-12-07 This book analyzes the investment chapter of a new type of trade agreement between Canada and the European Union to help readers gain a better understanding of this mega regional deal which includes foreign investment protection It first provides background information on the Comprehensive Economic and Trade Agreement CETA particularly focusing on the chapter on foreign investment including the rules on the entry of investments their protection and the stringent dispute settlement mechanism It goes on to explore whether these provisions are a further step toward reforming the current international investment law regime It also examines the highly innovative part of the agreement the inclusion of crosscutting issues such as sustainable development In addition it examines the CETA investment chapter from the perspective of non contracting parties including Africa Asia and Latin America The book is of interest to academics and students in the field of international investment law It is also an essential resource for government legal advisers policymakers business practitioners and others dealing with international investment law The treatment and taxation of foreign investment under international law Fiona

Beveridge, 2022-12-20 Now available as an ebook for the first time this 2000 title in the Melland Schill Studies in International Law series is an examination of key issues concerning the treatment of foreign investment and the taxation of investors. It looks at some of the challenges which globalization has thrown up for the international community from a legal perspective and sets developments alongside more traditional approaches. Particular attention is paid to the needs and aspirations of developing countries and the implications for them of free trade orthodoxy. After outlining the established framework of laws concerning investment protection and taxation, the author looks at experiences in the European Union and the North Atlantic Free Trade Agreement and at a range of disputes and legal developments to assess whether international legal regimes are responding adequately to meet the needs of states and investors alike. OECD initiatives on taxation and the aborted Multilateral Agreement on Investment negotiations are examined in conjunction with the relevant provisions of the World Trade Organization Agreements. Foreign Investment in the U.S. United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation, 1989 Foreign Investment in the United States United States. Congress. House. Committee on Energy and Commerce. Subcommittee on Commerce, Consumer Protection, and Competitiveness, 1991 Foreign Investment in the United States United States. Congress. House. Committee on Foreign Affairs. Subcommittee on International Economic Policy and Trade, 1989 The Legal Protection of Foreign Investment Wenhua Shan, 2012-06-14 The law of foreign investment is at a crossroads. In the wake of an unprecedented global financial crisis and a sharp surge of investment arbitration cases, states around the world are reflecting on the pros and cons of the current liberal investment regime and exploring new ways ahead. This book brings together leading investment lawyers from more than 20 main jurisdictions of the world to tackle the challenge of producing a first comparative study of foreign investment law. Based on the General and National Reports presented at the Protection of Foreign Investment Session at the 18th International Congress of the International Academy of Comparative Law, Washington DC, July 2010, the book is a unique resource for investment lawyers. Part I of the book presents a comparative overview of key aspects of foreign investment protection in the world today, including admission, investment contracts, treatment standards, tax regime, and incentives, performance requirements, property and expropriation, monetary transfer, and dispute settlement. Part II presents in depth and detailed accounts of the investment laws of more than 20 jurisdictions, including Argentina, Australia, Canada, China, Croatia, Czech Republic, Ethiopia, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, Japan, South Korea, Macau, Peru, Portugal, Russia, Singapore, Slovenia, Turkey, the UK, and the USA. The book will be an invaluable guide to legal and business communities with an interest in the law and practice of foreign investment in the world in general and in these jurisdictions in particular. Parliamentary Debates New Zealand. Parliament, 1971 Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1909 Contains the 4th session of the 28th Parliament through the session of the Parliament China and US Foreign Investment Laws and Practices Liu Ziyu, 2024-11-08 The book is a comparative study of the national security review of foreign investment laws in China and the US The author establishes a theoretical framework to explain the dominant role of ideas on national security and foreign investment rooted in China and the US as well as the oriented role of China US investment interaction She concludes that it is difficult for China and the US to reach a consensus on national security review due to their different internal ideas on national security and foreign investment By comparing the similarities and differences in the development of national security review in China and the US she also proposes a feasible approach to facilitate bilateral investment practices The book will attract scholars of international economic law investment law and Sino US relations

Canadian Economy United States. Congress. Joint Economic Committee. Subcommittee on Inter-American Economic Relationships,1976 Parliamentary Debates India. Parliament. Rajya Sabha,1991 Housing in 21st-Century Australia

Rae Dufty-Jones,Dallas Rogers,2016-03-09 Over the last two decades new and significant demographic economic social and environmental changes and challenges have shaped the production and consumption of housing in Australia and the policy settings that attempt to guide these processes These changes and challenges as outlined in this book are many and varied While these issues are new they raise timeless questions around affordability access density quantity type and location of housing needed in Australian towns and cities The studies presented in this text also provide a unique insight into a range of housing production consumption and policy issues that while based in Australia have implications that go beyond this national context For instance how do suburban based societies adjust to the realities of aging populations anthropogenic climate change and the significant implications such change has for housing How has policy been translated and assembled in specific national contexts Similarly what are the significantly different policy settings the production and consumption of housing in a post Global Financial Crisis period require Framed in this way this book accounts for and responds to some of the key housing issues of the 21st century Parliamentary Debates. House of Representatives New Zealand.

Parliament,1973 Foreign Direct Investment and International Law Adaeze Agatha Aniodoh,2025-07-16 This book examines the regulatory framework for foreign direct investments most notably the bilateral investment treaties which provide several guarantees that minimise the exposure of risks to foreign investors in a host State Most States have recognised that one of the ways they can improve their economic growth is by providing effective mechanisms for the attraction of foreign investments In this regard foreign direct investments have become a key element in the strategic vision for advancing any national economy The book examines guarantees which have the capacity to impinge on the economic sovereignty of a State raising questions such as are host States obliged to comply with the rights of foreign investors to free capital repatriation in the face of economic difficulties What power does a host State have to regulate and impose capital controls that are deleterious to the rights of a foreign investor This book argues that policies aimed at increasing foreign direct investment need to extend beyond investment liberalisation to strike a balance between the regulatory rights of a

State and the legitimate expectations of foreign investors Advancing the discussion on the necessity of balancing the needs of foreign investors with those of the host community and exploring the power asymmetry present in treaty negotiations this book will be of interest to students academics and practitioners with an interest in international investment law
