The Frame And The Mirror On Collage And The Postmodern:

The Frame and the Mirror Thomas P. Brockelman, 2001 If the postmodern is a collage as some critics have suggested or if collage is itself a kernel of the postmodern what does this mean for our way of understanding the world The Frame and the Mirror uses this question to probe the distinctive character of the postmodern situation and the philosophical problem of representation Brockelman's work is itself a collage of sorts using juxtapositions of critics and art historical figures to conduct a debate between such figures as Karsten Harries Gianni Vattimo Rosalind Krauss Immanuel Kant Jean Francois Lyotard Slavoj Žižek and Le Corbusier about issues such as truth in art perspectivism theatricality the sublime psychoanalytic theory politics and urbanism More than an introduction to the postmodern The Frame and the Mirror advances our understanding of the contemporary world by relating its features to the peculiar characteristics of collage Ultimately Brockelman shows how collage demands that we reinterpret modernity conceiving of it as suspended between a loss of certainty and a new kind of knowledge about the human condition In doing so his work challenges many of the claims made in the name of postmodernism and offers in their place a new and ironic view of the cultural space in which contemporary and historical events occur

The Collage Aesthetic in the Harlem Renaissance Rachel Farebrother, 2016-12-05 Beginning with a subtle and persuasive analysis of the cultural context Farebrother examines collage in modernist and Harlem Renaissance figurative art and unearths the collage sensibility attendant in Franz Boas's anthropology This strategy makes explicit the formal choices of Harlem Renaissance writers by examining them in light of African American vernacular culture and early twentieth century discourses of anthropology cultural nationalism and international modernism At the same time attention to the politics of form in such texts as Toomer's Cane Locke's The New Negro and selected works by Hurston reveals that the production of analogies juxtapositions frictions and distinctions on the page has aesthetic historical and political implications Why did these African American writers adopt collage form during the Harlem Renaissance What did it allow them to articulate These are among the questions Farebrother poses as she strives for a middle ground between critics who view the Harlem Renaissance as a distinctive and necessarily subversive kind of modernism and those who foreground the cooperative nature of interracial creative work during the period A key feature of her project is her exploration of neglected connections between Euro American modernism and the Harlem Renaissance a journey she negotiates while never losing sight of the particularity of African American experience Ambitious and wide ranging Rachel Farebrother's book offers us a fresh lens through which to view this crucial moment in American culture

Collage in Twenty-First-Century Literature in English Wojciech Drag, 2019-11-12 Collage in Twenty First Century Literature in English Art of Crisis considers the phenomenon of the continued relevance of collage a form established over a hundred years ago to contemporary literature It argues that collage is a perfect artistic vehicle to represent the crisis ridden reality of the twenty first century Being a mixture of fragmentary incompatible voices collage embodies the chaos of the media dominated world Examining the artistic sociopolitical and personal crises addressed in contemporary collage literature the book argues that the 21st Century has brought a revival of collage like novels and essays

In Praise of Copying Marcus Boon, 2013-03-11 This book is devoted to a deceptively simple but original argument that copying is an essential part of being human that the ability to copy is worthy of celebration and that without recognizing how integral copying is to being human we cannot understand ourselves or the world we live in In spite of the laws stigmas and anxieties attached to it the word copying permeates contemporary culture shaping discourse on issues from hip hop to digitization to gender reassignment and is particularly crucial in legal debates concerning intellectual property and copyright Yet as a philosophical concept copying remains poorly understood Working comparatively across cultures and times Marcus Boon undertakes an examination of what this word means historically culturally philosophically and why it fills us with fear and fascination He argues that the dominant legal political structures that define copying today obscure much broader processes of imitation that have constituted human communities for ages and continue to shape various subcultures today Drawing on contemporary art music and film the history of aesthetics critical theory and Buddhist philosophy and practice In Praise of Copying seeks to show how and why copying works what the sources of its power are and the political stakes of renegotiating the way we value copying in the age of globalization

International Law's Collected Stories Sofia Stolk, Renske Vos, 2020-12-19 This edited volume presents a collection of stories that experiment with different ways of looking at international law By using different literary lenses namely storytelling the novel the drama the collage the self portrait and the museum the authors shed light on elements of international law that usually remain unseen or unheard and expose the limits of what international law can do We inquire into who the storytellers of international law are the stages on which they tell their stories and who are absent in these tales We present it as a collection a set of different essays that more or less deal with the same subject matter Alternatively we would like to call it a potpourri of stories since the diversity of topics and approaches is eclectic and unconventional By placing multiple perspectives alongside each other we aim to compare and contrast to allow for second thoughts and to rediscover In doing so we engage with the ambiguities of international law s characters and spaces and with the worldviews they reflect and worlds they create

Experimental Writing in Composition Patricia Suzanne Sullivan, 2012-12-15 From the outset experimental writing has been viewed as a means to afford a more creative space for students to express individuality underrepresented social realities and criticisms of dominant socio political discourses and their institutions Yet the recent trend toward multimedia texts has left many composition instructors with little basis from which to assess these new forms and to formulate pedagogies In this original study Patricia Suzanne Sullivan provides a critical history of experimental writing theory and its aesthetic foundations and demonstrates their application to current multimodal writing Sullivan unpacks the work of major scholars in composition and rhetoric and their theories on aesthetics particularly avant gardism She also relates the dialectics that shape these aesthetics and sheds new light on both the positive and negative aspects of experimental writing and its attempts to redefine the writing disciplines Additionally she shows how current debates over the value of multimedia texts echo earlier arguments that pitted experimental writing against traditional models Sullivan further articulates the ways that multimedia is and isn't changing composition pedagogies and provides insights into resolving these tensions

Photography's Materialities Geoff Bender, Rasmus R. Simonsen, 2021-05-17 There is little dispute that photography is a material practice and that the photograph itself is ineluctably material And yet matter, material and materiality have proven to be remarkably elusive terms of inquiry frequently producing studies that are disparate in scope sharing seemingly little common ground Although the wide methodological range of materialist study can be dizzying it is this book's contention that that multiplicity is also the field's greatest asset keeping materialist inquiry enduringly vibrant provided that varying methods are in close enough proximity to converse Photography's Materialities orchestrates one such conversation Juxtaposing the insights of theorists like Lacan, Benjamin and Latour beside close studies of crime spirit and composite photography among others this collection aims for a productive synergy one capacious enough to span transatlantic spaces over the long nineteenth century Contributors Kris Belden Adams University of Mississippi Maura Coughlin Bryant University David LaRocca independent scholar Jacob W Lewis University of Rochester Mary Marchand Goucher College Zachary Tavlin Art Institute of Chicago Christa Holm Vogelius University of Copenhagen

Luminous presence Alexandra Parsons, 2021-11-02 Luminous presence Derek Jarman's life writing is the first book to analyse the prolific writing of queer icon Derek Jarman Although he is well known for his avant garde filmmaking his garden and his AIDS activism he is also the author of over a dozen books many of which are autobiographical Much of Jarman's exploration of post war queer identity and imaginative response to HIV AIDS can be found in his books such as the lyrical AIDS diaries Modern Nature and Smiling in Slow Motion This book fully explores for the first time the remarkable range and depth of Jarman's writing Spanning his career Alexandra Parsons argues that Jarman's self reflexive response to the HIV AIDS crisis was critical in changing the cultural terms of queer representation from the 1980s onwards Luminous presence is of great interest to students scholars and readers of queer histories in literature art and film

Speculative Taxidermy Giovanni Aloï, 2018-01-23 Taxidermy once the province of natural history and dedicated to the pursuit of lifelike realism has recently resurfaced in the world of contemporary art culture and interior design In Speculative Taxidermy Giovanni Aloï offers a comprehensive mapping of the discourses and practices that have enabled the emergence of taxidermy in contemporary art Drawing on the speculative turn in philosophy and recovering past alternative histories of art and materiality from a biopolitical perspective Aloï theorizes speculative taxidermy a powerful interface that unlocks new ethical and political opportunities in human animal relationships and speaks to how animal representation conveys the urgency of addressing climate change capitalist exploitation and mass extinction A resolutely nonanthropocentric take on the materiality of one of the most controversial mediums in art this approach relentlessly questions past and present ideas of human separation from the animal kingdom It situates taxidermy as a powerful interface between humans and animals rooted in a shared ontological and physical vulnerability Carefully considering a select number of key examples including the work of Nandipha Mntambo Maria Papadimitriou Mark Dion Berlinde De Bruyckere Roni Horn Oleg Kulik Steve Bishop Sn bj rnsd ttir Wilson and Cole Swanson Speculative Taxidermy contextualizes the resilient presence of animal skin in the gallery space as a productive opportunity to rethink ethical and political stances in human animal relationships

The Semiotics of Che Guevara Maria-Carolina Cambre, 2014-11-20 Alberto Korda's famous photograph of Che Guevara titled the Guerrillero Heroico has been reproduced modified and remixed countless times since it was taken on March 5 1960 in Havana Cuba This book looks again at this well known mass produced image to explore how an image can take on cultural force in diverse parts of the globe and legitimate varying positions and mass action in unexpected global political contexts Analytically the book develops a comparative analysis of how images become attached to a range of meanings that are absolutely inseparable from their contexts of use Addressing the need for a fluid and responsive approach to the study of visual meaning making this book relies on multiple methodologies such as semiotics research creation multimodal discourse analysis ethnography and phenomenology and shows how each method has something to offer toward the understanding of the social and cultural work of images in our globally oriented cultures

The Poetics of Fragmentation in Contemporary British and American Fiction Vanessa Guignery, Wojciech Drąg, 2019-12-02 The last decades have seen a revival of fragmentation in British and American works of fiction that deny linearity coherence and continuity in favour of disruption gaps and fissures Authors such as Ali Smith David Mitchell and David Shields have sought new ways of representing our global media saturated contemporary experience which differ from modernist and postmodernist experimentations from which the writers nevertheless draw inspiration This volume aims to investigate some of the most important contributions to fragmentary literature from British and American writers since the 1990s with a particular emphasis on texts released in the twenty first century The chapters within examine whether contemporary forms of literary fragmentation constitute a return to the modernist episteme or the fragmented literature of exhaustion of the 1960s mark a continuity with postmodernist aesthetics or signal a deviation from past models and an attempt to reflect today's accelerated culture of social media and over communication Contributors theorise and classify literary fragments examine the relationship between fragmentation and the Zeitgeist influenced by globalisation media saturation and social networks analyse the mechanics of multimodal and multimedial fictions and consider the capacity of literary fragmentation to represent personal or collective trauma and to address ethical concerns They also investigate the ways in which the architecture of the printed book is destabilised and how aesthetic processes involving fragmentation bricolage and or collage raise ontological ethical and epistemological questions about the globalised contemporary world we live in and its relation to the self and the other Besides the aforementioned authors the volume makes reference to the works of J G Ballard Julian Barnes Mark Z Danielewski David Markson Jonathan Safran Foer David Foster Wallace Jeanette Winterson and several others Qualitative Inquiry Lynn

Butler-Kisber, 2010-02-17 Qualitative Inquiry unites the basics of research design in qualitative research with the practice of analysing qualitative data This textbook addresses the theory and practice of choosing and designing a qualitative approach and methodological and analytical ramifications that follow from making such choices It aims to set out the theoretical underpinnings behind different methodological choices and to help students then follow up on and interrogate such approaches Qualitative Inquiry is the ideal starting point for students on research training courses who have opted to develop a qualitative research project In it Butler Kisber introduces students to theory and then demonstrates this theory in practice by showing how a project is actually designed and actually analysed This book examines theory method and interpretation in a way that is meaningful to students and new researchers as well as discussing newer more avant garde developments in qualitative research in arts based inquiry It is essential reading for students who are seeking to make sense of their research and their developing theoretical standpoints Handbook of the Arts in Qualitative Research, 2022 Practice-led

Research, Research-led Practice in the Creative Arts Hazel Smith, 2009-06-30 This book addresses one of the most exciting and innovative developments within higher education the rise in prominence of the creative arts and the accelerating recognition that creative practice is a form of research The book considers how creative practice can lead to research insights through what is often known as practice led research But unlike other books on practice led research it balances this with discussion of how research can impact positively on creative practice through research led practice The editors posit an iterative and web like relationship between practice and research Essays within the book cover a wide range of disciplines including creative writing dance music theatre film and new media and the contributors are from the UK US Canada and Australia The subject is approached from numerous angles the authors discuss methodologies of practice led research and research led practice their own creative work as a form of research research training for creative practitioners and the politics and histories of practice led research and research led practice within the university The book will be
