The Function Of Theory In Composition Studies:

The Function of Theory in Composition Studies Raul Sanchez, 2006-06-01 Offers an extended critique of key assumptions in composition theory and a new paradigm for thinking about writing in an increasingly globalized and textualized world

The Function of Theory in Composition Studies Raul Sanchez, 2012-02-01 How can theory improve our knowledge of writing Raul Sanchez answers this question by examining dominant theoretical trends in composition studies over the last fifteen years citing their common origins in a narrow representational metatheory of writing He argues that this adherence actually leads the field away from its objects of study writing and the writing subject Through this extended critique he elaborates an alternative metatheory one that restores writing to the conceptual center of composition studies by emphasizing its generative rather than its representational characteristics particularly in increasingly networked and textualized cultures

Publishing in Rhetoric and Composition Gary A. Olson, Todd W. Taylor, 1997-01-01 Eminent scholars discuss the politics and practices of generating scholarship in rhetoric and composition studies Publishing in Rhetoric and Composition is a collection of essays about the politics and practices of generating scholarship in rhetoric and composition The contributors to this book many of whom are current or past editors of the discipline's most prestigious scholarly journals undoubtedly have their finger on the pulse of composition's most current scholarship and offer invaluable insight into the production and publication of original research They discuss publishing articles and reviews as well as book length projects including scholarly monographs edited collections and textbooks They also address such topics as how composition research is valued in English departments recent developments in electronic publishing the work habits of successful academic writers and the complications of mentoring graduate students in a publish or perish profession An inviting and helpful tone makes this an ideal textbook for research methodology and professional writing courses

Ecology, Writing Theory, and New Media Sidney Dobrin, 2011-12-22 Moving beyond ecocomposition this book galvanizes conversations in ecology and writing not with an eye toward homogenization but with an agenda of firmly establishing the significance of writing research that intersects with ecology It looks to establish ecological writing studies not just as a legitimate or important form of writing research but as paramount to the future of writing studies and writing theory Complex ecologies writing studies and new media post media converge to highlight network theories systems theories and posthumanist theories as central in the shaping of writing theory and this study embraces work in these areas as essential to the development of ecological theories of writing Contributors address ecological theories of writing by way of diverse and promising avenues united by the underlying commitment to better understand how ecological methodologies might help better inform our understanding of writing and might provoke new theories of writing Ecology Writing Theory and New Media fuels future theoretical conversations about ecology and writing and will be of interest to those who are interested in theories of writing and the function of writing

Postcomposition Sidney I Dobrin, 2011-06-02 Leading a burgeoning self critical moment in composition studies and writing program administration Postcomposition is a fundamental reconsideration of the field that attempts to shift the focus away from pedagogy and writing subjects and toward writing itself In this forceful and reasoned critique of many of the primary tenets and widely accepted institutional structures of composition studies Sidney I Dobrin delivers a series of shocks to the system meant to disrupt the pedagogical imperative and move beyond the existing limits of the discipline Dobrin evaluates the current state of composition studies underscoring the difference between composition and writing and arguing that the field s focus on the administration of writing students and its historically imposed prohibition on theory greatly limit what can be understood about writing Instead he envisions a more significant approach to writing one that questions the field s conservative allegiance to subject and administration and reconsiders writing as spatial and ecological Using concepts from ecocomposition spatial theory network theory complexity theory and systems theory Postcomposition lays the groundwork for a networked theory of writing and advocates the abandonment of administration as a useful part of the field He also challenges the usefulness of rhetoric in writing studies showing how writing exceeds rhetoric Postcomposition is a detailed consideration of how posthumanism affects the field s understanding of subjectivity It also tears at the seams of the contingent labor problem As he articulates his own frustrations with the conservatism of composition studies and builds on previous critiques of the discipline Dobrin stages a courageous and inevitably polemical intellectual challenge to the entrenched ideas and assumptions that have defined composition studies

Dialectical Rhetoric Bruce McComiskey, 2015-06-26 In Dialectical Rhetoric Bruce McComiskey argues that the historical conflict between rhetoric and dialectic can be overcome in ways useful to both composition theory and the composition classroom Historically dialectic has taken two forms in relation to rhetoric First it has been the logical development of linear propositions leading to necessary conclusions a one dimensional form that was the counterpart of rhetorics in which philosophical metaphysical and scientific truths were conveyed with as little cognitive interference from language as possible Second dialectic has been the topical development of opposed arguments on controversial issues and the judgment of their relative strengths and weaknesses usually in political and legal contexts a two dimensional form that was the counterpart of rhetorics in which verbal battles over competing probabilities in public institutions revealed distinct winners and losers The discipline of writing studies is on the brink of developing a new relationship between dialectic and rhetoric one in which dialectics and rhetorics mediate and negotiate different arguments and orientations that are engaged in any rhetorical situation This new relationship consists of a three dimensional hybrid art called dialectical rhetoric whose method is based on five topoi deconstruction dialogue identification critique and juxtaposition Three dimensional dialectical rhetorics function effectively in a wide variety of discursive contexts including digital environments since they can invoke contrasts in stagnant contexts and promote associations in chaotic contexts Dialectical Rhetoric focuses more attention on three dimensional rhetorics from the rhetoric and composition community

Writing Studies Research in Practice Lee Nickoson, Mary P Sheridan, 2012-09-10 An essential reference for students and scholars exploring the methods and methodologies of writing research What does it mean to research writing today What are the practical and theoretical issues researchers face when approaching writing as they do What are the gains or limitations of applying particular methods and what might researchers be overlooking These questions and more are answered by the writing research field's leading scholars in Writing Studies Research in Practice Methods and Methodologies Editors Nickoson and Sheridan gather twenty chapters from leaders in writing research spanning topics from ethical considerations for researchers quantitative methods and activity analysis to interviewing and communitybased and Internet research While each chapter addresses a different subject the volume as a whole covers the range of methodologies technologies and approaches both old and new that writing researchers use and examines the ways in which contemporary writing research is understood practiced and represented An essential reference for experienced researchers and an invaluable tool to help novices understand research methods and methodologies Writing Studies Research in Practice includes established methods and knowledge while addressing the contemporary issues interests and concerns faced by writing researchers today

Routledge Handbook of Sustainable Design Rachel Beth Egenhoefer, 2017-07-28 The Routledge Handbook of Sustainable Design considers the design not only of artifacts but of structures systems and interactions that bear our decisions and identities in the context of sustaining our shared planet In addressing issues of design for global impact behavior change systems and strategy ethics and values this handbook presents a unique and powerful design perspective Just as there are multiple definitions of design so there are several definitions of sustainability making it difficult to find unity The term can sometimes be seen as a goal to achieve or a characteristic to check off on a list of criteria In actuality we will never finish being sustainable We must instead always strive to design work and live sustainably The voices throughout this handbook present many different characteristics layers approaches and perspectives in this journey of sustaining This handbook divides into five sections which together present a holistic approach to understanding the many facets of sustainable design Part 1 Systems and Design Part 2 Global Impact Part 3 Values Ethics and Identity Part 4 Design for Behavior Change Part 5 Moving Forward This handbook will be invaluable to those wishing to broaden their understanding of sustainable design and students and practitioners of Environmental Studies Architecture Product Design and the Visual Arts

Writing Posthumanism, Posthuman Writing Sidney I. Dobrin, 2015-05-01 Writing Posthumanism Posthuman Writing is designed to spark conversation It is intended to highlight the growing importance of posthumanist approaches to writing studies and in doing so works to solidify the importance of such work to the future of writing studies Its organizational structure length and approach serve this agenda working as much to encourage a growing conversation as it does to provide substantial original work from which such conversations might emerge The thirteen original essays that comprise Writing Posthumanism Posthuman Writing are organized to provide a progression from articles that introduce theoretical concepts regarding the intersections of posthumanism and writing to works that examine specific contexts as vehicles for developing posthumanist theories

Reimagining Process Kyle Jensen, 2015 Reimagining Process explores how process and attending concepts such as reflection care power and portfolios might play a more prominent role in emerging writing studies research

Ecosee Sidney I. Dobrin, Sean Morey, 2009-04-16 Examines the rhetorical role of images in communicating environmental ideas

Still Life with Rhetoric Laurie E. Gries, 2015-03-05 In Still Life with Rhetoric Laurie Gries forges connections among new materialism actor network theory and rhetoric to explore how images become rhetorically active in a digitally networked global environment Rather than study how an already materialized visual text functions within a specific context Gries investigates how images often circulate and transform across media genre and location at viral rates A four part case study of Shepard Fairey's now iconic Obama Hope image elucidates how images reassemble collective life as they actualize in different versions enter into various relations and spark a firework of activity across the globe While intent on tracking the rhetorical life of a single multiple image Still Life with Rhetoric is most concerned with studying rhetoric in motion To account for an image's widespread circulation and emergent activities Gries introduces iconographic tracking a digital research method for tracing an image's divergent rhetorical becomings Yet Gries also articulates a dynamic set of theoretical principles for studying rhetoric as a distributed generative and unforeseeable event that is applicable beyond the study of visual rhetoric With an eye toward futurity the strands of time beyond a thing's initial moment of production and delivery Still Life with Rhetoric intends to be taken up by those interested in visual rhetoric research methods and theory

Revising Moves Christina LaVecchia, Allison Carr, Laura Micciche, Hannah Rule, Jayne Stone, 2024-04-22 Revision sometimes seems more metaphor than real having been variously described as a stage an act of goal setting a method of correction a process of discovery a form of resistance Revising Moves makes a significant contribution to writing theory by collecting stories of revision that honor revision's vitality and immerse readers in rooms life circumstances and scenes where revision comes to life In these narrative driven essays written by a wide range of writing professionals Revising Moves describes revision as a messy generative and often collaborative act These meditations reveal how revision is both a micro practice tracked by textual change and a macro phenomenon rooted in family life institutional culture identity commitments and political and social upheaval Contributors depict revision as a holistic undertaking and a radically contextualized distributed practice that showcases its relationality to everything else Authors share their revision processes when creating scholarly works institutional and self promoting documents and creative projects Through narrative the volume opens a window to what is often unseen in a finished text months or years of work life events that disrupt or alter writing plans multiple draft changes questions about writerly identity and positionality layers of sometimes contradictory feedback and much more

Sexual Rhetorics Jonathan Alexander, Jacqueline Rhodes, 2015-10-16 Sexual rhetoric is the self conscious and critical engagement with discourses of sexuality that exposes both their naturalization and their queering their torquing to create different or counter discourses giving voice and agency to multiple and complex sexual experiences This volume explores the intersection of rhetoric and sexuality through the varieties of methods available in the fields of rhetoric and writing studies including case studies theoretical questioning ethnographies or close and distant readings of texts that help us think through the rhetorical force of sexuality and the sexual force of rhetoric

Beyond Postprocess Sidney I. Dobrin, J.A. Rice, Michael Vastola, 2011-06-30 Beyond Postprocess offers a vigorous provocative discussion of postprocess theory in its contemporary profile Fueled by something like a fundamental refusal to see writing as self evident reducible and easily explicable the contributors rethink postprocess suggesting that there is no easily defined moment or method that could be called postprocess Instead each contribution to this collection provides a unique and important example of what work beyond postprocess could be Since postprocess theory in writing studies first challenged traditional conceptions of writing and the subject who writes developments there have continued to push theorists of writing in a number of promising theoretical directions Spaces for writing have arisen that radically alter ideological notions of space rational thinking intellectual property and politics and epistemologies and new media digital and visual rhetorics have increasingly complicated the scene as well Contributors to Beyond Postprocess reconsider writing and writing studies through posthumanism ecology new media materiality multimodal and digital writing institutional critique and postpedagogy Through the lively and provocative character of these essays Beyond Postprocess aims to provide a critical site for nothing less than the broad reevaluation of what it means to study writing today Its polyvocal considerations and conclusions invest the volume with a unique potential to describe not what that field of study should be but what it has the capacity to create The central purpose of Beyond Postprocess is to unleash this creative potential

The Theory and Criticism of Virtual Texts Lory Hawkes, Joe Law, Christina Murphy, 2000-11-30 Virtual texts have emerged within the realm of the Internet as the predominant means of global communication As both technological and cultural artifacts they embody and challenge cultural assumptions and invite new ways of conceptualizing knowledge community identity and meaning But despite the pervasiveness of the Internet in nearly all aspects of contemporary life no single resource has cataloged the ways in which numerous disciplines have investigated and critiqued virtual texts This bibliography includes more than 1500 annotated entries for books articles dissertations and electronic resources on virtual texts published between 1988 and 1999 Because of the multiple contexts in which virtual texts are studied the bibliography addresses virtual communication across a broad range of disciplines and philosophies It encompasses studies of the historical development of virtual texts investigations of the many interdisciplinary applications of virtual texts and discussions of such legal issues as privacy and intellectual property Entries are arranged alphabetically within topical chapters and extensive indexes facilitate easy access

Haiku Across Borders Atsushi Iida, 2025-02-14 Drawing on a total of 8 308 haiku poems written by 834 English as a foreign language EFL university students in Japan this book explores the value possibility and potential of teaching and researching English language haiku in second and foreign language SFL contexts The book showcases how haiku is used and taught in the SFL classroom and discusses how the task of reading and writing English language haiku promotes SFL learning More specifically it addresses these questions What are the textual features of English language haiku produced by EFL students How do EFL students read and interpret English language haiku What knowledge and skills do EFL students gain through the task of reading and writing English language haiku What are the perceptions and attitudes of EFL students in relation to the task of reading and writing haiku in the English classroom How can English language haiku be used as a research methodology With empirical evidence from both quantitative and qualitative data this book moves the field forward by addressing the methodological and pedagogical issues in relation to the use of poetry writing in SFL teaching and learning The uniqueness of this book lies in its applicability and practicality both in methodological and pedagogical approaches to haiku writing that students researchers and teachers in applied linguistics can replicate in diverse teaching contexts

Networked Process Helen Foster, 2007-08-01 Helen Foster problematizes one of the dominant metaphors in rhetoric and composition the notion of writing process and in turn offers an important and engaging new approach for the future of the discipline one that directly addresses the complexities challenges and opportunities for writing research in a postmodern world

Coming To Terms Patricia Lynne, 2004-11-01 In a provocative book length essay Patricia Lynne argues that most programmatic assessment of student writing in U S public and higher education is conceived in the terms of mid 20th century positivism Since composition as a field had found its most compatible home in constructivism she asks why do compositionists import a conceptual frame for assessment that is incompatible with composition theory By casting this as a clash of paradigms Lynne is able to highlight the ways in which each theory can and cannot influence the shape of assessment within composition She laments as do many in composition that the objectively oriented paradigm of educational assessment theory subjugates and discounts the very social constructionist principles that empower composition pedagogy Further Lynne criticizes recent practice for accommodating the big business of educational testing especially for capitulating to the discourse of positivism embedded in terms like validity and reliability These terms and concepts she argues have little theoretical significance within composition studies and their technical and philosophical import are downplayed by composition assessment scholars. There is a need, Lynne says, for terms of assessment that are native to composition. To open this needed discussion within the field, she analyzes cutting edge assessment efforts including the work of Broad and Haswell and she advances a set of alternate terms for evaluating assessment practices, a set of terms grounded in constructivism and composition. Coming to Terms is ambitious and principled and it takes a controversial stand on important issues. This strong new volume in assessment theory will be of serious interest to assessment specialists and their students, to composition theorists and to those now mounting assessments in their own programs.
