The Guns Of Harpers Ferry:

The Guns of Harpers Ferry Stuart E. Brown, 2009-06 This standard history of Bath County Of greatest genealogical import are the chapters devoted to the names of heads of families in Bath in 1782 early marriage records a roster of Confederate soldiers and a list of families in Greater Bath Guns on the Early Frontiers Carl Parcher Russell, 1980-01-01 Here is a book for the historian the student the gun collector or aficionado It approaches understatement to call Guns on the Early Frontiers an outstanding contribution to firearms literature It sets its own standard New York Times A Glossary of Gun Terms ample footnotes most skillfully arranged and illustrations beyond the dreams of avarice complement the text which achieves the miracle of scholarship without tedium W H Hutchinson San Francisco Chronicle Not the least interesting portions of the book are the notes and glossary and the excellent bibliography Here is a book designed primarily for the serious collector or gun historian but whose readable style should appeal even to the casual amateur The collecting of old guns whether privately or by a public institution involves a certain responsibility These guns whose history is inextricably linked with the history of settlement require something more than careful preservations They require and the present volume goes far to supply accurate documentation Canadian Historical Review Carl P Russell a leading authority on firearms of the American frontier was coordinator of planning for the science and history museums and other interpretive facilities of the National Park Service in the Western United States The Strange Story of Harper's Ferry Josephus (Junior), 1903 Guns of the Old West Charles Edward Chapel, 2002-05-01 Dramatic story of shoulder arms hand guns and other weapons also describes the men who used them Detailed descriptions and illustrations of the Kentucky and Sharps rifle Colt revolver and much more 499 black and white illustrations The Indianization of Lewis and Clark William R. Swagerty, 2012-10-29 Although some have attributed the success of the Lewis and Clark expedition primarily to gunpowder and gumption historian William R Swagerty demonstrates in this two volume set that adopting Indian ways of procuring processing and transporting food and gear was crucial to the survival of the Corps of Discovery The Indianization of Lewis and Clark retraces the well known trail of America s most famous explorers as a journey into the heart of Native America a case study of successful material adaptation and cultural borrowing Beginning with a broad examination of regional demographics and folkways Swagerty describes the cultural baggage and material preferences the expedition carried west in 1804 Detailing this baseline reveals which Indian influences were already part of Jeffersonian American culture and which were progressive adaptations the Corpsmen made of Indian ways in the course of their journey Swagerty s exhaustive research offers detailed information on both Indian and Euro American science medicine cartography and cuisine and on a wide range of technologies and material culture Readers learn what the Corpsmen wore what they ate how they traveled and where they slept and with whom before during and after the return Indianization is as old as contact experiences between Native Americans and Europeans Lewis and Clark took the process to a new level accepting the hospitality of dozens of Native groups as they sought a navigable water route to the Pacific This richly illustrated interdisciplinary study provides a unique and complex portrait of the material and cultural legacy of Indian America offering readers perspective on lessons learned but largely forgotten in the aftermath of the epic journey

The Best Gun in the World Robert S. Seigler, 2017-10-31 A thoroughly researched account of weapons innovation and industrialization in South Carolina during the Civil War and the man who made it happen A year after seceding from the Union South Carolina and the Confederate States government faced the daunting challenge of equipping soldiers with weapons ammunition and other military implements during the American Civil War In The Best Gun in the World Robert S. Seigler explains how South Carolina created its own armory and then enlisted the help of a weapons technology inventor to meet the demand Seigler mined state and federal factory records national and state archives and US patents for detailed information on weapons production the salaries and status of free and enslaved employees and other financial records to reveal an interesting distinctive story of technological innovation and industrialization in South Carolina George Woodward Morse originally from New Hampshire was a machinist and firearms innovator who settled in Louisiana in the 1840s He invented a reliable breechloading firearm in the mid 1850s to replace muzzleloaders that were ubiquitous throughout the world Essential to the successful operation of any breechloader was its ammunition and Morse perfected the first metallic center fire pre-primed cartridge his most notable contribution to the development of modern firearms The US War Department tested Morse rifles and cartridges prior to the beginning of the Civil War and contracted with the inventor to produce the weapons at Harpers Ferry Armory However when the war began Morse a slave holding plantation owner determined that he could sell more of his guns in the South The South Carolina State Military Works originally designed to cast cannon produced Morse's carbine and modified muskets brass cartridges cartridge boxes and other military accoutrements The armory ultimately produced only about 1 350 Morse firearms For the next twenty years Morse sought to regain his legacy as the inventor of the center fire brass cartridges that are today standard ammunition for military and sporting firearms Does justice to one of the greatest stories in American firearms history If George Woodward Morse had not sided with the Confederacy his name might be as famous today as Colt or Winchester Gordon L.
