The Harold Letters The Making Of An American Intellectual:

The Harold Letters, 1928-1943 Clement Greenberg, 2003 The Harold Letters Clement Greenberg, 2003-07-18

Candid breathless arrogant ambitious here in his own words is Clement Greenberg a young man of limitless intellectual appetite on his way to becoming the twentieth century's greatest art critic Clement Greenberg was and remains America's most perceptive prescient and influential art critic More alive than any of his contemporaries to the genius of art in his time it was Greenberg who in the 1940s and 50s charted and celebrated the rise of Abstract Expressionism The authority of his aesthetic judgment and the force and clarity of his arguments went far to establish those artists whose work he championed Pollock de Kooning Hans Hofmann David Smith Before all that however he was a young man burning to become an intellectual to make what he called Important Discoveries about art and life His confidant during these early years was Creativity Piri Halasz, 2009 A Memoir of Creativity chronicles one woman's life journey as she derives a theory revealing meaning in abstract painting from varied personal and professional experiences and tells how she locates this theory within a broader social context. In 1966 Piri Halasz became the first woman within living memory to write a cover story for Time and not just any cover story either the notorious one on Swinging London. With wit and wisdom she provides a glimpse into her red diaper childhood as well as reporting on her climb at Time from research to the writing staff. Vividly she describes her controversial career as a female journalist during the sixties offering an inside view of newsweekly rivalries during that tempestuous decade. Halasz then moves on to her initiation into the art world her lively interaction with some of its most distinguished denizens and her immersion in graduate school. She concludes with what she has learned about art art history and history itself since the early eighties applying that knowledge to better understand the twenty first century. Through sharing her life story Halasz encourages others to remain open to new experiences to try different ways of seeing and to use creativity to tackle hurdles.

The Changing Boundaries and Nature of the Modern Art World

Richard Kalina, 2021-04-08 Concentrating on the shifting boundaries and definition of art Richard Kalina offers a panoramic view of the contemporary art scene over the last 30 years. His focus is on the ongoing development of concepts the transformation of art worlds and the social matrices in which they are created. Discussing painting in general and abstract painting in particular his survey takes in photorealism sculpture and art forms found outside of the modernist tradition. Kalina's group of artists includes Mel Bochner Joan Mitchell Cy Twombly Franz West and Alma Thomas who in their ongoing projects explicitly or implicitly questioned the aesthetic assumptions of their times. Merging an examination of animating philosophies and context political social and personal with a sharply focused look at the works of art themselves Kalina brings us closer to understanding the social matrices in which art is embedded and responds to bigger questions about the object nature of the work of art in today's world.

Consuming Surrealism in American Culture Sandra Zalman, 2017-07-05 Consuming Surrealism in American Culture Dissident Modernism argues that Surrealism worked as a powerful agitator to disrupt dominant ideas of modern art in the United States. Unlike standard accounts that focus on Surrealism in the U.S. during the 1940s as a point of departure for the ascendance of the New York School this study contends that Surrealism has been integral to the development of American visual culture over the course of the twentieth century. Through analysis of Surrealism in both the museum and the marketplace Sandra Zalman tackles Surrealism's multi-faceted circulation as both elite and popular. Zalman shows how the American encounter with Surrealism was shaped by Alfred Barr William Rubin and Rosalind Krauss as these influential curators mobilized Surrealism to compose to concretize or to unseat narratives of modern art in the 1930s 1960s and 1980s alongside Surrealism's intersection with advertising Magic Realism Pop and the rise of contemporary photography. As a popular avant garde Surrealism openly resisted art historical classification forcing the supposedly distinct spheres of modernism and mass culture into conversation and challenging theories of modern art in

Abstract Expressionism, Clement Greenberg and the Cold War Daniel Neofetou, 2021-09-23 Since the 1970s it has been argued that Abstract Expressionism was exhibited abroad by the post war US establishment in an attempt to culturally match and reinforce its newfound economic and military dominance The account of Abstract Expressionism developed by the American critic Clement Greenberg is often identified as central to these efforts However this book rereads Greenberg's account through Theodor Adorno and Maurice Merleau Ponty in order to contend that Greenberg's criticism in fact testifies to how Abstract Expressionism opposes the ends to which it was deployed With reference not only to the most famous artists of the movement but also female artists and artists of colour whom Greenberg himself neglected such as Joan Mitchell and Norman Lewis it is argued that far from reinforcing the capitalist status quo Abstract Expressionism engages corporeal and affective elements of experience dismissed or delegitimated by capitalism and promises a world that would do justice to them
