The Heirs Of Ariadne Cultural Series:

Goddesses in World Culture Patricia Monaghan, 2010-12-01 This collection of accessible essays relates the stories of individual goddesses from around the world exploring their roles in the cultures from which they came their histories and status today and the controversies surrounding them Goddesses in World Culture brings readers the fascinating stories of close to 100 of the world's goddesses ranging from the immediately recognizable to the obscure These figures many of whom derive from ancient cultures and civilizations serve as points of departure for examining questions that go well beyond the role of women in religion and spirituality to include social organization environmental awareness historical developments and psychological archetypes Each volume of this groundbreaking set is composed of 20-25 previously unpublished articles written by expert contributors from diverse disciplines Volume one covers Asia and Africa volume two covers the Eastern Mediterranean and Europe and volume three covers Australia and the Americas Goddesses from cultures often overlooked in texts on religion such as those of the Australian Aborigines Korea Nepal and the Caribbean are included here In addition the work offers new translations of ancient texts introduces little known folklore and suggests new approaches to contemporary religious practices

Ariadne's Thread Mary E. Clark, 1989-07-24 An analysis of the contemporary world and its future The author begins by assessing whether there are limits to growth and if so how we can change our attitude and prevent the destruction which seems inevitable

Women in Medieval Western European Culture Linda E. Mitchell, 2012-11-12 This is the book that teachers of courses on women in the Middle Ages have been wanting to write or see written for years Essays written by specialists in their respective fields cover a range of topics unmatched in depth and breadth by any other introductory text Depictions of women in literature and art women in the medieval urban landscape and the issue of women's relation to definitions of deviance and otherness all receive particular attention Geographical regions such as the Byzantine Empire and the Islamic Near East are fully incorporated into the text expanding the horizons of medieval studies The collection is organized thematically and includes all the tools needed to contextualize women in medieval society and culture

Ariadne's Thread Anne Nenarokoff-Van Burek, 2013-04 Ariadne's Thread came from the need to tell stories of the amazing women in my family All of them born in Russia before the 1917 Revolution settled in France where they had to adapt to a life radically different from what they had known When their world collapsed they could either collapse with it or reinvent themselves These women taught me the art of survival resilience in adversity self reliance frugality Through them my grandmother my aunts my mother I learned lessons which are not taught in school values which have sustained me throughout my life These women's down to earth values have new relevance today in a world preoccupied by appearances and material gain By looking at my family's collective past I see clues for a better future If we want a better world we could do worse than turn to a few old fashioned values and work at putting them into practice The book is a tribute to the precious heritage I received from people who lived and loved fully and for whom everyday life was a celebration I hope they will inspire many Annual Report Organization of American States. General Secretariat, 1998 Where Texts and Children Meet Eve Bearne, Victor Watson, 2002-01-04 It is impossible to reflect upon children's books without considering the children who read them Where Texts and Children Meet explores the ways in which children make meaning of the various texts they meet both in and out of school Eve Bearne and Victor Watson have brought together chapters on all the major issues and topics in children's literacy including the meaning and relevance of terms such as literature and classic texts an analysis of new genres including picture books and CD ROMs moral dilemmas and cultural concerns in children's texts working with quality texts that children will also adore Where Texts and Children Meet shows how the world of children's books is changing and how teachers can build imaginative learning experiences for their pupils from a whole range of published materials Ariadne's Lives Nina daVinci Nichols, 1995 Indeed relatively little work has been done on the Cretan myth cycle as a whole a mixture of heroic Greek legend and savage pre Greek elements generally considered to be antithetical to evolved literary languages As a result although Ariadne has been extremely important in Western art from the time of ancient Greece through the nineteenth century she is rarely included in studies of Greek myth The Routledge Companion to Children's Literature and Culture Claudia Nelson, Elisabeth Wesseling, Andrea Mei-Ying Wu, 2023-11-30 Focusing on significant and cutting edge preoccupations within children's literature scholarship The Routledge Companion to Children's Literature and Culture presents a comprehensive overview of print digital and electronic texts for children aged zero to thirteen as forms of world literature participating in a panoply of identity formations Offering five distinct sections this volume Familiarizes students and beginning scholars with key concepts and methodological resources guiding contemporary inquiry into children's literature Describes the major media formats and genres for texts expressly addressing children Considers the production distribution and valuing of children's books from an assortment of historical and contemporary perspectives highlighting context as a driver of content Maps how children's texts have historically presumed and prescribed certain identities on the part of their readers sometimes addressing readers who share some part of the author's identity sometimes seeking to educate the reader about a presumed other and in recent decades increasingly foregrounding identities once lacking visibility and voice Explores the historical evolutions and trans regional contacts and inter connections in the long process of the formation of global children's literature highlighting issues such as retranslation transnationalism transculturality and new digital formats for considering cultural crossings and renegotiations in the production of children's literature Methodically presented and contextualized this volume is an engaging introduction to this expanding and multifaceted field Restless Travellers Antonio José Miralles Pérez, 2011-08-08 The first part of this book deals with Britain's imperial age its militants and its critics The selection of works generates a large field of debate explored using traditional or innovative approaches The 19th century is presented as a time for writers J E Aylmer E Marryat Norris G A Henty Conan Doyle who tell stories of Europeans venturing forth into uncivilised regions of the world where they meet other races But writers of a different outlook are also considered Before the twilight of Empire women were born in England Virginia Woolf and in Ireland Elizabeth Bowen who would use the ductile means of literature to narrate journeys into the female self instead of masculine tales set in distant lands The imperial experience is a subject of concern and reflection with special interest when authored by natives of former colonies such as Michael Ondaatje's Hindu Sirk hero in The English Patient and the Nigerian girls in some of Patience Agbabi's poems The idea of travelling into or out of the culture to which one apparently belongs and the contradictory feelings such an experience causes pervades the writer's mind and the ensuing narrative The second part can be regarded as a North American miscellany mostly devoted to the African culture although also dealing with European heritage In order to recognise Asian and South American influences as well authors such as Fred Wah Ariel Dorfman and Julia Alvarez have been included Black literature is represented by two 19th century writers Mary Ann Shadd and Martin R Delany who remind us of the fight against slavery and segregation and the path to equality Various 20th century writers Toni Morrison Ernest Gaines Harryette Mullen August Wilson address the African Americans quest for identity presented by some as a journey southwards away from the place of birth or an unsatisfactory life and in search of self knowledge in the land of their forefathers These journeys provide materials for different genres and tones enabling readers to examine the aspirations and fears of a community whose contribution to the history and literature of America has stimulated continuous study The two parts of the book are connected by the underlying discussion of essential conflicts that have occupied travellers traversing imperial spaces or experiencing foreign lands as well as travellers who instead of exotic adventures or romantic sojourns want to settle in a new country be accepted by a nation their ancestors did not know or exercise rights they were denied on their native soil

The Children of Aataentsic Bruce G. Trigger, 1987 The Children of Aataentsic is both a full scale ethnohistory of the Huron Indian confederacy and a far reaching study of the causes of its collapse under the impact of the Iroquois attacks of 1649 Drawing upon the archaeological context the ethnography presented by early explorers and missionaries and the recorded history of contact with Europeans Bruce Trigger traces the development of the Huron people from the earliest hunting and gathering economies in southern Ontario many centuries before the arrival of the Europeans to their key role in the fur trade in eastern Canada during the first half of the seventeenth century
