Subcultural Mosaics and Intersubjective Realities Robert C. Prus, 1997-01-01 Examines the theory and methods by which social scientists study the human lived experienced Subcultural Mosaics and Intersubjective Realities Robert Prus, 1997-01-09 The author builds on the broader interpretive constructionist ethnographic and pragmatist traditions particularly those developed within symbolic interaction to provide an agenda to refocus revitalize and synthesize the social or human sciences Robert Prus offers a set of primary assumptions that centrally respect the unique and uniquely enabling features of the human condition as well as considers a reformulation of the cultural problematic By viewing human group life as a subcultural mosaic that is more or less continuously in the making a systematic research agenda for attending to the entire realm of human involvement is developed one that opens every single arena of human endeavor to ethnographic inquiry Encountering the Everyday Michael Hviid Jacobsen, 2017-09-16 Everyday life is something we tend to take for granted something that just is something unnoticed But everyday life is perhaps the most important dimension of society it is where we live most parts of our lives with each other This book provides a clear contemporary and comprehensive overview of the sociologies of everyday life Looking at everyday activities and experiences from language and emotions to popular culture and leisure Encountering the Everyday explores what social structures orders and processes mean to us on a daily basis The book carefully leads the reader through historical developments in the field beginning at the earlier Chicago school and finishing with up to date ideas of postmodernism and interactionism Each chapter relates theoretical ideas directly to case studies and real empirical research to make complex concepts and core issues accessible relevant and engaging Written by leading international scholars in the field this truly global book will inspire and inform all students and scholars of everyday life sociology Studies in Symbolic Interaction Norman K. Machiavelli Hobbs Weber Durkheim and Marx and those social theorists who have built on their works surprisingly little attention has been given to the study of power as an enacted feature of community life Locating power more directly within a symbolic interactionist framework Beyond the Power Mystique not only enables scholars to permeate much of the mystique shrouding power but explicitly viewing power as intersubjective accomplishment the material presented here fosters a research agenda that is highly attentive to the collectively articulated aspects of power relations Consideration is given to the ways in which power is brought into existence implemented experienced sustained objectified resisted dissipated and reconstituted in actual practice Addressing the full range of associations occurring in all human arenas from small group settings to large scale theaters of operations this volume provides a conceptually viable means of synthesizing so called macro and micro realms of power Prus considers people's definitions of and routings into situations of power as well as the dilemmas they face the strategies they assume and the limitations they encounter as they enter into interchanges with others on both more individualized and collectively coordinated bases and in both long term and more situated instances
