Developing Successful Global Strategies for Marketing Luxury Brands Mosca, Fabrizio, Casalegno, Cecilia, Gallo, Rosalia, 2021-03-26 In recent times the advent of new technologies the concerns about sustainability and the new tastes of the youngest generations of luxury consumers have affected the traditional dynamics of the luxury goods markets These emerging issues have caused significant changes in the marketing of luxury goods Sustainable development is not a new practice in the luxury market but is of increasing importance The real challenge is for luxury companies to overcome the residual corporate social responsibility perspective to embrace a real integration of environmental ethical and social concerns into the corporate strategy Integrated output and sustainable processes the introduction of non financial reporting as operational practice and a new orientation to circular economy practices are emerging issues that still today request for a deeper exploration both on the academic and managerial point of view Digitalization is another relevant issue that is reshaping the business model of luxury companies Big data blockchain omnichannel experience and digital customer experience represent the main digital challenges that luxury brand companies are facing nowadays Luxury brands must keep up with these digital demands and sustainability concerns to maintain their position in the global market Developing Successful Global Strategies for Marketing Luxury Brands upgrades the most relevant theoretical frameworks and empirical research about the marketing of luxury goods This book is focused on contemporary issues affecting luxury industries such as digital transformation blockchain big data analytics innovation processes sustainable development changes in luxury consumers behavior integration between physical and online channels and the development of social media marketing strategies Chapters will cover areas of marketing management buyer behavior and international business creating a multidisciplinary approach for this book This book is ideal for scholars local government agencies and public bodies managers luxury business owners along with practitioners stakeholders researchers academicians and students who are interested in emerging issues affecting the luxury market such as sustainability and digital transformation Using Paraeducators Effectively in the Classroom Anna Lou Pickett, Stanley F. Vasa, Allen L. Steckelberg, 1993 Discusses the growing role of paraprofessionals in the classroom Developing an Effective Teacher Mentor Program Melvin P. Heller, Nancy W. Sindelar, 1991 School districts considering a mentoring program need to consider four things 1 the reasons for a teacher mentor program 2 how to start such a program 3 administrative support needed for a successful program and 4 pitfalls to avoid The reasons for having a mentor program are that it benefits the new teacher the mentor and the school The new teacher s opportunities to exchange views with an experienced teacher is a distinct benefit to him her The mentor benefits also however because of the opportunity to share views experiences and strategies The improved teaching that usually results is an asset to the school Starting a program involves six stages establishing a rationale setting criteria for the selection of mentors defining roles inviting the mentors training the mentors and evaluating the program To be successful the program must have administrative support from the board of education the superintendent the central office staff the teacher union and the principal As with any new program anticipating problems can help to avoid them Some pitfalls are overdependence on the part of the protege ego problems on the part of the mentor and the evaluation dilemma arising from the mentor s dual role of confidant and evaluator Mentorship programs promote professionalism by providing continuous staff development during the first year of teaching AMH

Effective Communication for District and School

Administrators Theodore J. Kowalski, 2015-08-20 The book is a unique and necessary contribution to the literature on school administration Research theory and practice were melded to produce a book that can be used as a primary or supplemental text or as professional growth resource for practitioners Communication scholars especially since 1990 have concluded that competence must be defined and studied in the context of professions As such a growing number of medical schools law schools and business schools have integrated communication into their curricula This book provides a resource for such integration into the study and practice of district and school administration

State Academies for the Academically Gifted James E. Green, 1993 This guide to residential state academies for academically gifted high school students discusses the history of this movement student characteristics curricula faculty outreach programs and evaluation The establishment of the nine existing state institutions is traced from the prototype the North Carolina School for Science and Mathematics to the most recent established in Alabama in 1991 Reasons for such schools are given ranging from the specialized curricula needed by such students to their need for peer support The question of elitism is addressed suggesting that such schools actually are egalitarian in that they provide an opportunity for all students from both poor and wealthy regions of the state to go as far as they can The various selection processes are described and compared noting that the use of holistic methods rather than standardized tests results in enrollments more consistent with the demographic profiles of the state's population Curricula are discussed with special focus on the Indiana Academy Curriculum Criteria for selecting faculty are then briefly considered as are state academy outreach programs The lack of comprehensive and systematic evaluation of these new institutions is noted Contains 21 references DB
