White Field, black seeds Anna Kuismin, M. J. Driscoll, 2013-01-01 White field black seeds who can sow Although the riddle from which these words are taken comes from oral tradition it refers to the ability to write a skill which in most Nordic countries was not regarded as necessary for everyone And yet a significant number of ordinary people with no access to formal schooling took up the pen and produced a variety of highly interesting texts diaries letters memoirs collections of folklore and handwritten newspapers

This collection presents the work of primarily Nordic scholars from fields such as linguistics history literature and folklore studies who share an interest in the production dissemination and reception of written texts by non privileged people during the long nineteenth century

Literacies, Power and Identities in Figured Worlds in Malawi Ahmmardouh Mjaya,2022-02-24 This book is based on an in depth ethnographic study of the National Adult Literacy Programme NALP in Malawi It highlights the significance of exploring power and identity in literacy studies Employing the concept of figured worlds to study literacy as a social practice the book focuses on understanding power relationships and identities in literacy practices It illustrates how literacy identities and power relationships of some local community members continuously vary from one context to another and in some cases even within the same context Using notions such as agency artefact resistance shame and positioning the book demonstrates the potential of the concept of figured worlds to address some of the questions raised within the New Literacy Studies especially those concerning power and identity The book also illustrates the value of an ethnographic approach in adult literacy studies by exploring the challenges faced by the researcher in gaining access to community members activities and the opportunity to experience first hand what instructors go through in facilitating adult literacy lessons

Critical Literacy and Urban Youth Ernest Morrell,2015-07-22 Distinguished by its weaving together of theory and practice Critical Literacy and Urban Youth offers an interrogation of critical theory developed from the author s work with young people in classrooms neighborhoods and institutions of power

Reading Prisoners Jodi Schorb,2014-10-30 Shining new light on early American prison literature from its origins in last words dying warnings and gallows literature to its later works of autobiography expos and imaginative literature Reading Prisoners weaves together insights about the rise of the early American penitentiary the history of early American literacy instruction and the transformation of crime writing in the long eighteenth century Looking first at colonial America an era often said to devalue jailhouse literacy Jodi Schorb reveals that in fact this era launched the literate prisoner into public prominence Criminal confessions published between 1700 and 1740 she shows were crucial literacy events that sparked widespread public fascination with the reading habits of the condemned consistent with the evangelical revivalism that culminated in the first Great Awakening By century s end narratives by condemned criminals helped an audience of new writers navigate the perils and promises of expanded literacy Schorb takes us off the scaffold and inside the private world of the first penitentiaries such as Philadelphia s Walnut Street Prison and New York s Newgate Auburn and Sing Sing She unveils the long and contentious struggle over the value of prisoner education that ultimately led to sporadic efforts to supply prisoners with books and education Indeed a new philosophy emerged one that argued that prisoners were best served by silence and hard labor not by reading and writing a stance that a new generation of convict authors vociferously protested. The staggering rise of mass incarceration in America since the 1970s has brought the issue of prisoner rehabilitation once again to the fore. Reading Prisoners offers vital background to the ongoing crucial debates over the benefits of prisoner education.

Educational Linguistics in Practice Francis M. Hult, Kendall A. King, 2011. Reflecting and expanding on Nancy Hornberger's ground-breaking contributions to the field of educational linguistics, this volume presents new research by leading international scholars and cutting-edge syntheses of the fields of bilingual education, biliteracy, and language policy.

The Multiple Faces of Agency, 2008-01-01. This timely edited volume examines the education of children and youth in urban settings and offers compelling alternatives for successfully engaging them in school learning. Urban schools serve a large proportion of students who are poor, of color, and speakers of languages other than English. The multiple faces of agency: Innovative strategies for effecting change in urban school contexts is a new and significant addition to the literature in urban education. The editor of the book and contributing scholars are to be commended for assembling such an exciting collection of innovative research for publication. The volume's central message: the power of human agency may help transform teaching and learning in urban schools. If this happens, urban school children and youth who deserve better than they have received to date stand to benefit the most from this work.

Understanding Literacy in Its Historical Contexts Harvey J. Graff, Alison Mackinnon, Bengt Sandin, Ian Winchester, 2009-01-10. In this detailed study of the history of universal literacy in Sweden, a group of renowned scholars review and explore the possibilities for the wider circulation and broader application of central dimensions of the early literacy studies expounding upon the work of the Swedish Lutheran pastor and pioneering social historian Egil Johansson. Working initially with parish registers, especially examination registers from northern Sweden, Johansson discovered the extraordinary usefulness of these documents to determine how literacy in Sweden occurred well before any other European nation, despite the fact that Sweden was industrialized about 100 years later than the European norm. Egil Johansson also developed imaginative data analysis techniques that help historians around the world to better picture the complete human cast of the past. With the help of numerous contributors, Johansson founded a giant database of church records and other information which now can help the understanding of preindustrial society. Johansson's work spans over many aspects of literacy and social history and their respective relation to religion and gender.

Literacy and Development Brian V. Street, 2001. Literacy and Development is a collection of case studies of literacy projects around the world. The contributors present their in-depth studies of everyday uses and meanings of literacy and of the literacy programmes that have been developed to enhance them. Arguing that ethnographic research can and should inform literacy policy in developing countries, the book extends current theory and itself contributes to policy making and programme building. A large cross-section of society is covered with chapters on Women's literacy in Pakistan, Ghana, and Rural Mali; literacy in village Iran; and an Older Peoples Literacy Project. This international collection includes case studies

Rethinking Contexts for Learning and Teaching Richard Edwards, Gert Biesta, Mary Thorpe, 2009-02-06 Drawing upon a variety of academic disciplines this book explores some of the different means of understanding teaching and learning both in and across contexts the issues they raise and their implications for pedagogy and research Multilingual Literacy Esther Odilia Breuer, Eva Lindgren, Anat Stavans, Elke Van Steendam, 2021-01-21 This book investigates multilingual literacy practices explores the technology applied in different educational frameworks the centrality of multilingual literacy in non formal informal and formal educational contexts as well as its presence in everyday life Thematically clustered in four parts the chapters present an overview of theory related to multilingual literacy address the methodological challenges of research in the area describe and evaluate projects set up to foster multilingual literacy in a variety of educational contexts analyze the literacy practices of multilinguals and their contribution to language and literacy acquisition This volume aims to initiate a change in paradigms shifting from structured and conservative problematizations to inclusive and diverse conceptualizations and practices To that end the book showcases explorations of different methodologies and needs in formal and non formal educational systems and it serves as a springboard for developing multivocal participatory spaces with opportunities for learning and identity building for all multilinguals across different settings languages ages and contexts

Multilingual Literacies, Identities and Ideologies Tony Capstick, 2016-10-25 This book explores the language and literacy practices which sustain transnational migration across generations and across traditional boundaries such as school and home The author has conducted extensive fieldwork in Pakistan and the UK to study migration between the two countries Individuals access to the dominant literacies of migration are contrasted with the vernacular practices which migrants take up at home as part of their digital literacies The study explores the blurring of boundaries between home and school as well as the blurring of boundaries between language varieties Tracing access to literacy in this way also shines a light on the literacy mediators migrants turn to for help with English language learning and when trying to access the bureaucratic literacies of migration The study ends by exploring how migrants use all of their language resources not just English to fit into their new homes once they have arrived in the UK

Reading and Writing in the Global Workplace

Beatrice Quarshie Smith, 2012-06-14 Reading and Writing in the Global Workplace Gender Literacy and Outsourcing in Ghana by Beatrice Quarshie Smith explores the conditions that underlie the outsourcing of US data processing work in Ghana Here Beatrice Quarshie Smith describes the convergence and interplay of at least four different socio economic forces 1 the digital and satellite technology enabling virtual environments for global outsourced data processing 2 the historical development of Ghana as a politically stable Anglophone society with a relatively strong tradition of public education 3 the neoliberal economic restructuring policies advanced by the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund and 4 the ready availability of women seeking to enter the formal wage economy either to seek independence from their roles within traditional families or in order to support their families The author's comparative study of two distinctly different workplaces reveals significant insights about problems of organizational hierarchy and management employee relations in the cross cultural environments of out sourced business and IT process work Through extensive interviews the book sheds light on the educational backgrounds day to day struggles fears and aspirations of the workers Quarshie Smith develops this multi faceted analysis with keen insights into the representational limitations and ethical responsibilities of the researcher This pioneering study about outsourced data processing work in West Africa opens up a new area for research and offers a fresh perspective from which to consider outsourcing in other regions of the globe

L2 Writing in Secondary Classrooms

Luciana C. De Oliveira, Tony Silva, 2013 Second language writers and the teaching of writing at the secondary level have received little attention compared with other skills such as reading Addressing this gap this volume uniquely looks at both adolescent L2 writing and the preparation of secondary teachers to work with this population of students Part I on adolescent L2 writers includes case studies looking at their literacy identities their trajectories in mainstream content area classes and their transition from high school to college Part II looks at academic issues The focus in Part III is L2 writing teacher education Taking a theoretically eclectic approach that can support a variety of pedagogies this book contributes significantly to understanding adolescent second language writers and to educating teachers to address these students specific needs
