Cameron, 2014-02-11 A powerful suspense novel narrated by a young girl who must fend for herself and her little brother after a brutal bear attack While camping with her family on a remote island five year old Anna awakes in the night to the sound of her mother screaming A rogue black bear three hundred pounds of fury is attacking the family's campsite and pouncing on her parents as prey At her dying mother's faint urging Anna manages to get her brother into the family's canoe and paddle away But when the canoe runs aground on the edge of the woods the sister and brother must battle hunger the elements and a wilderness alive with danger Lost and completely alone they find that their only hope resides in Anna's heartbreaking love for her family and her struggle to be brave when nothing in her world seems safe anymore This is a story with a small narrator and a big heart Cameron gracefully plumbs Anna's young perspective on family responsibility and hope charting both a tragically premature loss of innocence and a startling evolution as Anna reasons through the impossible situations that confront her Lean and confident and told in the innocent and honest voice of a five year old The Bear is a transporting tale of loss but also a poignant and surprisingly funny adventure about love and the raw instincts that enable us to survive The Adventures of Uncle Wiggily, the Bunny Rabbit Gentleman with the Twinkling Pink Nose Howard Roger

Garis, 2023-09-03 One story is about helping a boy with a toothache helping him get over his fear of going to the dentist Another story is about a little girl who doesn't like her freckles and wishes she didn't have them at all He shows her little freckled bird eggs and she sees how cute they are and then when the chicks hatch she realizes her freckles are pretty I wish I could say these are the same problems our children face today Sometimes they do but our children are under constant assault from far worse Still the stories are refreshing simple and carry themes that still apply Amazon Lolly and the

Multiple Worlds of Child Writers Anne Haas Dyson,1989 Based on a two year study of first graders at a magnet school in the San Francisco Bay Area

Multiple Worlds of Child Writers Friends Learning to Write provides an important missing link in the study of emergent literacy the peer group and the classroom contexts that surround it Using four richly detailed case studies the author portrays the process through which Margaret the teacher and her children form a community one supported by and supporting of the children s growth as writers Dyson offers new perspectives by displaying the quality of life in the classroom through children s talk drawings and writing The theoretical framework presented here for understanding children s growth moves what is usually considered background to the foreground for study Most works on children s writing stress that children must disembed or decontextualize their written texts from dependency on other symbolic media and other people Dyson however shows that to develop as writers children s text must become progressively more embedded in the social affective and intellectual parts of their lives The book also emphasizes the nature of the classroom rather than the home as a distinctive context for early literacy growth Moreover the classroom is an urban one that includes children from diverse social and ethnic backgrounds The classroom and children whose lives fill this book challenge current thinking about such critical issues as the developmental links between writing and other symbol systems sequence and variability in early writing growth the relationship between form and function in young children s writing and the development of literary language This book is a must for early childhood educators reading and language arts specialists and scholars researchers in the field of literacy
