Gregor von Rezzori was born in Czernowitz a onetime provincial capital of the Austro Hungarian Empire that was later to be absorbed successively into Romania the USSR and the Ukraine a town that was everywhere and nowhere with a population of astonishing diversity Growing up after World War I and the collapse of the empire Rezzori lived in a twilit world suspended between the formalities of the old nineteenth century order which had shaped his aristocratic parents and the innovations uncertainties and raw terror of the new century The haunted atmosphere of this dying world is beautifully rendered in the pages of The Snows of Yesteryear The book is a series of portraits amused fond sometimes appalling of Rezzori's family his hysterical and histrionic mother disappointed by marriage destructively obsessed with her children's health and breeding his father a flinty reactionary whose only real love was hunting his haughty older sister fated to die before thirty his earthy nursemaid who introduced Rezzori to the power of storytelling and the inevitability of death and a beloved governess Bunchy Telling their stories Rezzori tells his own holding his early life to the light like a crystal until it shines for us with a prismatic brilliance

in which postmodern thinkers question subjectivity She argues that the way masculine subjects imagine Joan betrays their fear of death and necessitates the role of women as cultural others enigmatic mysterious dark and impossible As such Joan serves as a useful model of the limits and risks of subjectivity For Meltzer she is both the first modern and the last medieval figure From the ecclesial jury that burned her to the theorists of today who deny their attraction to the supernatural the philosophical assumptions that inform Joan's story as Meltzer ultimately shows have changed very little The Crow Flies Backwards and Other New Zen Koans Ross Bolleter,2018-07-03 Discover how the mysterious powerful form of the koan known for bringing about sudden enlightenment can disrupt and illuminate your everyday understanding of life Traditionally Zen koans the teaching stories of Zen are drawn from the words and teachings of ancient masters and primarily address the concerns of male monastic practitioners In The Crow Flies Backward Ross Bolleter changes all at The 108 modern koans offered within address sexuality and childbirth family parenthood work money and even the nature time itself These koans are drawn from a variety of modern sources Western philosophy the Bible contemporary and classic literature from Proust to Lewis Carroll and Mary Oliver and Anne Carson as well as stories provided by author's encounters with his Zen students Bolleter's commentaries provide guidance to the reader on how to engage with each koan and koans in general and direct guidance to meditate with koans An appendix offers rarely seen intimate and in depth accounts of the process of koan introspection from four of the author's senior students Niceville Carsten Stroud,2012-06-12 Something is wrong in Niceville A boy literally disappears from Main Street A security camera captures the moment of his instant inexplicable vanishing An audacious bank robbery goes seriously wrong four cops are gunned down a TV news helicopter is shot and spins crazily out of the sky triggering a disastrous cascade of events that ricochet across twenty different lives over the course of just thirty six hours Nick Kavanaugh a cop with a dark side investigates Soon he and his wife Kate a distinguished lawyer from an old Niceville family find themselves struggling to make sense not only of the disappearance and the robbery but also of a shadow world where time has a different rhythm and where justice is elusive Something is wrong in Niceville where evil lives far longer than men do Compulsively readable and populated with characters who leap off the page Niceville will draw you in excite you amaze you horrify you and when it finally lets you go make you sorry you have to leave Read the first thirty five pages Find out why Harlan Coben calls Carsten Stroud the master of the nerve jangling thrill ride Now with an excerpt from Carsten Stroud's next book The Homecoming Seasonal Portions Elizabeth Clayton,2013-07 Elizabeth's poetry is in sum a collection of worded pictures of her sparing with illness sensitivities in relationships and of being jousting with philosophical principles as they impinge on her sensibilities and intuitiveness within the milieu of Bipolar perception The resulting dissonance within bountiful periods of joy in creating she finds to some degree a contentment perhaps resignation but surely a lighted despair in what she has come to view as the feast of life where she wishes to come to table often and long
