Sound of Hope Dodi Spurgeon, 2020-04-09 Born and raised in Greenville South Carolina during the Jim Crow era my parents were uneducated hard workers with good common sense Neither advanced beyond elementary school but they had hope for a better life for us They knew how to work and survive during hard times My mother quit school after the third grade because her mother died when she was eight years old She had to take care of her younger siblings She talked about the difficulties she experienced especially being a child herself Alcohol was first in life for my father It was ahead of family needs Alcohol seemed to remove him from his state of oppression He went to church only on special occasions because he believed more emphasis was placed on taking care of the pastor than worshiping God Our parents drilled into us how we were to behave when out from under their care They knew they had to prepare us for what we may be faced with daily in that era My father emphasized avoiding trouble and keeping away from troublemakers He spoke this more to my brothers than me and my sisters He didn t talk much but we knew he felt responsible for anything that happened in our family Helping each other was a way of life No one looked to the government for help when things got tough Material things weren t an issue because we didn t hold any Our values were within the family We gain strength and support from each other I am not ashamed of the way I was raised I don t hold any hate toward anyone for the things we didn t have or places we weren t allowed to go I take it all as a learning experience because it helped shape my life and make me the person I am today It also gave me strength and confidence in facing the important issues of today We were faced with many challenges growing up It strengthened us and made us proud to be a part of something bigger than ourselves Often I dreamed and wondered what the rest of the world was like and how different it was from the small city where we lived We hadn t traveled far from home Royston Georgia My Mother s hometown is about seventy miles from where we lived My imagination would run wild seeing people places and things I was consumed by my hopes and dreams Years after my hopes and dreams had subsided the unthinkable happened An opportunity for travel How cool is that We lived in China Nigeria Canada France England Northern Ireland and visited many other parts of the world I have talked about the many difficulties we have experienced but we evolved and benefitted to get where we are today We didn't mind working to have something We didn't expect something for nothing My father would say Beware of someone willing to give you something for anything nothing is free It will cost you something Individual struggles have been a part of our lives since the beginning of time They should not cause us to take life or destroy anyone's property Evil and hate cause destruction We've come a long way and still have a way to go Our past helps plan better for the future It would help us all to try and show more love and respect for each other and do what we can to make our world a better place to live You will get a glimpse of our living experiences in China and Nigeria

The Sound of Salt Forming Geng Song,Qingxiang Yang,2016-05-31 China s post 80s generation sometimes referred to as Generation Y is the first whose members have grown up entirely within the reformist era They are keen to distinguish themselves from their predecessors in every aspect of life To Western eyes this generation of Chinese who are highly engaged with the world display the ambiguities and paradoxes associated with China s economic rise They are both nationalistic and cosmopolitan subservient and defiant hedonistic and mundane materialistic and aspirational This volume brings together some of the most popular and influential writers of this generation Most of them remain largely unknown outside China The short stories have been translated into English by a team of enthusiastic and skilled sinologists and represent some of the sweetest songs that tell of the pains and dreams frustrations and desires crises and endeavors of this generation in urban China The works also demonstrate how youth itself is commodified in a system of writing and production that significantly breaks away from the old socialist mode The book is a must read for those who are interested in not only the China of today but also of tomorrow Not for sale in mainland China

Sound Poetics Seán Street,2017-07-14 This book examines sonic signals as something both heard internally and externally through imagination memory and direct response In doing so it explores how the mind makes sound through experience as it interprets codes on the written page and creates an internal leitmotif that then interacts with new sounds made through an aural partnership with the external world chosen and involuntary exposure to music and sound messages both friendly and antagonistic to the identity of the self It creates an argument for sound as an underlying force that links us to the world we inhabit an essential part of being in the same primal sense as the calls of birds and other inhabitants of a shared earth Street argues that sound as a poetic force is part of who we are linked to our visualisation and sense of the world as idea and presence within us This incredibly interdisciplinary book will be of great interest to scholars of radio sound media and literature as well as philosophy and psychology
