The Cinema of Preston Sturges Alessandro Pirolini, 2014-01-10 Most published works on writer director Preston Sturges 1898 1959 have focused on the elements that made him a symbol of classic Hollywood comedy or his contributions to the genre via such 1940s classics as The Lady Eve Sullivan's Travels and Miracle of Morgan's Creek In contrast this critical study asserts that there are enough unexplained incongruities fragmentations and contradictions in Sturges output to demand a re evaluation of his place in film history as a predecessor and perhaps progenitor of later postmodern filmmakers Four appendices offer a generous selection of previously unavailable material including an exclusive interview with the director's fourth wife Sandy Sturges

Grabias-Zurek,2013-07-26 Songs of Innocence and Experience Romance in the Cinema of Frank Capra is a study of the director's chosen movies from the perspective of three types of comedies paradisaical purgatorial and infernal as assigned by Dante in his Divine Comedy Magdalena Grabias views Capra's films in two broader categories of innocence and experience where innocence represents Dantean paradisaical level and experience combines the levels of purgatory and inferno Such a division constitutes the means to interpret Capra's filmic universe and to describe the ever evolving directorial vision of Frank Capra The main purpose of the book is to demonstrate how in the light of the theory of literary romance as presented by Northrop Frye in his seminal works concerning the subject the films of Frank Capra fit into the genre of romance Romantic elements in Frank Capra's movies can be found in both innocence and experience categories and hence consequently in his paradisaical purgatorial and infernal comedies However in both categories and all three comedy types the romantic reality of each examined film is structured and developed in a different manner The book offers an insight into Frank Capra's films and the complex process of creating his multidimensional romantic universe within them Frank

Capra's Eastern Horizons Elizabeth Rawitsch,2014-10-16 Frank Capra has long had a reputation as being the quintessential American director the man who perfectly captured the identity and core values of the United States with a string of classic films in the 1930s and 40s including It Happened One Night Mr Smith Goes to Washington and It's a Wonderful Life However as Elizabeth Rawitsch argues Capra's construction of national identity did not occur within an exclusively national context She points out that many of his films are actually set in or include sequences set in China Latin America the Philippines and the South Seas Featuring in depth textual analysis supported by original archival research Frank Capra's Eastern Horizons explains that Capra's view of what constituted America changed over time extending its boundaries to embrace countries often far from the United States Complicating Edward Said's theory of Orientalism as a strict binary in which the West constructs the East as an inferior other it demonstrates that East and West often intermingle in films such as The Bitter Tea of General Yen and in Capra's orientation documentaries for World War II American servicemen Capra imagined a kind of global community albeit one with heavy undertones of British and American imperialism Investigating shifts in what Capra's America has meant over time both to Capra and to those who have watched and studied his films this innovative book offers a startlingly fresh perspective on one of the most iconic figures in American film history Peasants, Populism and Postmodernism Dr Tom Brass,2013-02-01 Tracing the way in which the agrarian myth has emerged and re emerged over the past century in ideology shared by populism postmodernism and the political right the argument in this book is that at the centre of this discourse about the cultural identity of otherness difference lies the concept of and innate peasant ness In a variety of contextually specific discursive forms the old populism of the 1890s and the nationalism and fascism in Europe America and Asia during the 1920s and 1930s were all informed by the agrarian myth The postmodern new populism and the new right both of which emerged after the 1960s and consolidated during the 1990s are also structured discursively by the agrarian myth and with it the ideological reaffirmation of peasant essentialism

The Annotated Memoirs of Ulysses S. Grant (The Annotated Books) Ulysses S. Grant,2018-12-04 With kaleidoscopic trenchant path breaking insights Elizabeth D Samet has produced the most ambitious edition of Ulysses Grant s Memoirs yet published One hundred and thirty three years after its 1885 publication by Mark Twain Elizabeth Samet has annotated this lavish edition of Grant s landmark memoir and expands the Civil War backdrop against which this monumental American life is typically read No previous edition combines such a sweep of historical and cultural contexts with the literary authority that Samet an English professor obsessed with Grant for decades brings to the table Whether exploring novels Grant read at West Point or presenting majestic images culled from archives Samet curates a richly annotated highly collectible edition that will fascinate Civil War buffs The edition also breaks new ground in its attack on the Lost Cause revisionism that still distorts our national conversation about the legacy of the Civil War Never has Grant s transformation from tanner s son to military leader been more insightfully and passionately explained than in this timely edition appearing on the 150th anniversary of Grant s 1868 presidential election
