Bill Ruskin with Tom Renfrew

The American Golfer:

The American Golfer, 1915 The American Golfer Anthony Robinson, 2010-06-09 Charlie Kingston an American PGA tour player suffering personal and professional losses at home goes to the village in Ireland where his great grandmother was born for a rest and change of pace Charlie falls in love with Lora a beautiful Irish woman whose husband a wealthy Brit owns an estate with its own ultra private golf course The simmering politics of Ireland political intrigue on the local level and personal revelations all act to change the direction of Charlie's life There is plenty of golf in the novel but one need not be a player or lover of the game to embrace The American Golfer publisher The American Golfer Charles Price, 1987 The Happy Golfer Bernard Darwin, Ian R. Macdonald, 1997 The American Golfer's Guide to Ireland Graeme McDowell, Brian Keogh, Bill Ruskin, 2011-09-29 Maybe the game of golf wasn't invented in Ireland but to most visitors it seems that way After all there are more golf courses per square mile in Ireland than in any part of the world A golfing visit to Ireland will be the trip of a lifetime for many reasons First links courses sparkle like an emerald necklace around the coastline of Ireland It is subjective to pick the best from so many great courses but here are a few Royal Portrush Portstewart Royal County Down Baltray Portmarnock The European Club Old Head Waterville Ballyunion Tralee Lahinch Doonbeg Connemara Carne Enniscrone Murvagh Ballyliffin and Rosapenna Second the past two decades have brought world class resorts with the finest facilities and championship level courses including The K Club Lough Erne Druids Glen Mount Wolsely Killeen Castle Glasson Galgorm Castle Slieve Russell The Heritage Powerscourt Adare Fota Island Dromoland Castle and many more Third visitors can enjoy over 400 private golf clubs scattered throughout Ireland where greens fees offer excellent value and local members make you feel at home Not least the 19th hole is a great opportunity to meet local golfers An old saying puts it like this There are no strangers in Ireland only friends you haven't met before The successes of Irish golfers on the international circuit has also put the spotlight on the great golf found throughout the Island Padraig Harrington Graeme McDowell Rory McIlroy Darren Clarke Paul McGinley Shane Lowrey and others have been not just successful competitors but wonderful ambassadors for Irish fun and hospitality I hope you and your friends will come to experience golf in Ireland for yourselves I can assure you a warm welcome and some wonderful memories Joe Byrne Executive Vice President Tourism Ireland The American Golfer's Guide to Scotland Bill Ruskin with Tom Renfrew, 2010-06-23 Scotland is known as the Home of Golf and is renowned for its fascinating history rich culture and heritage and but above all our golf courses are situated amid some of the most spectacular scenery in the world Throughout Scotland there is a huge choice of golf courses to suit every skill level offering quality value for money and above all a fantastic and unique golfing experience You are never too far from a golf course with more than 400 courses less than an hour from a city or an airport Furthermore the average green fee is 45 which is only around 70 Every golfer in the world should experience golf in Scotland at least once in their lifetime Up and down the country Scotland offers unique coastal courses and magnificent links golf complemented by breathtaking parkland heathland and moorland golf courses many of which have been designed by renowned golf architects and played by the golfing elite another reason for cementing Scotland's golfing reputation Scotland of course boasts the famous greens of Turnberry and The Old Course But we are not ones to rest on our laurels and new courses are being added to Scotland's amazing collection all the time Machrihanish Dunes Golf Club set hard against the shores of the Atlantic Ocean is the first 18 hole links golf course to be built on the west coast of Scotland in 100 years while Castle Stuart in the Highlands is a championship links course overlooking the Moray Firth and well known landmarks that are synonymous with Highlands With more than 550 courses populating the stunning scenery the length and breadth of the country you will never be stuck for quality or choice With all this and more there is always a reason for visiting Scotland Phillip Riddle Chief Executive VisitScotland

American Golf in the Great Depression Kevin Kenny, 2014-08-23 This account of professional golf during the Great Depression begins with a look at the roaring 1920s and how the game developed during this exciting decade What a contrast to the Depression era in which golf at all levels suffered but survived The Depression years in general are covered and then the professional tour between 1931 and 1940 is examined in detail the administrators those who sold the tour to sponsors the media and the public and the many wonderful golfers Much of this is set against the background of how difficult life was for most Americans The book looks briefly at the post Depression years when the U S entered World War II and how the top players fared Despite the economic difficulties of the era professional golf survived largely due to the efforts of players and administrators not all of whom have been sufficiently recognized by the game and its historians
