The Enigma Of Arrival:

The Enigma of Arrival V. S. Naipaul, 2011-04-20 The Nobel Prize winning author distills his wide experience of countries and peoples into a moving account of the rites of passage endured by all people and all communities undergoing change or decay Naipaul's finest work Chicago Tribune A subtly incisive self-reckoning The Washington Post Book World The story of a writer's singular journey from one place to another and from one state of mind to another At the midpoint of the century the narrator leaves the British colony of Trinidad and comes to the ancient countryside of England And from within the story of this journey of departure and arrival alienation and familiarity home and homelessness the writer reveals how cut off from his first life in Trinidad he enters a second childhood of seeing and learning Clearly autobiographical yet woven through with remarkable invention The Enigma of Arrival is as rich and complex as any novel we have had from this exceptional writer The conclusion is both heart-breaking and bracing the only antidote to destruction of dreams of reality is remembering As eloquently as anyone now writing Naipaul remembers Time Far and away the most curious novel I've read in a long time and maybe the most hypnotic book I've ever read St Petersburg Times The Enigma of Arrival V. S. Naipaul, 1987 Enigma of Arrival [sound Recording], 1989 V.S. The World Is What It Is Patrick French, 2008-11-04 The first major biography of V S Naipaul the controversial and enigmatic Nobel laureate a stunning writer whose only stated ambition was greatness in pursuit of which goal nothing else was sacred Beginning in rich detail in Trinidad where Naipaul was born into an Indian family Patrick French skillfully examines Naipaul's life within a displaced community and his fierce ambition at school He describes how on scholarship at Oxford homesickness and depression struck with great force the ways in which Naipaul's first wife helped him to cope and their otherwise fraught marriage and Naipaul's struggles throughout subsequent uncertainties in England including his twenty five year long affair Naipaul's extraordinary gift producing uniquely masterpieces of both fiction and nonfiction is most of all born of a forceful visionary impulse whose roots French traces with a sympathetic brilliance and devastating insight Caribbean-English Passages Tobias Döring, 2002 Postcolonialism is used as a backdrop to examine and question the traditional genres of travel writing nature poetry adventure tales autobiography and the epic assessing their relevance to the Caribbean experience Beyond the Black Atlantic Walter Goebel, Saskia Schabio, 2006-07-29 Exploring one of the hottest topics in humanities at the moment diaspora this controversial volume challenges prominent theoretical frameworks of Paul Gilroy to redefine and expand ideas of Black Atlantic Exile and Return as Poetics of Identity in Contemporary Anglo-Caribbean Literature Eleonora Natalia Ravizza, 2019-11-25 In contemporary Anglo Caribbean literature the dialectic interrelations of exile and return are essential for conveying meta reflections on literature and language as well as the role they play in the construction of personal and collective identities While this volume focuses on the specificity of a cultural area whose history is marked by colonialism diaspora slavery and racial conflicts it also raises epistemological questions surrounding the complexity of literature and its function in a world which is ever more composite hybrid and transcultural By developing a new systematic approach which combines post colonial studies theories of intertextuality and philosophy of language it explores how contemporary literary texts reflect elaborate and redefine the experiences of societies that are currently dealing with ever growing global interdependencies and newly formed cultural and semiotic context Indian Arrivals, 1870-1915 Elleke Boehmer, 2015-10-15 Indian Arrivals 1870 1915 Networks of British Empire explores the rich and complicated landscape of intercultural contact between Indians and Britons on British soil at the height of empire as reflected in a range of literary writing including poetry and life writing The book s four decade based case studies leading from 1870 and the opening of the Suez Canal to the first years of the Great War investigate from several different textual and cultural angles the central place of India in the British metropolitan imagination at this relatively early stage for Indian migration Focussing on a range of remarkable Indian arrivants scholars poets religious seekers and political activists including Toru Dutt and Sarojini Naidu Mohandas Gandhi and Rabindranath Tagore Indian Arrivals examines the take up in the metropolis of the influences and ideas that accompanied their transcontinental movement including concepts of the west and of cultural decadence of urban modernity and of cosmopolitan exchange If as is now widely accepted vocabularies of inhabitation education citizenship and the law were in many cases developed in colonial spaces like India and imported into Britain then the book suggests the presence of Indian travellers and migrants needs to be seen as much more central to Britain s understanding of itself both in historical terms and in relation to the present day The book demonstrates how the colonial encounter in all its ambivalence and complexity inflected social relations throughout the empire including at its heart in Britain itself Indian as well as other colonial travellers enacted the diversity of the empire on London s streets Comparative Postcolonialism in the Works of V.S. Naipaul and Toni Morrison Alshaymaa Mohamed Ahmed, 2022-07-07 Comparative Postcolonialism in the Works of

V S Naipaul and Toni Morrison Fragmented Identities begins with an overview of its theoretical framework highlighting the intersectional relationship between postcolonial literature and comparative literature. Tracing selected novels by Naipaul and Morrison, the book takes as a starting point Fanon's three-phase journey of the decolonizing process. In the first phase of mimicry, Naipaul's and Morrison's earlier novels represent the assimilation of indigenous people into dominant hegemonic cultures. The second phase is envisioned as the re-narration or re-interpretation of the past and old legends of indigenous culture. Morrison succeeds in asserting that her ancestors' past is the only way to celebrate a cultural identity, but Naipaul tends to criticize and neglect his past and his original indigenous culture. The third phase marks the emergence of a revolutionary literature in which Naipaul and Morrison guide their people to hybridity as a new way of becoming and resisting the hegemonic dichotomies in dominant societies.

The Transcription of Identities Min Zhou, 2015-06-15 Based on a study of V S Naipaul's postcolonial writings, this book explores the process of postcolonial subjects' special route of identification. This enables the readers to see how in our increasingly diverse and fragmented post-modern world, identity is a vibrant, complex and highly controversial concept. The old notion of identity as a prescribed and self-sufficient entity is now replaced by identity as a plural, floating and becoming process. Min Zhou shows how postcolonial literature, among other artistic forms, is one of the most representative reflections of this floating identity.

The Sum of No Equation Sabine Freyling, 2008 Starting with the social and psychological side of the person Naipaul, one can summarise some reasonably simple discoveries that can be extracted from both his autobiographical pieces and his seemingly fictional books published within a period of more than fifty years. Naipaul suggested that the way to approach the author is not through finding out as much as possible about the man, and one could easily argue that the idea shall simply be used in conversion. One can learn more about the person when taking into account all that has been produced by the author who is part of the person. By this means, one can extract valuable information about both person and author and thus can easily uncover some mysteries that have been established by the author, person to conceal the reality behind a fixed idea that has always played a significant role in Naipaul's life. Having studied English, Naipaul was aware of all the tools available and of the aims of literary critics and seems to have challenged these established routes for his own sake and to serve his purpose.

The English Book and Its Marginalia □□□□, 2000 This book is about books that recount the story of encountering another book. There are various versions of the story told and retold from the heyday of imperialism up to the present day. Homi Bhabha calls it the trope of the discovery of the English book. By considering each of these versions carefully, we may also give an alternative account of twentieth-century English literature as the site of an intercultural discourse. This project is very much inspired by debate on postcolonial theory, namely the debate between Said and Bhabha. Part I is devoted to the discussion of Conrad, especially of Heart of Darkness, and investigates how the novella has continually been reproduced to the extent that it represents the English Book of colonial/postcolonial literatures. The chapter on Hugh Clifford (Ch 3) is virtually the first intensive critique of his novels such as Saleh 1908 with a particular focus on their intertextual relations with Conrad's texts Part II examines how the story of the English Book is repeated and revised in the texts of the following authors Joyce Cary Isak Dinesen V S Naipaul Kaiko Takeshi and Ng g wa Thiong o The Rhetoric of English India Sara Suleri, 2013-08-16 Tracing a genealogy of colonial discourse Suleri focuses on paradigmatic moments in the multiple stories generated by the British colonization of the Indian subcontinent Both the literature of imperialism and its postcolonial aftermath emerge here as a series of guilty transactions between two cultures that are equally evasive and uncertain of their own authority A dense witty and richly allusive book an extremely valuable contribution to postcolonial cultural studies as well as to the whole area of literary criticism Jean Sudrann Choice
