JUDITH MALINA
August 1968 to April 1969

THE ENORMOUS DESPAIR

"September 26, 1969: The Living Theatre opens Paradise Now at Yale....I said to the young man on whose shoulders I was riding, 'Let me down, they're beating people up.' As I was lowered to the ground, the students surrounding the police car were saying, 'No violence, no violence.'
And the police heard them. And then the students sang 'America.'"

The Enormous Despair The Diary Of Judith Malina August 1968 To April 1969:

The Metahistory of Western Knowledge in the Modern Era Mark E. Blum, 2021-02-04 The book is a study of the evolving history of knowledge in the arts and sciences in the modern era from 1648 through the present Modernism is treated as an epoch with evolving disciplines whose articulated problems of a time and the inquiry methods to address them develop in a coordinated manner given a mutual awareness When one organizes the development of knowledge over periods of years and gives it an appellation such as Modernism the organization of facts is guided by concepts and values discerned throughout these periods These facts of knowledge development share sufficient understandings to be called an era or an epoch or other terms that insist on the shared aspects of those years One can call such an effort a metahistory in that what is tracked is not merely a knowledge that is political economic ideological sociological or scientific but an overview that tracks the respective conceptual developments of the fields in how they have changed and augmented their problem formulations inquiry methods and explanatory conceptions over time The Living Theatre John Tytell, 1995 The story of The Living Theatre is also the story of the emergence of a New York avant garde in the 1950s and the resulting counterculture of the 1960s The company was a kind of theatrical tribe creating and staging plays collectively living communally and cultivating an atmosphere of sexual openness and adventure And what a cast of characters passes through these pages Tennessee Williams Frank O'Hara Anaïs Nin James Agee Allen Ginsberg and the Beats Jackson Pollock and the Abstract Expressionists Dorothy Day John Ashbery Peggy Guggenheim Merce Cunningham John Cage Alan Hovhaness and Maya Deren among many others Tytell has captured the mood and the artistic and political challenges of one of the most dynamic eras in American cultural history and The Living Theatre should be read by everyone who shares a passion for the arts and knows the sacrifices that passion at times demands The Routledge Anthology of Women's Theatre Theory and Dramatic Criticism Catherine Burroughs, J. Ellen Gainor, 2023-09-29 The Routledge Anthology of Women's Theatre Theory and Dramatic Criticism is the first wide ranging anthology of theatre theory and dramatic criticism by women writers Reproducing key primary documents contextualized by short essays the collection situates women's writing within and also reframes the field's male defined and male dominated traditions Its collection of documents demonstrates women's consistent and wide ranging engagement with writing about theatre and performance and offers a more expansive understanding of the forms and locations of such theoretical and critical writing dealing with materials that often lie outside established production and publication venues This alternative tradition of theatre writing that emerges allows contemporary readers to form new ways of conceptualizing the field bringing to the fore a long neglected vibrant intelligent deeply informed and expanded canon that generates a new era of scholarship learning and artistry The Routledge Anthology of Women's Theatrical Theory and Dramatic Criticism is an important intervention into the fields of Theatre and Performance Studies Literary Studies and Cultural History while adding new dimensions to Feminist Gender and Sexuality Studies The New York Times Book Review, 1972-10 Allen
