Eugene Boring,Fred B. Craddock,2010-01-25 M Eugene Boring and Fred B Craddock present this new one volume commentary on the New Testament Writing from the fundamental conviction that the New Testament is the people's book Boring and Craddock examine the theological themes and messages of Scripture that speak to the life of discipleship Their work clarifies matters of history culture geography literature and translation enabling people to listen more carefully to the text This unique commentary is the perfect resource for clergy and church school teachers who seek a reference tool midway between a study Bible and a multivolume commentary on the Bible     Augustine's Early Thought on the Redemptive Function of Divine Judgement Bart van Egmond,2018-12-06 Augustine's Early Thought on the Redemptive Function of Divine Judgement considers the relationship between Augustine's account of God's judgment and his theology of grace in his early works How does God use his law and the penal consequences of its transgression in the service of his grace both personally and through his agents on earth Augustine reflected on this question from different perspectives As a teacher and bishop he thought about the nature of discipline and punishment in the education of his pupils brothers and congregants As a polemicist against the Manichaeans and as a biblical expositor he had to grapple with issues regarding God's relationship to evil in the world the violence God displays in the Old Testament and in the death of his own Son Furthermore Augustine meditated on the way God's judgment and grace related in his own life both before and after his conversion Bart van Egmond follows the development of Augustine's early thought on judgment and grace from the Cassiciacum writings to the Confessions The argument is contextualized both against the background of the earlier Christian tradition of reflection on the providential function of divine chastisement and the tradition of psychagogy that Augustine inherited from a variety of rhetorical and philosophical sources This study expertly contributes to the ongoing scholarly discussion on the development of Augustine's doctrine of grace and to the conversation on the theological roots of his justification of coercion against the Donatists

A Critique of Sovereignty Daniel Loick,2018-11-06 In this important new book Daniel Loick argues that in order to become sensible to the violence imbedded in our political routines philosophy must question the current forms of political community the ways in which it organizes and executes its decisions in which it creates and interprets its laws much more radically than before It must become a critical theory of sovereignty and in doing so eliminate coercion from the law The book opens with a historical reconstruction of the concept of sovereignty in Bodin Hobbes Rousseau and Kant Loick applies Adorno and Horkheimer s notion of a dialectic of Enlightenment to the political sphere demonstrating that whenever humanity deemed itself progressing from chaos and despotism it at the same time prolonged exactly the violent forms of interaction it wanted to rid itself from He goes on to assemble critical theories of sovereignty using Walter Benjamin s distinction between law positing and law preserving violence as a terminological source engaging with Marx Arendt Foucault Agamben and Derrida and adding several other dimensions of violence in order to draw a more complete picture Finally Loick proposes the idea of non coercive law as a consequence of a critical theory of sovereignty The translation of this work was funded by Geisteswissenschaften International Translation Funding for Humanities and Social Sciences from Germany a joint initiative of the Fritz Thyssen Foundation the German Federal Foreign Office the collecting society VG WORT and the B rsenverein des Deutschen Buchhandels German Publisher Booksellers Association People's Companion to the Breviary, Volume 1 Carmelites of Indianapolis,2022-09-30 Includes Readings From Thomas Merton Teresa of Avila Elizabeth Johnson Leonardo Boff Francis of Assisi Julian of Norwich Sandra Schneiders Edith Stein Teilhard de Chardin
