Oceans Apart Penny Starns, 2014-02-01 From May 1940 the Children s Overseas Reception Board began to move children to Australia South Africa Canada and New Zealand for their own safety during the Second World War The scheme was extremely popular and over 200 000 applications were made within just four months while thousands of children were also sent to be privately evacuated overseas The sea vacs as they became known had a variety of experiences After weeks at sea they began new lives thousands of miles away Letters home took up to twelve weeks to reach their destination and many children were totally cut off from their families in the UK While most were well cared for others found their time abroad a miserable difficult or frightening experience as they encountered homesickness prejudice and even abuse Using a range of primary source material including diaries letters and interviews Penny Starns reveals in heart breaking detail the unique and personal experiences of sea vacs as well as their surprising influence on international wartime policy in their power to elicit international sympathy and financial support for the British war effort An Extraordinary Journey Elizabeth Parry, PhD,2018-07-31 From Wales the land of storytellers comes the true story of a little Welsh girl who had a dream to become a special schoolteacher This dream took her on a spiritual and uncertain global journey which tested her faith in God In An Extraordinary Journey author Dr Elizabeth Parry shares her story From her birth in 1936 in the small Welsh town of Blaenafon to nearly fifty years in the education field this memoir narrates Elizabeths life journey She tells how she witnessed the healing power of love and compassion resulting in miracles on several occasions in different countries how she met eminent medical surgeon and past governor of Zhejiang Province Professor Li Yu in the Zhejiang Childrens Hospital in Hangzhou China her creation of the Family Rehabilitation Programme for Children with Cerebral Palsy and travels to many parts of the world An Extraordinary Journey offers a host of inspirational and miraculous narratives giving hope to those who have lost their faith in life and those with no faith It offers insight into the life of Elizabeth a woman who committed herself to the service of others The Evacuation Martin Parsons,Penny Starns,1999 Accompanying the BBC Radio 4 series of the same name this book reveals what really happened to the children of the World War II evacuation Based on personal testimonies of over 500 evacuees it uncovers historical evidence revealing that the evacuation scheme was mismanaged with disastrous consequences The True History of the American Revolution Sydney George Fisher,1902 Evacuees Gillian Mawson,2014-10-02 This oral history shares firsthand accounts of Britain s child evacuees who were sent to live away from home at the outbreak of WWII On the outbreak of the Second World War Britain initiated Operation Pied Piper evacuating more than three million civilians out of areas considered prime targets for bombing It was the largest ever transportation of people across Britain and most of those moved to safety in the countryside were schoolchildren Social historian Gillian Mawson has spent years collecting the stories of former evacuees This book includes personal memories from more than 100 child evacuees as well as their teachers and foster parents Told in their own words these accounts reveal what it was like to settle into a new home with strangers often staying for years While many enjoyed life in the countryside some escaping inner city poverty others endured ill treatment and homesickness Lost Freedom Mathew Thomson,2013-11-28 Lost Freedom addresses the widespread feeling that there has been a fundamental change in the social life of children in recent decades the loss of childhood freedom and in particular the loss of freedom to roam beyond the safety of home Mathew Thomson explores this phenomenon concentrating on the period from the Second World War until the 1970s and considering the roles of psychological theory traffic safety consciousness anxiety about sexual danger and television in the erosion of freedom Thomson argues that the Second World War has an important place in this story with war borne anxieties encouraging an emphasis on the central importance of a landscape of home War also encouraged the development of specially designed spaces for the cultivation of the child including the adventure playground and the virtual landscape of children's television. However, before the 1970s British children still had much more physical freedom than they do today. Lost Freedom explores why this situation has changed. The volume pays particular attention to the 1970s as a period of transition and one which saw radical visions of child liberation but with anxieties about child protection also escalating in response. This is strikingly demonstrated in the story of how the paedophile emerged as a figure of major public concern. Thomson argues that this crisis of concern over child freedom is indicative of some of the broader problems of the social settlements that had been forged out of the Second World War.

The Tragedy of Cambodian History David Porter

Chandler, 1991-01-01 The political history of Cambodia between 1945 and 1979 which culminated in the devastating revolutionary excesses of the Pol Pot regime is one of unrest and misery. This book by David P. Chandler is the first to give a full account of this tumultuous period. Drawing on his experience as a foreign service officer in Phnom Penh, on interviews and on archival material, Chandler considers why the revolution happened and how it was related to Cambodia's earlier history and to other events in Southeast Asia. He describes Cambodia's brief spell of independence from Japan after the end of World War II, the long and complicated rule of Norodom Sihanouk during which the Vietnam War gradually spilled over Cambodia's borders, the bloodless coup of 1970 that deposed Sihanouk and put in power the feeble pro-American government of Lon Nol, and the revolution in 1975 that ushered in the radical changes and horrors of Pol Pot's Communist regime. Chandler discusses how Pol Pot and his colleagues evacuated Cambodia's cities and towns, transformed its seven million people into an unpaid labor force, tortured and killed party members when agricultural quotas were unmet, and were finally overthrown in the course of a Vietnamese military invasion in 1979. His book is a penetrating and poignant analysis of this fierce revolutionary period and the events of the previous quarter century that made it possible.

The General and the Genius James Kunetka, 2015-07-13 With a blinding flash in the New Mexico desert in the summer of 1945, the world was changed forever. The bomb that ushered in the atomic age was the product of one of history's most improbable partnerships. The General and the Genius reveals how two extraordinary men pulled off the greatest scientific feat of the twentieth century. Leslie Richard Groves of the Army Corps of Engineers, who had made his name by building the Pentagon in record time and under budget, was made overlord of the impossibly vast scientific enterprise known as the Manhattan Project. His mission to beat the Nazis to the atomic bomb so he turned to the nation's preeminent theoretical physicist, J. Robert Oppenheimer, the chain-smoking martini-quaffing son of wealthy Jewish immigrants whose background was riddled with communist associations. Groves's opposite in nearly every respect. In their three-year collaboration, the iron-willed general and the visionary scientist led a brilliant team in a secret mountaintop lab and built the fearsome weapons that ended the war but introduced the human race to unimaginable new terrors. And at the heart of this most momentous work of World War II is the story of two extraordinary men: the general and the genius.
